ABSOLUTELY DELICIOUS

Agnew's Cambodia Promise

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew promised Cambodia continued American aid today but said that the United States "would not become militarily involved."

At the same time, he said that his visit to the beleaguered Indochinese country demonstrated to the Communists that America "would not stand idly by."

An official of the Cambodian high command commented that "the eyes of all the world now know America is our close friend."

Agnew stopped over in Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia, for a state lunch and talks with Premier Lon Nol en route from Saigon to Thailand, the last stop in his Far Eastern tour.

NO COMMITMENTS

"I made no commitments whatsoever," he told newsmen in his plane after leaving Phnom Penh. "I explained that we would not become militarily involved."

He said that he also told the Cambodians the United States will continue to supply military aid, however.

"If my visit gave the Communists the impression that we would not stand idly by . . . that is exactly what we had in mind," he told a questioner who asked whether his visit might be seen as contributing to an escalation of the U.S. involvement.

"I would reply that I made this visit at the invitation of the government of Cambodia and at the request of President Nixon," he said.

The visit to Phnom Penh had all the pomp and circumstance of a state occasion. A high Cambodian official told newsmen:

"GREAT MOMENT"

"For the Lon Nol government, this is a great moment. It proves to the Cambodian people that Lon Nol has been able to woo and win powerful allies such as the Americans."

Agnew said he found Lon Nol "an extraordinarily well-organized and impressive individual" who reported Cambodia has a good pacification program in progress.

The vice president said Lon Nol told him the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had experienced "very little success in getting any infrastructure" established in Cambodia.

Agnew said he knew of no plans for the United States to

Senate Votes Down $5.2 Billion Cut In Defense Budget

Upper Chamber, However, Imposes A $66 Billion Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate voted down, 42 to 31, today a bipartisan move to cut $5.2 billion from President Nixon's proposed defense budget by imposing a $66 billion spending ceiling for the current fiscal year.

The President's budget anticipates spending $71.2 billion. Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Charles Mathias, R-Md., sponsored the economy amendment which would have imposed a reduction of about 7 per cent.

Despite growing sentiment for a shift in national priorities away from space and defense to human resources, a Senate majority decided that the continuation of the Vietnam war prevented major changes at this point.

"The war's on now," Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee said.

Proxmire and Mathias contended that military manpower, overseas defense installations and costly weapons like the B1 bomber and MBT70 tank were ripe for cutbacks in a time of national inflation and pressing domestic needs.

With today's vote, the Defense Department was practically home free in its efforts to head off major alterations in the $19.2 billion military procurement bill. All major challenges to the bill have been rejected by sizable margins in five weeks of debate and voting.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., described as nonsense Nixon's contention that he had begun to change national priorities with a budget allocating 37 per cent for defense compared to 41 per cent for human resources.

Eagleton said Nixon's figures improperly included Social Security payments and other trust fund outlays that constitute more than half of the nation's expenditures for human resources. He noted that the trust funds are self-sustaining and the money is not spent at the discretion of the federal government.

Excluding trust funds, Eagleton said the government was spending only five cents of every federal dollar for health, three cents for education, two cents for housing and urban renewal and fifty cents for defense and space.

"Unfortunately," he said, "the shift to date is largely an illusion, accomplished by fiscal sleight of hand... this clearly shows that there has been no change in our national priorities."

Split On Span Transit Plans

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — A major split between the Golden Gate Bridge District's consultants on its long-range transit plan broke into the open last night.

The issue was the old proposal that Marin commuters to San Francisco get there via a rapid transit connection across San Rafael Bay to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station in Richmond.

Kaiser Engineers of Oakland, which is doing the engineering aspects of the transit plan, argued that the Richmond loop would not be used by Marin commuters to San Francisco, and that such a loop would use up all of the reserve capacity in BARTs' transbay tube from Oakland to San Francisco.

But Okamoto-Liskamm, the San Francisco urban design consultants for the bridge district's transit plan, argued that further study was needed to see if a Richmond loop would not be the best solution precisely because it would not move commuters to San Francisco. This would save both Southern Marin and San Francisco from the increased development that would be inevitable if a rapid transit connected the two counties directly, they said.

Further study of the Richmond loop, the consultants estimated, would cost $49,165, and delay completion of the transit plan from Oct. 21 to Dec. 3. The plan was ordered by the 1969 Legislature, and is due for submission to the 1971 Legislature in April.

The split between the consultants came as they presented preliminary patronage and cost estimates for four other possible transit systems across the Golden Gate. Their presentation was before the district's joint transportation and finance-auditing committee in Board of Education offices. About 50 persons attended.

The other systems under study are labeled: Alternative 1 — a "fixed guideway" on an exclusive right-of-way under Geary Boulevard, over a second deck on the bridge and north to Novato generallly along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad alignment; Alternative 2 — also a "fixed guideway" but under Columbus Avenue to Sausalito via a tube under the bay, and then up the same alignment to Novato; Alternative 3 — a bus rapid transit to an exclusive right-of-way under Columbus and the Marina to a second deck, then to Novato along the railroad alignment; and Alternative 4 — a "fixed guideway" using the tube in Alternative 2, but in Marin there would be an aerial structure through the Ross Valley to San Anselmo, then through a tunnel to the Civic Center and north to Novato.

The Richmond loop was sugested as a fifth possibility by the citizens panel advising the urban design consultants.

The six bridge district directors made no attempt last night to resolve the conflict between the consultants.

The preliminary figures for the Richmond Loop were drawn by the consultants under a $9,890 special budget voted by directors to explore the patronage expected for the loop.

Kaiser is being paid $375,000 for its part in the transit plan, and Okamoto-Liskamm is being paid $145,000.

The transit plan will look ahead to the year 2015, when Marin's population is expected to exceed 500,000, compared with about 205,000 today.

The head of the Kaiser team, Gifford Randall, said that preliminary cost estimates for each alternative were $500 million for alternatives 1, 2 and 4, $250 million for the third alternative, and $100 mlilion for the Richmond loop. His estimates, close to estimates made in earlier studies, included only the costs of right-of-way, stations

Viets Down Copters, 36 Americans Missing

SAIGON (UPI)—The U. S. Command today reported the loss of two more helicopters and an F100 jet fighter to Viet Cong and North Vietnamese ground fire. U. S. B52 bombers pounded Communist buildups in Laos, Cambodia and northern sections of South Vietnam.

A total of 36 Americans were killed or missing in the helicopter crashes.

The Command said in a delayed report the F100 Supersabre was downed near Dak To, 280 miles north-northwest of Saigon last Friday. One OH1 Helicopter was shot down near the Gulf of Thailand close to the southern tip of South Vietnam Thursday. The crew escaped injury. Another Huey copter was hit by ground fire near An Khe, 258 miles north-northeast of Saigon. One crewman was injured.

The reports of the latest helicopter crashes followed Thursday's announcement that a big troop-carrying CH47 Chinook helicopter was hit by a Communist rocket grenade on the northern coast in one of the worst such crashes of the war. A total of 36 Americans were killed or missing in the crash of the Chinook and the downing of a Huey copter 87 miles southwest of Saigon, both on Wednesday.

Communiques said U. S. B52s carried out three missions over South Vietnam today, two 52 and 53 miles south-southwest of DanNang and the third in an area 105 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Other B52s struck over Cambodia and along the Ho Chi Minh Trail of Eastern Laos.

The U. S. Command said stepped-up shellings by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners wounded 14 Americans at five U. S. outposts overnight. The heaviest such attack was a 30-round mortar barrage aginst a 101st Airborne Division position 24 miles west of Hue near Artillery Base O'Reilly, an embattled outpost 12 miles from the Laotian border.

Reports said there were no major ground actions involving American troops.

South Vietnamese spokesmen report government militiamen killed 22 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Thursday in fighting just inside the Cambodian border about 62 miles west of Saigon. Two of the militiamen were killed and 11 wounded.

South Vietnamese Rangers early today turned back a Communist assault on their position 48 miles west-southwest of Saigon and killed 18 of the attackers, government spokesmen said.

Marin, Two Cities Set Tax Rates

MARIN COUNTY

Marin County's basic tax rate for this year will be $2.575, an 18-cent jump from last year, but the overall raise will be 31.5 cents because the board of education tax levy must be added.

This report, by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, will go to the Marin County Board of Supervisors next Tuesday for approval. Mitchell had previously estimated the rate somewhere between $2.50 and $2.60.

Last year's tax rate of $2.395 included the Marin County Board of Education tax levy. This year,the board of education administers its own budget.

Mitchell said the board of education tax levy of 13.5 cents must be added to this year's $2.575, for comparative purposes. This bringst he overall county rate to $2.71 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The county library tax will go up from last year's 20 cents to 22.5 cents. This is levied in all areas not served by city libraries.

The structural fire protection tax will go from 31 cents to 34 cents this year. This is levied in all unincorporated areas that are not protected by cities and special fire districts.

COTATI

A 1970-71 budget of $476,052, up $166,069 from last year, was adopted last night by the Cotati City Council with the tax rate increasing by 25 cents for some residents.

The budget and tax increase reflected plans for a major overhaul oft he sewage system. Residents in sections of the city not previously served by sewers will see a tax increase from $1 to $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation.

Residents already served by sewers will continue to pay $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation.

The budget included a 5 per cent raise for city employees and an increase of $166,069 over the 1969-70 budget of $289,983.

MILL VALLEY

The Mill Valley City Council last night adopted its 1970-71 operating budget of $1,833,585, and set the tax rate at $2.929 per $100 assessed valuation, a jump of 50.4 cents or more than 20 per cent over last year's rate.

Last night's special session was a culmination of nearly three months' work by the council to pare down the tax rate, the highest of any city in Marin County.

Residents paid $2.425 per $100 assessed valuation last year, surpassing the second highest city, San Anselmo, by more than 17 cents.

This year, the difference is even greater. San Anselmo's tax bite jumped to $2.35, but Mill Valley last night increased its lead to 57.9 cents.

By contrast, the rate in Tiburon is 80 cents. In San Rafael it's 94 cents and in Novato, 99 cents.

Since state law limits general law cities such as Mill Valley to assess $1 per $100 for general fund operations, the city has had to resort to seven special override taxes to gain sufficient funds to operate.

According to City Mgr. William H. Cunningham, only two of the special funds have ceilings such as the general fund — library, 30 cents, and drainage and flood control, 20 cents.

Like last year, this year's library fund is at the 30-cent legal limit. The drainage fund stands at 8.9 cents.

The other funds have no limit. This year's levies, with last year's in parenthesis, are: bond interest and redemption, 21.7 cents (20.5); retirement, 30.3 (17); sanitation, 35.1 (20.5); parks and recreation, 59.5 (39.5); and planning, 12.3 (16).

In order to give the ailing general fund a much-needed money transfusion, Cunningham has followed a practice common, he said, in many cities — assessing the special funds for

Israeli Jets Hit Arab Guerrillas

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli jets struck twice at Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan today. High Israeli government sources said in Tel Aviv they were convinced that Egypt agreed to the Middle East cease-fire only to prepare for an attack across the Suez Canl.

The cease-fire continued to hold along the waterway as it has since it went into effect Aug. 7 at the urging of the United States. But there were military exchanges between the Israelis and the Palestinian guerrillas, who have not accepted the standstill.

Wednesday's Independent-Journal reported that the tax rate had been increased by 24 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Red China Note

MOSCOW (UPI — Soviet leader Leonid I. Breshnev appealed to Communist China today to reconcile differences with the Soviet Union. He also restated Kremlin demands that Israel withdraw from all occupied Arab territories.

The Communist party general secretary issued strongly worded statements on Soviet policy toward China and the Middle East, stressing opportunities for peace and "normalization of relations" in both areas, in a speech at Alma Ata, Kazakhstan.

In one of the longest and most conciliatory appeals to Peking uttered by any Soviet leader in recent months, Brezhnev denied that Moscow had concluded a nonaggression pact with West Germany in order to free its hands for struggle with China.

'Hair' Too Much

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon was with it Thursday night when the performers at the Los Angeles Music Center sang old show tunes — but they lost him when they struck up the music from the rock hit "Hair."

"That's the only selection daddy didn't recognize," giggled Tricia, who acted as a stand-in for her ailing mother, Pat, at a first night performance of the "Musical Theatre Cavalcade."

She clued in her dad when dancer Juliet Prowse went into bumps and grinds to the tune of "The Age of Aquarius."

Tricia's favorite during the nostalgic revue of 200 years of musical hits was Jerome Kern's "Old Man River."

The president and his daughter flew to Los Angeles with a party of cabinet members and their wives, all in formal attire. They mingled with movie stars and socialites.

Legion Explosion

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — An entrance to the American Legion Memorial Hall in downtown Seattle was rocked by an explosion early today which caused an estimated $2,500 damage.

There were no injuries. Windows in the two-story building were shattered in the immediate area from a charge which went off in the left front corner of one entrance to the building.

Some structural damage was reported. Police blocked off the area for a time to search for any other charges or bombs that might have been set. None was found.

Taping Canceled

NEW YORK (UPI) Taping of the last hour of the "Merv Griffin Show" for Monday night was called off Thursday after demonstrators disrupted proceedings by waving placards and shouting slogans demanding "equality for black artists" on television.

The taping of the 90-minute show had been in progress for about a half hour when about 60 protesters in the audience began blowing wooden whistles, waving picket signs and otherwise interfering with the program.

Policemen were called to the midtown Manhattan theater where the performance was being taped but no arrests were made.

Luxury Lottery

ROME (UPI) — Italians paid more today for "luxuries" ranging from liquor to bananas and drivers' licenses to the weekly lottery under new taxes imposed in an effort to balance Italy's budget.

Their gasoline bills became the highest in high-priced Europe with a price jump of 14 cents a gallon for both regular and high test gasoline.

Arsenal Deaths

RADFORD, Va. (UPI) — Two employees were killed and four others received minor injuries early today when an explosion and fire ripped through a propellant powder processing building at the Radform Army Ammunition Plant.

The government-owned arsenal, operated by Hercules Inc. of Wilmington, Del., manufactures such military hardware as TNT, missiles and rockets, missile motors and various types of missiles and rocket propellants.

Killed were Gilbert G. Allen, 28, of Dublin, and Wallace L. Lyle, 29, of Christiansburg. The four injured employees were expected to report for work later today.

Variety Is Keynote To State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Persons attending the 1970 California State Fair can choose between carnival rides, John Birch Society pamphlets, rock band concerts or a barnyard full of livestock.

This new diversity is being credited for the increased success of the 117th annual fair. Attendance is up over last year.

Dow Chemical Co., one of the original "establishment" targets of the "new left" has an exhibit booth showing colored slides of its products.

There are no pickets at Dow nor at a nearby booth staffed by members of the John Birch Society, who are eager to pass out their pamphlets.

Across the midway in a section called "The Age of Aquarius," longhairs and beards operate "head" shops selling cigarette papers and black lights—merchandise often associated with the drug subculture—and posters poking fun at Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The youthful section also features a light show in a tent, nightly rock concerts and leather and metal craft shops. It cost 50 cents to get in.

Meanwhile, animal lovers can see prize bulls and dairy cattle, plus swine, rabbits, sheep, goats, chickens and geese.

Attendance at the fair, which opened Aug. 21 and will close Sept. 9, is up this year over last, despite a refusal by the legislature to give the extravaganza more operating funds.

Gang Threatens Revolutionary Tactics If Demands Not Met

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — An underground group claiming credit for the bombing at the University of Wisconsin says that if its demands are not met by Oct. 30 it will take "revolutionary measures of an intensity never before seen in this country . . . open warfare, kidnapping of important officials and even assassination."

A statement by the group, which calls itself "The New Year's Gang, " appeared Thursday in a special edition of the Madison underground newspaper, Kaleidoscope.

The statement said the bombing of the UW Army Mathematics Research Center, which killed a researcher and injured four other persons early Monday, was "part of a worldwide struggle to defeat American imperialism."

The FBI which is coordinating an investigation of the blast by some 80 agents and officers, declined comment on either the Kaleidoscope report or the investigation.

"The battle cry against imperialism was raised once again as the mathematics research center of the U.S. Army was struck by revolutionary cadre of The New Year's Gang," the statement read.

"We see our achievement as more than just the destruction of one building. We see it as part of a worldwide struggle to defeat American imperialism.

"The vanguard of the revolution demands the immediate release of three Black Panthers arrested in Milwaukee, the abolition of ROTC, and the elimination of male supremacist women's hours in dormitories on the Wisconsin campus.

Kaleidoscope reported earlier this year The New Year's Gang was responsible for the theft of a light plane and the attempted bombing of the Badger Army Ordinance Works at Baraboo, Wis., last New Year's Day. The bombs were found undetonated, on the grounds of the plant, which makes ammunition for the Vietnam War.

The statement in Kaleidoscope expressed regret over the death of Robert F. Fassnacht, 33, a research physicist and father of three, who was killed in the Monday predawn blast which also damaged nearby buildings and could be heard for miles.

Jane's Warns Of Russ Sea Supremacy Drive

LONDON (UPI) — Jane's Fighting Ships said today Russia has begun a "drive to attain supreme seapower" and called on the United States and Britain to build navies to keep pace.

Editor Raymond Blackman said in the foreword of the 73rd edition of the authoritative world naval reference book, published today, that the current Soviet section of the journal was 70 per cent larger than the section last year.

At present, the Soviet fleet is second only to its U.S. counterpart. The editor said the U.S. Navy was plagued by the growing obsolescence of much of its fleet, which dates back to World War II.

Blackman said it was significant that after concentrating on nuclear-powered submarines for several years, Russia was going back to building conventional subs as well.

He estimated that the Soviet navy included 75 nuclear-powered submarines and 320 diesel-driven models.

Span Board, Advisors Split On Transit Ideas

and construction. They did not include the costs of operation, rolling stock or serving bond debt.

He stressed also that his estimates were based on costs in 1970, while the earliest possible completion of a transit system generally is thought to be at least eight years in the future.

Randall said that patronage on a Richmond loop would be 10,000 persons in the peak weekday hour, but that only 2,000 of these would go on to San Francisco. Eight thousand would get off for jobs in the East Bay, he said.

"It just doesn't carry people to San Francisco, " he insisted, terming the loop "backwards from a logical solution." While he said the loop thus "really has insufficient merit to warrant further study," Randall said he was willing to do the additional study to satisfy its proponents.

But he predicted that the loop would "do nothing for Southern Marin, where there will be tremendous pressures generated for some solution to relieve the congestion into San Francisco."

He also predicted that BART would not allow Marinites to use up the reserve capacity of its transbay tube, a reserve that will be needed to serve the East Bay.

In patronage projections for the other, more direct routes, Randall said that far more pesons would use the system if it were in a tube to Sausalito than if it went over a second deck, because the tube alignment would be 10 minutes faster, he said.

Some 10,000 commuters would ride the fixed guideway system over a second deck in a peak hour, while 18,000 would ride a system using a tube, according to his estimates. About 13,000 would cross the bridge in a peak hour using a bus rapid transit system, he said.

All estimates assumed development of a complete ferry system, and of a feeder bus system, Randall noted.

Rai Okamoto, head of the urban design consultants, cautioned that neighborhood objections would be a probelm of any alignment through San Francisco. The Richmond loop, he argued, could help shift the emphasis of urban development away from San Francisco, and encourage development both in the East Bay and north of Novato.

Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the citizens advisory panel, noting the loop had been talked about for many years, urged its complete study. "If it is not laid to rest one way or the other, it will continue to haunt us," she said.

Also favoring the Richmond loop was Gerald Kaufmann, chairman of the citizens advisory panel's transportation committee. Kaufmann, a San Franciscan, declared that "we have to get a handle on the Manhattanization of San Francisco."

Several speakers warned that a second deck for transit could open the door to use of the deck for cars, a solution long opposed by San Francisco.

MIDEAST

man said Israeli jets struck at two Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan three miles east of the Jordan River for about 20 minutes. They were identified as forward bases for attacks on Israeli settlements.

Later, the jets returned to hit another guerrilla base in the Jordan Valley.

On Thursday night, a spokesman said, an Israeli force wiped out a seven-man guerrilla squad near the Lebanese frontier in the biggest clash there since the cease-fire took effect. One Israeli soldier was wounded.

Three other Arab guerrillas died and an Israeli soldier was wounded on Thursday night in another clash south of the Sea of Galilee and the frontier with Jordan, an Israeli spokesman said.

The actions came after a two-day lull. They came as the Palestinian National Council met in the Jordanian capital of Amman to plan its strategy in opposing the peace talks of Jordan, Egypt and Israel through United Nations mediator Gunnar V. Jarring in New York.

High Israeli sources in Tel Aviv told UPI correspondent Peter D. Lynch they were convinced that Egypt was only using the standstill in order to prepare an attack.

The sources said for two years Egypt has been trying to gather its forces for a cross-canal attack into the Sini Peninsula, taken from them in the 1967 war, but the Israeli air force prevented such a buildup and inflicted heavy casualties.

Since the cease-fire began Aug. 7, they said, Egypt has used the lull to carry out invasion preparations it could not do while under attack by the Israeli air force.

In Cairo, Egyptian Information Minister Mohammed Hassanein Heikal said the Middle East peace talks that started in New York this week will fail and Israel will be to blame.

Heikal, writing in the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram today, said "the issue of withdrawal from occupied Arab territory will force Israel into an impasse. It will not be able to say yes and it will not be able to say no".

Two Youths Cited On Pot Charges

Two Novato 16-year-olds were cited to juvenile authorities today after suspected marijuana was found when they were stopped for curfew violations, Novato police reported.

Two lids were found in the air vent of a pickup truck in which they were riding, police reported.

The youths were stopped because they were recognized driving in an area away from their homes after 1 a.m. and the car was searched because one boy was observed apparently hiding something under the seat or dashboard when the youths noticed the patrol car.

services for which the general fund pays.

For example, $790 worth of insurance will be bought for the city's golf course this year, but the payments will come from the general fund. So Cunningham charges the $790 to the parks fund and puts the money back into the general fund.

He similarly charges other shared costs to the various special funds. Besides insurance, these costs include general administration (city manager-clerk, finance director) and finance (payroll, purchasing and auditing).

Although the special funds are restricted by law to specific purposes, charging of theb to help the general fund is legal, according to Philip A. Torre, an associate of Mill Valley City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who is out of the county.

"You can't take money out of a fund and use it for an unrelated prupose," he said, "but some functions are properly chargeable to special funds."

Payment Is Sought For Project Fill

Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District yesterday filed a suit against Corte Madera landowner Domenic Muzzi and Certosa, Inc., demanding $11,022 payment for 440-900 cubic yards of fill placed on Muzzi's property during dredging for flood control work.

The suit filed in superior court said Muzzi and the corporation signed an agreement on July 26, 1966, that they would pay 2.5 cents a cubic yard for the fill from the project.

Youth Leaps To Death From Span

A 15-year-old Palo Alto youth leaped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday after telling a 14-year-old companion that he might jump if they visited the span.

The body of David Stimson Whitcher was recovered by the Coast Guard half an hour after the 4:45 p.m. jump, according to the California Highway Patrol. He was the son of Dr. Charles Whitcher, a Stanford University physician.

Officers gave this account of the incident:

Whitcher and a friend, Steven Connolly, 14, were shopping and sightseeing in San Francisco when Connolly asked him if he wanted to walk across the Golden Gate Bridge.

Whitcher reportedly answered, "I guess so, but I'll jump if we do." Connolly thought he was joking because "he was grinning and acting sarcastic, and he was always fooling around like that."

They caught a bus to 14th Avenue, then walked out on the bridge. Near midspan, Whitcher handed Connolly his watch, wallet and keys and told him to have his parents look in his dictionary at home under "death" and "Mary." There, he said, they would find two letters, one to them and one to his girl friend.

Connolly, still thinking Whitcher was joking, started to walk away, but the youth climbed onto the railing, asked his friend to time him on the way down, and jumped.

Two Taken Off Critical List

Two San Anselmo children, injured in separate accidents earlier this month, were taken off the critical list and reported out of danger at Marin General Hospital today.

Barry Hollingsworth, 8, of 44 Cordone Drive, suffered severe head injuries Aug. 1 when his bicycle struck a guy wire attached to a pole.

Sherie Saporetti, 3, of 1208 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was hospitalized Aug. 17 with major head injuries suffered when she fell from a third story window at her home.

Both were reported in fair condition today.

Bill To Attack 'Loan Sharking'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed a bill making "loan sharking" a felony, his office announced Thursday.

Now a misdemeanor, "loan sharking" is the practice of lending money with a finance charge in excess of that permitted by law. The measure would make it punishable by five years in prison.

Plane With Ton Of Pot Seized

CHANDLER, Ariz. (UPI)—A pair of twin engine planes carrying 2,600 pounds of marijuana were seized and a Redwood City, Calif., man was arrested Thursday night.

William S. Shing, 36, was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana for sale after he was picked up at an abandoned airstrip. The two planes were being refueled from 5-gallon cans, Maricopa County deputies said.

Several other persons fled the scene and were being sought.

Apology Made For Tear Gas

CHICAGO (UPI) — The State Department has expressed to the Russian Embassy its "regret" over the tear gas and smoke bombing of a performance by a Russian ballet company here.

Valentin M. Kameney, cultural counselor of the Russian Embassy in Washington, Thursday protested the Wednesday night incident. Edward W. Burgess, an official in the State Department's Cultural Exchange Office, tendered the regret during a Washington meeting with the Soviet official.

Six persons suffered slight injuries when a canister of tear gas was tossed to the main floor of Chicago's Civic Opera House during a show by the Moiseyev Dance Company.

Police were searching for two young blonde women who left their reserved seats before the rest of the crowd and for two young men.

The dancers performed without incident Thursday night.

Pharmacy Notes Theft Of $300

Theft of approximately $300 in checks and currency from the Marinwood Pharmacy, 175 Marinwood Avenue, was reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies.

Pharmacist Joel T. Hedgpeth said the theft apparently took place Aug. 20, but he thought the $80 in currency and more than $200 in checks had been misplaced. The money apparently was taken from the store's safe during business hours.

The pharmacist said Golden Gate Bridge officers notified him on Wednesday that some of the missing checks had been found there.

Carolina District Supports Busing

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The school board of North Carolina's largest school district voted Thursday night to "exert maximum effort" to implement a federal desegregation plan calling for the busing of about one out of every four students.

The Charlotte - Mecklenburg school board, is a televised meeting, said it had "no alternative" but to put the plan into operation. It called upon "all of our fellow citizens to put aside their personal feelings and join with the board of education in attempting to make the best of the situation."

The desegregation plan provides for the busing of about 20,000 of the district's 83,000 pupils.

Indictment On Skyjack Count

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 27-year-old Bronx man was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of hijacking a 747 jet to Havana Aug. 2. It was the first jumbo jet involved in an air piracy.

Rodolfo Rivera Rios, the alleged hijacker, faces a death penalty if he returns to the United States.

The Pan American World Airways plane, carrying 376 passengers and a crew of 7, was hijacked while enroute from Kennedy airport in New York to San Juan, P.R.

First Lady's Social

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—First lady Pat Nixon is suffering from a "suummer virus" but White House physician William Lukash says it is not serious.

The virus forced Mrs. Nixon to cancel a planned trip to Los Angeles Thursday night for a social dinner and light opera.

send military advisers to Cambodia.

By military involvement, Agnew apparently meant the United States would not send troops or military advisers to Cambodia although U.S. air support for Cambodian forces has been reported frequently in the Cambodian campaign.

As to Vietnam, Agnew said he found the situation there "favorable and encouraging."

"I have no hesitancy in saying the situation in Vietnam has been dramatically improved since my last visit," Agnew said.

Bangkok was the final stop of Agnew's Asian trip. He was to confer with Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn tonight and Saturday, then go to Chitralada Palace late Saturday for a royal audience with King Phumibol Adulyadej before leaving Sunday for Honolulu.

Family Treated In Minor Wreck

Four members of an Aberdeen, Wash., family were treated for minor injuries yesterday at Marin General Hospital after their car struck another in Mill Valley. Driver of the auto, Edna M. Burtch, 44, was cited by Mill Valley police for failure to observe a stop sign.

Police said Mrs. Burtch, who suffered a cut lip and knee in the mishap, was heading west on East Blithedale Avenue about 5:46 p.m. and failed to stop for the sign at the street's intersection with Lomita Avenue. Police said the Burtch car struck another driven by Evelyn L. Robba, 16, of 12 Valley Circle, Mill Valley, which was proceeding across East Blithdale.

Kevin Burtch, 13, was treated for knee and head cuts and his brother and sister, 15-year-old Jack and 11-year-old Kathleen, were both treated for scrapes and bruises.

Constitutional Session Backed

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — State legislators attending the National Legislative Conference have backed a resolution to have the state legislatures call a national constitutional convention.

The nearly 1,000 delegates to the 23rd annual conference want to pass a federal revenue-sharing amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The conventions position on revenue-sharing announced Thursday calls upon the state legislatures "to make applications to the Congress which shall call a convention for the purpose of amending the U.S. Constitution."

The convention legislator task force committee urged the delegates to "shock" the national Congress to make it more receptive to the states' needs.

POW Campaign To Be Launched

The Novato chapter of the Air Force Association has decided to undertake a letter-writing campaign to improve conditions for American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia.

Philip Coady, president, announced the campaign yesterday at a dinner meeting of the association at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officer's Club.

Coady said the organization is attempting to contact all wives and other next-of-kin in the Bay Area to learn of needs and to formulate needed projects to aid relatives and attempt to better conditions of the prisoners.

Townhouse Plans Win First Round

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night approved preliminary plans for a 68-unit townhouse development between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Olema Road.

But an application for a 48-unit apartment building development on adjacent property was continued until Sept. 24.

The approved application was submitted by Gentry Development Co.

The application of Oak Creek Corp. for the apartment development was continued after commissioners expressed dissatisfaction with density plans, orientation of buildings and parking area.

The commission last night also referred to City Atty. Wallace Myers a proposed amendmen to the city code which would require building permits for any construction or improvements on water courses, and adjourned to a special meeting Sept. 22 to continue discussion of the proposed zoning ordinance.

Special Meeting Of School Board

A special meeting of the Marin County Board of Education has been set for Monday at 8 p.m. at the county school's office in Corte Madera to discuss the transfer of children from the Sausalito to the Mill Valley School District.

Eleven parents of 18 Sausalito children are applying for transfers from the district which many of them at the Aug. 18 meeting said was failing.

Also set for discussion are employment of vocational education teachers and their salary schedule placement.

Luncheon To Honor New Reed Teachers

New teachers of the Reed School District willd be honored at a luncheon Tuesday at noon at the Tiburon Lodge, 1651 Tiburon Boulevard.

The annual event is sponsored by the Tiburon Peninusla Chamber of Commerce and is being coordinated by chamber director Barbara Egoian. She said residents of Tiburon and Belvedere are welcome to attend the luncheon on a no-host basis.

School Candidates Agree On Needs

Four candidates for the Sausalito School Board showed more agreement than disagreement yesterday in brief talks before approximately 50 members of the Sausalito Rotary Club.

The contenders, Robert E. Fisher Jr. and Royce McLemore of Marin City and Robert R. Lyon and Robert A. Thompson of Sausalito all stressed that the district's academic standards need to be improved.

Fisher, a graduate of the district's schools, said he still has problems today as a student at the College of Marin because of lacks in his early training in Sausalito.

The 23-year-old candidate, father of two preschool children, told the Rotarians: "My aspirations for my children are the same as yours are for your children. They must learn to read, write, spell and do arithmetic; all these things are important," he said, adding: "They must also learn to get along with oth? ers in a sane and rational manner."

Saying the school district was faced with bankruptcy in the 1972 tax election if voter confidence was not restored, candidate Lyon said the district suffered from "poor academic environment and lacks in discipline stability."

He said Sausalito schools are damaging the prestige of the town itself. "Family people are fearful of moving here, I'm told, because of the schools," he said, but appeared hopeful that "inspirational education for all children" can be returned to the Sausalito system.

Royce McLemore, mother of four daughters — one of whom attends Martin Luther King School stressed the need for upgrading reading and mathematics programs, especially in the early grades.

But she emphasized her belief the Sausalito School District is not a total failure "because my child attended Martin Luther King School last year and it was her best year; she learned so much."

Thompson said he wanted "some value for my tax dollar; I don't want to send my kids to a school where I feel they are being sacrificed piece by piece." He said education should prepare the children for a place in the competitive world and said the politics of militancy have changed the concept of integration "into an education, political and social nightmare."

Thompson said Sausalito resident are paying $5,400 per year to educate each Sausalito child in the district. He arrived at the figure, he later told the Independent-Journal, by taking the amount of the schools budget which Sausalito contributes to the district (which he said was 85 per cent) and dividing that by the number of children Sausalito sends to the schools.

To calculate the cost per student county school officials use the entire budget and student body and come up with approximately $1,900.

The candidates touched on several other subjects. Fisher said he believes too many political actions have been taken by citizens in both Sausalito and Marin City and promised "I will not be swayed by politics; I will listen to all sides and weigh all carefully before making a decision." He also said his "door, telephone and home would be open to any person who wants to talk about the district."

Mrs. McLemore said she feels some of the district's problems have been caused by a lack of commented. "I think I will be balance on the school board. I think the representation on the board must be broader," she commented. "I thin kI will be able to close the gap that exists."

Thompson said he felt the past board had spent too much time "trying to be good people." He also mentioned that "significant problems of personal safety still remain" for persons in the district, but gave no examples.

Guilty Pleas To Pot Charges

Two young San Rafael women yesterday pleaded guilty to counts of misdemeanor marijuana possession and were given six months probation each and 30-day suspended jail sentences by Judge David R. Baty in Marin Municipal Court.

The women, Maureen Ann Holt, 24, and Vicki Sue Armijo, 22, yesterday were undergoing preliminary hearing on felony charges of marijuana cultivation, when the district attorney filed an amended complaint charging the lesser offense.

The two women were arrested May 20 by sheriff's deputies.

Two-Tour Viet Vet Is Only 15 Years Old

FT. CARSON, Colo. (UPI)—A Vietnam veteran with two tours of combat in Southeast Asia and two Purple Hearts has been arrested by FBI agents after it was discovered he was only 15 years old.

Authorities said they still were trying to determine how Walter Lee Martin of Dothan, Ala., pulled the hoax. He first enlisted when he was 12, they said. Dothan, 6-3, 198 pounds and married, was in El Paso county jail today after being charged with fraud. He was serving as a staff sergeant in the military police command at Ft. Carson when arrested Thursday.

"We don't know how he did it," said Assistant U.S. Attorney James Richards who outlined sketchy details of the teen-ager's military experience. Richards said Martin apparently first enlisted in Alabama when he was 12, using the identification of James J. Wilson, and was sent to Vietnam in 1968.

After being wounded in action, the youth became involved in some trouble and landed in a stockade where a check of fingerprints led Army officials to discover he was only 13.

Richards said the Army then kicked the youth out of the service and shipped him back to the United States.

The prosecutor said Martin's activities became a little hazy after that, but he somehow obtained the Army identification of a S. Sgt. Albert Lewis Jr. and found himself being shipped back to Vietnam for a second tour of duty.

Martin was again wounded and after a short hospital stay in Japan was sent to Ft. Gordon, Ga., to recover. While on leave, Martin went home to Alabama and got married.

Early this month he was assigned to duty with the military police at Ft. Carson near Colorado Springs because of his experience and record.

Meanwhile, officials said the real Lewis was in Vietnam where he re-enlisted for another tour of duty and requested an emergency leave home. It was then the Army discovered something was wrong and the teen-ager at Ft. Carson was arrested.

Richards said the government really was not anxious to prosecute Martin, but wanted to assist him in any way it could —so long as he stayed out of the Army. Richards said he would request that prosecution be deferred and that the probation department recommend a course of action.

The prosecutor said Martin might be placed on one year probation and sent home to Alabama until he becomes old enough either to enlist or be drafted.

Ban On Some DDT Products For Livestock

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department announced today a ban on sale of DDT products for use around many classes of livestock, lumber, forests, buildings and more than 50 food crops.

It said it took the action to reduce possible contamination of the environment. DDT is classified as a persistent pesticide—one that is long-lived.

A spokesman said the order would take effect in 30 days but manufacturers could continue marketing the products during any appeal they made.

On Nov. 20 the department cancelled the registration of DDT products used for control of insects around homes and gardens, shade trees and for control of aquatic and tobacco pests.

"It has been determined that DDT is not essential for use on beef cattle, commercial, institutional and industrial establishments, including all nonfood areas in food processing plants and restaurants," the department said in a statement.

Among the uses of DDT canceled today were dusting and spraying of some livestock to control flies, mosquitoes and gnats, and of lumber, buildings and forest trees to control wood-eating insects, such as beetles.

But a Volkswagen is an imported car.

Isn't it?

Isn't that odd for a funny-looking car with a funny-sounding name?

No. Not when you know how we take care of them and sell them.

To begin with, service always came before sales with us. It still does.

We've always worked every bit as hard to improve VW service as we have to improve the VW itself.

So when you bring your VW in for service, drive up to the front door, please.

You can sit in our spic-and-span waiting rooms, have a cup of imported coffee and not walk out broken in mind, spirit and checkbook.

One big reason for this is that while we always make VWs better and better, we don't always make them differenter and differenter.

So those 3½ million VWs have a lot in common: most VW parts still fit most VWs.

It is actually easier (and cheaper) to get parts for a Volkswagen than for many domestic cars on the road today.

It is also easier to get a whole VW: $1839* does it.

Lots of cars just come and go.

VWs just go and go.

Demos Lose Control Of Majority On NLRB

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For nine years Democrats have held the majority on the National Labor Relations Board. That changed today.

The term of Democrat board member Frank W. McCulloch expired at midnight Thursday, and President Nixon is expected shortly to name a Republican to replace him, giving the GOP three members to two for the Democrats.

Nixon's appointment will decide more than just the partisan makeup of the board. Some Republicans and businessmen hope he will name someone more favorable to management. They contend the board has been too partial to labor.

The NLRB and its trial examiners mediate some 30,000 labor-management disputes a year.

Union sources said Nixon probably would choose Ralph Kennedy, regional NLRB director in Los Angeles, an employee of the board for 22 years.

AFL-CIO officials said Kennedy had an antiunion bias, but they probably would not oppose his nomination because they recently suggested Nixon appoint someone from within the ranks of board employes.

The nomination, for a five year term, must be approved by the Senate.

Nixon has appointed one other board member—Republican Edward B. Miller, a Chicago attorney who represented management in labor relations cases. That appointment did not give the GOP a majority because Miller replaced another Republican — Sam Zargoria, whose term expired in December.

Nixon also made Miller chairman of the board, replacing McCulloch, but the former Democratic chairman's term on the board did not expire until Thursday.

The Democrats on the board are John H. Fanning, a Rhode Island attorney serving an unprecedented third term which expires in 1972, and Gerald A. Brown, Palo Alto, Calif., whose second term ends next year. The other Republican is Howard Jenkins Jr., Denver, the only Negro ever to serve on the board.

There is no law dictating the partisan makeup of the board, but by tradition, the President in power tries to maintain a 3-2 margin for his party.

Carson City Man's Death Cause Listed

A Carson City, Nev., man who was found dead Wednesday in a Fairfax residence, died of apparently natural causes, the Marin County Coroner's office reported today.

The body of William Benson Buck, 36 was found at the home of Joan Buck, 697 Cascade Drive, at 6:30 p.m. by a neighbor watching the residence while Mrs. Buck was on vacation.

Fairfax police said the neighbor, Milton L. Fischer of 657 Cascade Drive, knocked on the door of the Buck home when he noticed an unfamiliar vehicle parked in the carport.

When there was no answer, Fischer entered the home and found Buck's body lying in a small pool of blood in the kitchen area.

Coroner's Investigator Keith Craig said Buck apparently collapsed and hit his nose on a cabinet as he fell, accounting for the blood.

There was no sign of violence, he said.

Results of an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death were pending.

$5 Million Tag On Israeli Grain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has agreed to sell Israel $5.5 million worth of feed grains under the Food for Peace program.

The Agriculture Department said the deal, invovling a long-term dollar credit arrangement, would involve nearly 4 million bushels of grain sorghum before the end of this year.

Security Guard Captain Nabbed In Minneapolis

Forrest Jerrold Morais, 34, former captain of the guards employed at the Independent-Journal plant and wanted for grand theft, was arrested yesterday in Minneapolis, Minn.

Minneapolis police reported that Morais had with him television equipment suspected of being taken from his former employer, Nor-Cal Security Service, according to San Rafael Police.

Morais, who had been missing since March 27, is charged with embezzling $1,431 from his employer by keeping a check which had been given him to pay a bill for uniforms.

He is also awaiting trial in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of battery against a picket at the I-J on March 20.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas said yesterday that Marin officials plan to extradite Morais from Minnesota.

Morais was located through the efforts of Nor-Cal Security, who then turned the matter over to police.

Marin City Asks To Share School Board Meetings

Marin City Council last night called for the Sausalito School District Board to hold its meetings in Marin City on an alternating basis with meetings in Sausalito.

Council members felt there was a growing isolation of the school district from the community, and that the district board should meet in Marin City to improve communications.

"I think we're being alienated and exploited," said Thelma McKinney of 30 Pacheco Street. "They (the district board) should come out and deal with us."

There were calls from the audience for the community to support Gabe Jackson, an educational aide, slated to be fired by the school district board.

Jackson is challenging the charges against him and Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., council chairman, said Marin City residents should be alerted as to when the matter will be before the district board.

"We should stand by Jackson like every other black person," said Mrs. McKinney. "They have trampled on us long enough." She charged the district was getting rid of the "strong black educators."

Council members agreed to invite Robert E. Spain, interim superintendent of the school district, to discuss school matters with them.

Sitting in at the meeting were recently appointed principals, Henry E. Hopkins of Martin Luther King School, and Armando Renzullo, who is serving Manzanita, Bayside and Central Schools.

Hopkins said the support of the Marin City community was needed to improve the schools, stressing that ideas from residents would be welcomed.

He contended the reading program will be improved, the district wouldn't permit pupils to be ridiculed and the instructional program will be tailored "to meet the needs of youngsters."

The portions of the meeting concerning school affairs was filmed by a British television crew, making a documentary on the Sausalito School District.

Marin City Endorses Urban Development

Marin City Council last night backed Marin Urban Development Association in its bid for federal approval and $5 million in mortgage funds for the first phase of a proposed development program.

Ulysses J. Montgomery, a San working for MUDA, said the first-phase program included about 180 dwelling units both multiple and single-family, and a neighborhood commercial center.

There won't be detailed planning until MUDA, a non-profit corporation of Marin City residents, obtains feasibility approval and a mortgage allocation from the Feredal Housing Administration, he explained.

MUDA, a nonprofit association of Marin City residents is a prospective developer in Marin City, seeking to succeed California Development Co., which was under fire for lack of action.

In July the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Housing Authority granted the corporation preliminary approval to become developer in Marin City, and gave it nine months to come up with a feasible project.

Asked how extensive the proposed commercial development would be, Montgomery replied "about $300,000 worth."

Montgomery pointed out development in Marin City required a survey of community needs, a review of the economic potentials and growth prospects of Marin City and adjacent areas, and a review of the existing master plan for the area.

The community survey, being conducted by the Marin City Council under a federal planning grant, is nearly complete.

For the other necessary reports, he proposed that MUDA, the council and the Marin County Redevelopment Agency share the costs of hiring specialists, each paying one-third.

Council members endorsed the proposal that the three organizations share in the expenses, estimated at $32,500.

Recommended were Larry Smith and Co. Inc., a nationwide firm of economists, market analysts, and real estate consultants, for the economic studies at a cost of $7,500, and Kennard and Silvers of Los Angeles and Whisler-Patri of San Francisco, architects and planners, for review of the master plan at a cost of $25,000.

Montgomery pointed out that the redevelopment agency was under the gun from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to show progress on redevelopment by Oct. 31 or funds would be cut off.

The Marin City Council Also:

POLICE COMMUNITY RELATIONS — Agreed that Bella Aaron, chairman of the Marin County Police-Community Relations Committee, should be invited to a council session to explain the program. There were complaints that the program was set up before opinions of Marin City residents were sought.

LAND PURCHASE — Passed a resolution of intention to purchase a strip of land, about seven-tenths of an acre along Highway 101 near Donahue Street, from the State Divisionof Highways for $10.

SCHOOL SIGNS — Endorsed a request by the Pre-School Parents Advisory Council from the Manzanita Child Center that school traffic signs be placed along Drake Avenue.

DOCTOR'S OFFICE — Endorsed a request by Dr. William Rothman of Sausalito, that he be permitted to use an apartment in Marin City from which he could conduct his practice in Marin City. Council member Collie B. Gaines dissented.

Guilty Plea To Assault Charge

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Jared K. Rossman of Fairfax entered a plea of guilty in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of simple assault which arose from his role in an anti-ROTC demonstration on April 28 at the University of California.

Judge George Brunn referred the case to the probation department for a report and set a Sept. 8 sentencing date.

Rossman 21, of 2 Meadows Way, free on $5,500 bail, was accused of fighting with a policeman.

Eye Surgery

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— George C. Wallace was released from Eye Foundation Hospital Thursday five days after he underwent minor surgery for a growth on his eye.

Meany Knocks Riots, Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The AFL-CIO president took a stand Thursday for dissent but not for rioting or violence.

In a speech before the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, George Meany said so many reasons are given for student rioting that "the suspicion arises that the main idea is that they want to destroy our educational system."

"Dissent can be a means of improvement, but dissent without purpose seems to make no sense, whatsoever," he said. "The right to dissent does not mean the right to loot and burn."

One thing about seafood — if you stay clear of butter and certain fatty sauces — you can eat just about all you want without putting on weight or increasing your chloresterol count.

Ounce for ounce, seafood has about half the calories of meat. More than that, you get about twice as much protein from fish as you do from the same weight of meat.

Aside from these health benefits, most people eat seafood simply because they like it. And in Northern California we enjoy several advantages — being able to get fresh fish and having professionals who know how to prepare it.

One of the professional places is right in San Rafael — the Grotto. Its seafood is about as fresh as you'll find anywhere — unless you cook and eat it as soon as it comes out of the water or off the boat.

The Grotto is comparatively small and tables are usually well-filled. It could do with a few more — but getting more space here is out of the question for Stan and Ursula Valan — so they have to go along with what they have. However they manage quite nicely.

Two things I recommend — the Captain's Choice and the fresh salmon, which will be in season only about two more weeks. But then, you may have your own ideas. There is enough variety in the menu to satisfy them.

Ramona's is finally on the road to completion and you should once more be able to enjoy steak picado, green enchiladas or whatever it is you have been missing.

The odds for getting open by today were pretty slim, but they are considerably better for next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Ramona credits breaking the red tape and the speed-up to Kurt Kissmann and his crew of Better Homes Construction Co., who stepped in early this week to complete the job, giving up some of their other work to do it.

Now if she hasn't worn herself out worrying and fuming and hasn't landed in the hospital, things should soon be back to normal.

FABBRI 'S at 1707 Fourth Street, San Rafael is closed. But you can look for an entirely new operation here in about 30 days.

New owners Tom Reddock of San Anselmo and Tom East of Los Angeles are leasing this West End location through Harry Abras of Don Timmer Realty. They plan a restaurant similar to the Hickory Pit that was here a few years ago.

They will call the place the Buffalo Smoke House and serve both lunches and dinners and prepare food to take out. Featured will be barbecued steaks, chicken and ribs. The two Toms will seek wine and beer license and plan to have a bar at one side of the restaurant. They foresee great deal of remodeling.

Reddock has been with Wells Fargo Bank. This is his first restaurant venture. East has had previous restaurant experience in Southern California.

DANCING in downtown San Rafael? Sure there is!

The place to go is Bernard's Executive Lounge at the top of the Reynold C. Johnson Building at Fourth and C Streets. The nights are Fridays and Saturdays. The hours are from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. A three-piece combo provides the kind of dancing where boy holds girl — you remember.

There's also good food. Wally Price is the chef.

IT'S FOUR MONTHS until New Year's Eve, but already one far-seeing entrepreneur has made plans.

Fred Cherry, the wine man, is takling about "the most sumptious party Marin has ever seen." It will include a program of international wine tasting and equally international delicacies, champagne dinner, steak flambe, noisemakers (mostly popping corks) and dancing.

His limit is 150 persons. He already has reservations for 20. Price is $25 per person, with a $5 deposit — not refundable, but transferable.

MEDALLION OF BEEF is the newest addition to the dinner menu at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael — a favorite of food connosseurs everywhere. Restaurateur Bill Bisson insists that its preparation is a matter of proper timing rather than time — so you'll not need to wait an extra 20 minutes or more to have it served.

PIANO ENTERTAINMENT Thursday and Friday nights from 9 is now being provided in Danny Olsen's Candlestick Room in the Country Club Bowl, San Rafael. The Candlestick Room practically adjoins Eugene's Country Club Restaurant.

Performer here goes by the single name of Milan. He was with George Liberace's Orchestra for five years.

TWO MARIN RESTAURANTS, Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon and Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo are participating in a new discount coupon book of Complimentary Dinner Club, 907 Fox Plaza, San Francisco.

Membership ($) also includes restaurants in San Franicsco, Oakland, Daly City, Campbell, Felton and Los Angeles — and vacation certificates for Lake Tahoe or Las Vegas.

Incidentally, one of the San Francisco places is the Jolly Friars on Clement Street, owned by Sam Zakkession, who also has Zack's in Sausalito.

FOR THOSE INTERESTED in improving their knowledge and understanding of wines, the Wine Advisory Board at 717 Market Street, San Francisco, continues to offer its wine study course (formerly $1 — now free).

Material covers the history of wine, various types of California wines and how wine is made. Students also receive an examination sheet with true and false and multiple choice questions to be completed and returned to the Wine Advisory oBard.

Over 229,000 consumers have received their basic wine education by completing this course since it began in 1954.

IT STILL HOLDS TRUE — build a better "mouthtrap" and people will be sure to find you, even if you're as far away from Marin as Fort Bragg.

This summer has seen a number of Marinites visiting the Noyo River Inn, according to Gregory Seubert, manager and co-owner. Gregory's former patrons, who knew him when he owned the restaurant bearing his name in Corte Madera, have been catching up with him. And even at that distance I understand several of them have been making return trips.

Look for it when you are up that way — on South Harbor Drive, off Highway 29 (Fort Bragg-Willits highway) one-quarter mile from its junction with Coast Highway 1.

Police, Fire Protection Promised To 10 A.M. Monday

Despite deadlocked wage negotiations between the county and its safety employees, the county is assured of police and fire protection, at least until 10 a.m. Monday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he got that assurance yesterday from Randall M. Prevo, general manager of the Marin County Employees Association, negotiator for the county's 210 safety employees.

Bruce said the employees group agreed to carry on as usual, without strikes or slowdowns, until Monday at 10 a.m., when another meeting is scheduled with state conciliator James Marshall in the county administrator's office.

Safety employees — sheriff's deputies, county firemen and communications employees — are working under the 1969 contract, which expired July 1 but was extended until Monday at midnight.

Luncheon Set For Welcoming

"Take a Teacher to Lunch" is the theme of the 13th annual welcoming luncheon for new teachers in Mill Valley schools, to be held Wednesday at noon at Sabella's Restaurant.

The event is sponsored by the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce. Director Lawrence A. Mayer is chairman of the event, assisted by Steven C. Kanewske.

Among invited guests will be officials of the school district, Supervisor Michael Wornum, Mayor George E. Wickham and City Mgr. William H. Cunningham.

In observance of Mill Valley's 70th anniversary, which is being celebrated during September, Lucretia Little, city historian, will be the speaker. Her topic will be "Before the Bulldozers."

Nixon Abandons Consumer Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has abandoned its support for key consumer legislation designed to allow groups of defrauded customers to band together in big lawsuits against offending businesses.

The administration first supported it but Thursday said the bill as rewritten by the Senate Commerce Committee would harass businessmen, swamp the courts and "play a cruel joke" on cheated consumers.

Assistant Attorney General Richard W. McLaren, saying he was speaking for the administration, told the Senate Judiciary Committee the bill as rewritten is too strong and may even be unconstitutional.

He also said the administration now favors leaving this kind of consumer protection up to the states.

Innocent Plea To Credit Card Forgery

LeRoy Raymond Willey, 39, of San Anselmo, yesterday pleaded innocent to a charge of forging another person's name to a credit car slip. Municipal Court Judge Robert N. Connors set preliminary hearing on the felony count for Sept. 8.

Willey was arrested Sunday on a Sonoma County traffic warrant and then booked on the credit car count, involving rental of a car last Friday in San Rafael.

Forestry Jobs Hit By Budget Slicing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Cuts in the state's 1970-71 budget will require the elimination of 77 jobs from the Division of Forestry, which is charged with fighting forest fires, a spokesman said Thursday.

But he denied the state's firefighting capacity would be hurt. California's forest fire season is now reaching its most critical period.

John Mayfield, deputy director of the State Department of Conservation, which includes the Division of Forestry, said the job cuts have already started and would be completed over the next year through attrition. He added the $1.7 million budget reduction was made by a legislative conference committee, and not by the Reagan administration.

"We do not feel it will affect the firefighting capability of the Division of Forestry," Mayfield said.

But the president of the California Division of Forestry Employes Association, Raymond B. Caldwell, said "The division's already inadequate forces are unable to meet the prevention and enforcemeent needs under the present loads." He made his statement in a letter to State Resources Agency Secretary Norman Livermore Jr. The Forestry Division is a member unit of the agency.

He charged the division is "being systematically destroyed."

"There is deepening concern among our personnel over the division's present ability to properly respond when we are again faced with several disastrous fires occurring simultaneously as has happened in the past," Caldwell said.

Mayfield said 21 of the cuts were being achieved through closure of the division's District 3 Headquarters in Sacramento, while 30 assistant forest ranger jobs, administrative in nature, were being eliminated at state conservation camps.

He said 19 fire crew foremen were also being dropped at conservation camps, and that the cut reflected lower inmate populations in the camps.

He added other jobs were being eliminated through "ranger unit consolidaticns."

President Tells Union's Position Toward Minorities

Maurice Albert Hutcheson, the 73-year-old president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, laid it on the line the other day at his union's convention in San Francisco: The Carpenters Union will fight government efforts to put more minority race members into the building trades.

Hutcheson, a longtime union "pie card" holder (he became auditor of the Carpenters Union in 1928, first vice president in 1938, and has been president since 1952), told delegates to the convention that opening the ranks to more minority race members could "wreck skill and quality workmanship."

A little later on in his speech, however, he had some remarks about the "skill and quality workmanship" among the 820,000 members of his union.

"We must stamp out the existing philosophy that anyone who works hard at his job is a sucker," he said. "We should continue to bargain hard for fair wages but we must be just as determined to make our performance justify our pay."

THE CARPENTERS UNION, he declared, is "constantly harassed by bureaucrats and so-called liberals" to admit more members from minorities. He found this outrageous because, he said, his union has actively recruited 1,300 minority apprentices among its 820,000 members.

We are gratified that Boss Hutcheson put it on the line.

A LITTLE LESS than a year ago, we called attention in this column to complaints that the building trades unions — except for the Construction and General Laborers Union, which is not skilled labor — keep their doors closed or only very slightly ajar for all except white Occidentals.

The result was a call on the editorial writer by a large delegation from the building trades (after arrangements had been made for an informal call by two or three representatives) to protest and deny with much vehemence that there is any job discrimination in their field.

The delegation placed much emphasis on creation of the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program by building trades unions and employers, to recruit and train minority race members in the various building crafts.

Both previous and subsequent to that, however, checks with the program's Marin office elicited little to show that the program was making much impact. Some of the unions had taken in no apprentices through it; others had taken two or three. The total was about in the ratio of the 1,300-to-820,000 reported with pride by Boss Hutcheson.

SAID HUTCHESON in his San Francisco speech: "It is obvious that certain people in the United States today are not one bit interested in obtaining work or training for decent, honorable, economically secure careers for those members of the minority they pretend to speak for. Instead, they are using criticism of the building trades to cover their own inadequacies as true leaders or to publicize and promote themselves or to obtain political advantage."

Tell that to Marin City, Maurice Albert!

Eutrophication?

This is the era of ecology awareness. And, like the space age before it, it is adding strange, new words to Everyman's covabulary.

Eutrophication is a word which we are going to be reading and hearing more and more in coming months an years. It is part of what happened to Lake Erie and is happening to San Francisco Bay.

Eutrophication is the process which occurs when excessive amounts of plant nutrients from any source cause a great proliferation of algae or other plant life in a body of water. It includes the eventual death of the plant life, the oxygen-absorbing processes of decay, the death of most desirable fish, and finally the creation of a fetid body of water virtually bereft of any higher forms of animal life.

Hence, eutrophication is not a pretty word because it describes an ugly process. But it is a fact of life in the '70s.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Song's Bill Requires Warranties To Be More Than Mere Words

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If Gov. Ronald Reagan signs SB 272, by Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park, he will take a step in protecting the rights of California consumers through giving better recognition to written warranties.

Senator Song, chairman of the Senate business and professions committee, struggled hard and long throughout the 1970 legislative session to strike a blow for consumer protection, and wound up with passage of 272 through both houses.

THE MEASURE requires manufacturers who sell consumer goods with written warranties to provide service facilities or to authorize their retailers to handle warranty repair work on their products.

"If the bill is signed into law," Song said, "California will be the first state of the union to mount a comprehensive attack on the problem of deceptive warranties which fail to protect the consumers."

One would think that a reputable firm issuing a warranty with a product would not need to be called up by the state to make its warranty good.

MANUFACTURERS do not attempt to foist inferior products on a trusting public, generally speaking. But in the long distribution chain from manufacturer to distributor, to wholesaler, to retailer and finally to consumer, there are bound to be weak spots, and reluctance on the part of some of the principals to live up to guarantees.

This is where Senator Song's bill comes in. It provides that the consumer has only to return the defective product to the nearest service facility or retailer to receive the service promised by the warranty. The work of repair would have to be completed within 30 days, and the manufacturer would be required to pay the full cost of repair.

THE BILL ALSO is a two-way street and should not be used by a consumer as a vehicle for taking advantage of a retailer or manufacturer. Abuse of a product under warranty should not be used as an excuse to get either a replacement or a free repair job.

Not all the warranty troubles emanate from the retailer or manufacturer. There are doubtless many instances where consumers have abused the product and seek replacements or repairs.

But the Song bill is sound in its conception, a dollar's worth of goods for a dollar's worth of payment.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Citing The Record On Smith Air Strip

I have no intention of arguing the pros and cons of commercial use of Smith Brothers airport. I'm not wealthy, and I do not fly to work, but the great value the site has to me as an aircraft owner and too-occasional pilot forces me to protest the allegations and insinuations in the letter of writers Swaim Meisner, Spini, Skilling, Baumann, and Fields.

First, Smith Airport is not illegal, as the writers must surely know. The facts regarding this are amply available to anyone interested and that lie is not to be dignified by further coment.

Second, Smith Airport did not "sneak in"; quite the contrary, that area as an airport location predates most of the Santa Venetia development by many years, and present residents of Santa Venetia moved there knowing of its existance.

Third, the rare times I am familiar with that commercial use has been made of Smith came about only because the safety of people and equipment would have been jeopardized by use of other airports in the vicinity (most due to weather).

Fourth, because of the nature of the airport, the only training at Smith involves pilots who base their aircraft there and are maintaining or raising their standards of proficiency. Surely the residents of Santa Venetia are not so short sighted as to object to this?!

I bring these points to your attention because of the evident hysteria in the Swaim et al letter. Hysteria must be avoided if rational people are to be free to make rational decisions.

Lively Bouquet Re Lively Baseball

Since the I-J editorial staff had the intestinal fortitude to stand still and absorb my recent brickbat on the subject of San Rafael's railroad, perhaps you will permit a bouquet for a well written and timely article by Jim Murray on the subject of live baseballs.

Since early in the baseball season, the following episode has been implanted on my memory:

Scene 1 — NBC-TV game of the week: Baseballs are flying out of the stadium as if fired from a howitzer.

Scene 2 — Enter ex-major league shortstop and his guest, the commissioner of baseball, for brief chat at the seventh inning stretch. Ex-shortstop: Mr. Commissioner, what about all this commentary concerning the new "rabbit" baseball? Are this year's baseballs any livelier than those used last season? Commissioner: Absolutely not! The only difference is the signature on the ball.

Scene 4 — No instant replay, no comment from sportscaster, no commissioner (mercifully).

In this era of "credibility gaps" when referring to statements by public officials which do not happen to be true, it takes a good deal of journalist art and wit to get the piont across without getting (a) slugged, (b) sued, (c) fired, (d) slugged, fired and sued.

Well done Jim Murray.

Obeying Law Carries Penalty

Regarding the leash law, I feel almost penalized in abiding by this law, though I'm sure my dog would run away if I didn't. The problem is that there are about five friendly free-flowing dogs near my house, and mine is the only one leashed. Mine used to be friends with the others but has recently become a bit ferocious. To protect the other animals, and thereby mine, whenever another dog comes around, I must pick up mine and take him into the house.

I am not asking for enforcement of the law; I much prefer that the police spend their time finding out who burglarized my house. But I am making a plea to my neighbors that they be considerate of their neighbors and keep their dogs enclosed or leashed. This would also help my newly growing junipers.

Editorial Shows Problem Understood

Thank you for your very far-seeing editorial on the suburb's stake in the solution of the big city's problem.

It is certainly going to take a great deal of public understanding and support for Marin to take the necessary steps to do its share of providing housing for the poor. Your editorial leadership will do a great deal to develop that understanding.

Thoughts Of One Who Knew Haley

Judge Harold Haley was like my own dad. I went to college with his twins, Carol and Joan, and his niece, Maureen, now Mrs. Gary Thomas.

A good friend, he was always an inspiration to the young crowd who congregated around his home.

We loved him, this man of peace who knew no enemies.

The shock of his sudden death leaves all who knew him numb and unbelieving that this could happen in America.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A repentant husband, trying to square himself with the little woman for coming home loaded from a poker game at 4 a.m., pleaded "What little gift can I buy to make the one I love best happy again?" His unforgiving wife answered, "How about a pipe and a couple of pounds of the finest tobacco?"

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Placed In Unhappy Position: Cannot Keep Conflicting Pledges

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

Unless the Senate ladens the textile-shoe-oil import quota bill with so much more protectionism that a presidential veto would be easy to defend, Mr. Nixon will have to choose between these two embarrassing actions:

1 — Go back on his campaign pledge to get limited quotas for textile imports and tus disappoint the textile leaders and many southern supporters who helped him get nominated and elected.

2 — Or go back on his press conference threat of July 20 to veto the trade bill if it went beyond his own recommendations and thus impair his own credibility.

A PRESIDENT cannot safely threaten a veto and not carry through. How would the next veto threat mean anything?

The House is about to pass the protectionist-oriented trade bill which emerged from the House Ways and Means Committee under the chairmanship of Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark. It already goes beyond the limits set by Mr. Nixon as acceptable. The President asked for textile quotas only. Then the Mills committee added shoe quotas; then oil-import quotas and, finally, a device for other industries to obtain quota protection if imports increased a certain percentage.

At this point Mr. Nixon said this is too much. His commitment to veto such a bill is very precise:

"We feel that for Congress to pass a limited bill dealing with textiles only . . . we believe that that approach is acceptable. But if the bill goes beyond that, if it includes other items, I would not be able to sign the bill because that would set off a trade war which would have all the repercussions that I have tried to describe earlier."

NOW THE PRESIDENT is in an uncomfortable plight of his own making.

By conviction and on the basis of his long record, Richard Nixon is a free trader. He believes that the best interest of the United States will be served by expanding two-way trade, not contracting it.

He made his pledge to support limited textile quotas, which he has described as "wrong in principle," on the grounds that they would be an exception. But Congress is not making them an exception. They are proliferating.

A Nixon-appointed cabinet-level task force studied the problems of the shoe industry and strongly recommended against quotas on shoe imports. The Mills committee included them.

A similar White House task force found that U.S. consumers are already paying $5 to $8 billion extra a year because of oil quotas. The Mills committee put oil quotas into the new trade bill.

MRS. VIRGINIA H. Knauer, the President's assistant for consumer affairs, testified for the administration:

"In many ways, this bill is the most significant anticonsumer legislation now in the Congress. The imposition of import quotas will hurt virtually every consumer in the United States, particularly lower-income consumers.

"Higher prices, fewer product choices, reduced competition and a limited supply of imported products are the probable result of the proposed import-quota legislation."

The 10 most recent presidents of the American Economic Association warned that a reversal of U.S. liberal trade policy "could lead us back to heavy protectionism of the 1930s and the Great Depression."

It was a similar warning from the leaders of the American Economic Association against the Smoot-Hawley high protectionist bill which President Hoover unwisely ignored in 1929.

It is unsafe to predict what President Nixon will do. The advocates of the wide-ranging quota bill believe he will not veto it. Its opponents fear he will not. It should be vetoed.

Russia Cuts Peru Airlift; Did It Prove Its Points?

By STEWART HENSLEY
UPI Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Soviet Union has quietly ended its airlift of relief supplies to Peruvian earthquake victims after delivering only 21 of the promised 65 planeloads.

Peruvian officials have been told that the remainder of the Russian aid for victims of the May 31 disaster will have to come by sea. They offered no explanation.

U.S. intelligence sources say, however, that the Russians obviously found it more difficult than they had anticipated to crary out a major airlift halfway around the world involving use of strange bases and flying unfamiliar routes.

THE OFFICIAL assessment in Washington was that Russia had failed to achieve the propaganda impact it had hoped for when it told Peru at the beginning of July that 65 planeloads of relief material would arrive within a week or 10 days.

At the same time, however, the Soviet Union undoubtedly gathered considerable information concerning the problems it must overcome in its program to penetrate the western coas tof South America with commercial air routes.

U.S. officials consider the Russian relief operation — aside from its humanitarian aspects —to have had three principal objectives:

—Convince Latin Americans of the ability of the Soviet Union to move large amounts of material long distances in a very short time.

—Conduct proving flights for the massice an22, a prop jet plane which is Russia's largest transport, as well as the AN12, a somewhat smaller plane.

—Demonstrate that any Communist regime gaining power in Latin America would be able to count on speedy supplies of military equipment and economic aid by air.

THE SOVIET UNION sent in 12 planes during the week beginning July 11.

When the AN22 carrying a field hospital was lost in the North Atlantic July 18, the Russians suspended the flights for a week. When they resumed, they sent in only nine more planes before telling the Peruvians the airlift was ended, far short of its goal.

The Russian planes flew from Moscow to Lima by way of the Arctic route, which involved landings in Iceland or Newfoundland, in Cuba and at Baranquilla in Columbia.

kU.S. officials say the 21 planes which actually arrived in Lima were only half full. There have been reports that they left some military cargo in Cuba but U.S. officials are inclined to think that, to increase their range, they were not fully loaded in Moscow.

Russia is trying to get landing rights in Brazil but so far these have not been granted. The Soviet Union wants to be able to fly to Latin America from present Aeroflot connectoins in Africa to avoid the U.S. surveillance which keeps track of every Russian plane flying parallel to the U.S. coast from Newfoundland to Cuba.

History Of Administrator's Salary Illuminates Threat Of Slowdown

Fusselman

Anyone who has observed the labor bargaining events across the land must be impressed with the psychological factors involved — different in most cases even though the overall objective is the same. This factor is and has been true in our Marin County salary dispute.

On Aug. 14, I wrote, "This place (Brasilia) is a jungle of tension. There is a serious lack of unity."

During the years before we moved out to Brasilia there was a personal friendliness between the employees and the board members. In the majority of encounters it was on a first-name basis — "Fred-Rube-Pot Jim-Walter and Bill." (When I wasn't around they called me Big Bill.)

The folks always felt free to come and talk to us personally about salaries, etc. They didn't find it necessary to hire a bargaining agent.

NOW, READ the following from this column of Jan. 29, 1965, and make a note of the dates.

"There were so many inquiries about the size of that raise ($,4800 a year increase for the administrator, as of Jan. 1, '65) that I decided this was a place to illuminate one of the caverns that have never seen the light of day.

"The complete story of the administrator's pay raises was promised you and here it is."

March 1, 1957, asst. admin. $703

July 1, 1957, Range change $710

March 1, 1958, Step increase $745

March 1, 1959, Step increase $782

July 1, 1959, Range change $821

August 1, 1959 $862

March 1, 1960, Step increase $905

Oct. 1, 1960, Step increase $905

Dec. 1, 1960, Range change $930

Dec. 1, 1960, Promotion to admin. $1,075

June 1, 1961, Step increase $1,125

Jan. 1, 1962, Range change $1,125

June 1, 1962, Step increase $1,225

July 2, 1962, Range change $1,250

June 1, 1963, Step increase $1,300

June 1, 1964, Step increase $1,350

Jan. 1, 1965 $1,750

This last one was the increase of $4,800 a year.

HE UNBLUSHINGLY put these raises for himself in the budget each year. Now he has his subordinate department do it for him. There has been a nice juicy melon each year for his truly while he was hacking away at the requests of the employees. So you see it's no wonder there is the possibility of a strike or slow-down by the 210 safety employees.

I have known for several years of the deep resentment of the employees while they watched him operate. They are aware of his lack of experience required for the position. His constant attitude is so abrasive that they wouldn't like his salary offers, even if they were good.

Of all the debacles he has headed up, his handling of the present one beats them all for ineptness.

The team spirit between board and county staff, which we all enjoyed so much in former years, is no more. When will the supervisors wake up to what is going on?

A New County Firm Will Aid Education

A different approach to improving schools' performance is planned by a newly incorporated Marin County firm.

The Institute for Educational Research, headed by Keith Beery of 2830 Heatherstone Drive, Marinwood, has filed articles of incorporation with the California secretary of state, as a nonprofit corporation.

Beery said the institute will try to improve early education, from kindergarten to age 12. And it hopes to do this by involving parents as well as school people.

"I have been in education for some time," said Beery, "and have observed that many good ideas are not implemented. Often teachers need some basic help to put an idea into practical form and to report it to others so that it can be used in other schools."

The institute, he said, will try to do that. Its initial project, for which funds have been promised by the U.S. Office of Education, will send teachers who have had special training into schools in Marin County and probably Richmond and Vallejo to instruct at least one teacher in in-service training in "how to innovate." Beery calls it "Project Teach."

The institute also plans seminars for teachers and parents to explore proposals for classroom improvements and see how they can be put into use, he said.

Only the one project is funded so far, although some money will be funneled to the institute from fees for teacher training classes which Beery instructs at Dominican College. He said federal, state or foundation funds are being sought for widening the institute's activities.

Beery, who came to Marin to set up a program for the educationally handicapped in the San Rafael city schools, since has worked at the child study unit at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco and taught at Dominican College. He is a founder of the Marin Child Center in Kentfield.

Associated with him in the institute are his wife, Mary; Alfred L. Brokes of San Rafael, a psychologist with Tamalpais High School District, and the following staff members: Stephen Padover, Petaluma psychologist; Susan Bart of Fairfax; Nancy Marshall of San Francisco, a teacher in Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City, and Diane Wilkinson of Terra Linda. Alyce Daunt of San Rafael is secretary.

Youth Arrested In Park In Dope Case Bound Over

Joseph H. Norton, 19, of 470 Lohrman Lane, Petaluma, was bound over to Sonoma County Superior Court on drug charges yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon scheduled Norton to appear Sept. 4 at 9 a.m. in Superior Court. Norton was also sentenced to one year in the Sonoma County Jail for violation of probation.

He was arrested Aug. 21 in Walnut Park, Petaluma, and charged with possession and cultivation of marijuana.

Arrested with Norton was Douglas F. Farley, 18, of 312 Coronado Drive, Petaluma, who is scheduled for a preliminary hearing Sept. 10 at 2 p.m. in Municipal Court.

Cadmium Held An Air Hazard

HANOVER, N.H. (UPI)—A Dartmouth Medical College professor said Thursday the presence of cadmium in air and water may be called a real hazard to the human environment.

Testifying before a legislative committee on environmental pollution, Dr. Henry A. Schroeder said cadmium, a trace mineral like mercury, may contribute to high blood pressure and heart disease.

Schroeder said cadmium may get into the water system from mains and pipes and through the air from zinc smelting processes. The metal, which accumulates in the kidneys and liver, has directly been related to high blood pressure in laboratory animals, he said.

Explosion Rips School Gym

CHINA SPRING, Tex. (UPI) — An explosion destroying the gymnasium of China Spring school today 45 minutes before school classes started. The blast set off a fire that damaged six classrooms and the school offices.

Damage was tentatively estimated at $250,000.

No students were at school when the gymnasium blew up, but if the explosion had come 45 minutes later, 150 students would have been in the gymnasium.

Bill Peters, a janitor, was treated at a Waco hospital for minor burns.

Superior Court arraignment of Lionel Raymond Hall, 25, of Cotati on a charge of felony drunken driving yesterday was continued to Sept. 9 in Judge E. Warren McGuire's court.

Hall's charge arises from an April 13 one-vehicle traffic accident north of Novato in which two passengers in Hall's pickup truck were killed.

Caller Prompts Evacuation Of Civic Center

A two-hour evacuation of the Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice yesterday wah sparked by an unidentified male voice which told the switchboard operator:

"This is a weather man. There is a powerful device placed in the Civic Center."

The caller then hung up. About 1,000 employees at the Civic Center and Hall of Justice streamed out of the building when the alarm sounded at 11:45 a.m. Sheriff's deputies searched the building room-by-room while fire trucks waited outside and police kept cars away from the buildings.

The all clear came at about 1:35 p.m.

Kennedy Proposes Total Health Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., today proposed a national health insurance system that would cover every American by the middle of 1973.

He introduced legislation that would embrace the entire range of health services with the exception of nursing home care, psychiatric care, dental care, and certain medicines and appliances.

The bill also would guarantee that the necessary national resources are available for the delivery of health care and generate improvements in the field of health.

It wasn't built in a day.

Somebody didn't just say, "Hey, this is the year for little economy cars—let's build one," and there appeared a 1970 Volkswagen.

Fact is, 25 years of Volkswagens preceded it.

And we put in something else besides the years.

Improvements. 2,287 of them.

If there's one thing we learned about making economy cars, it's this: There's no such thing as an overnight success.

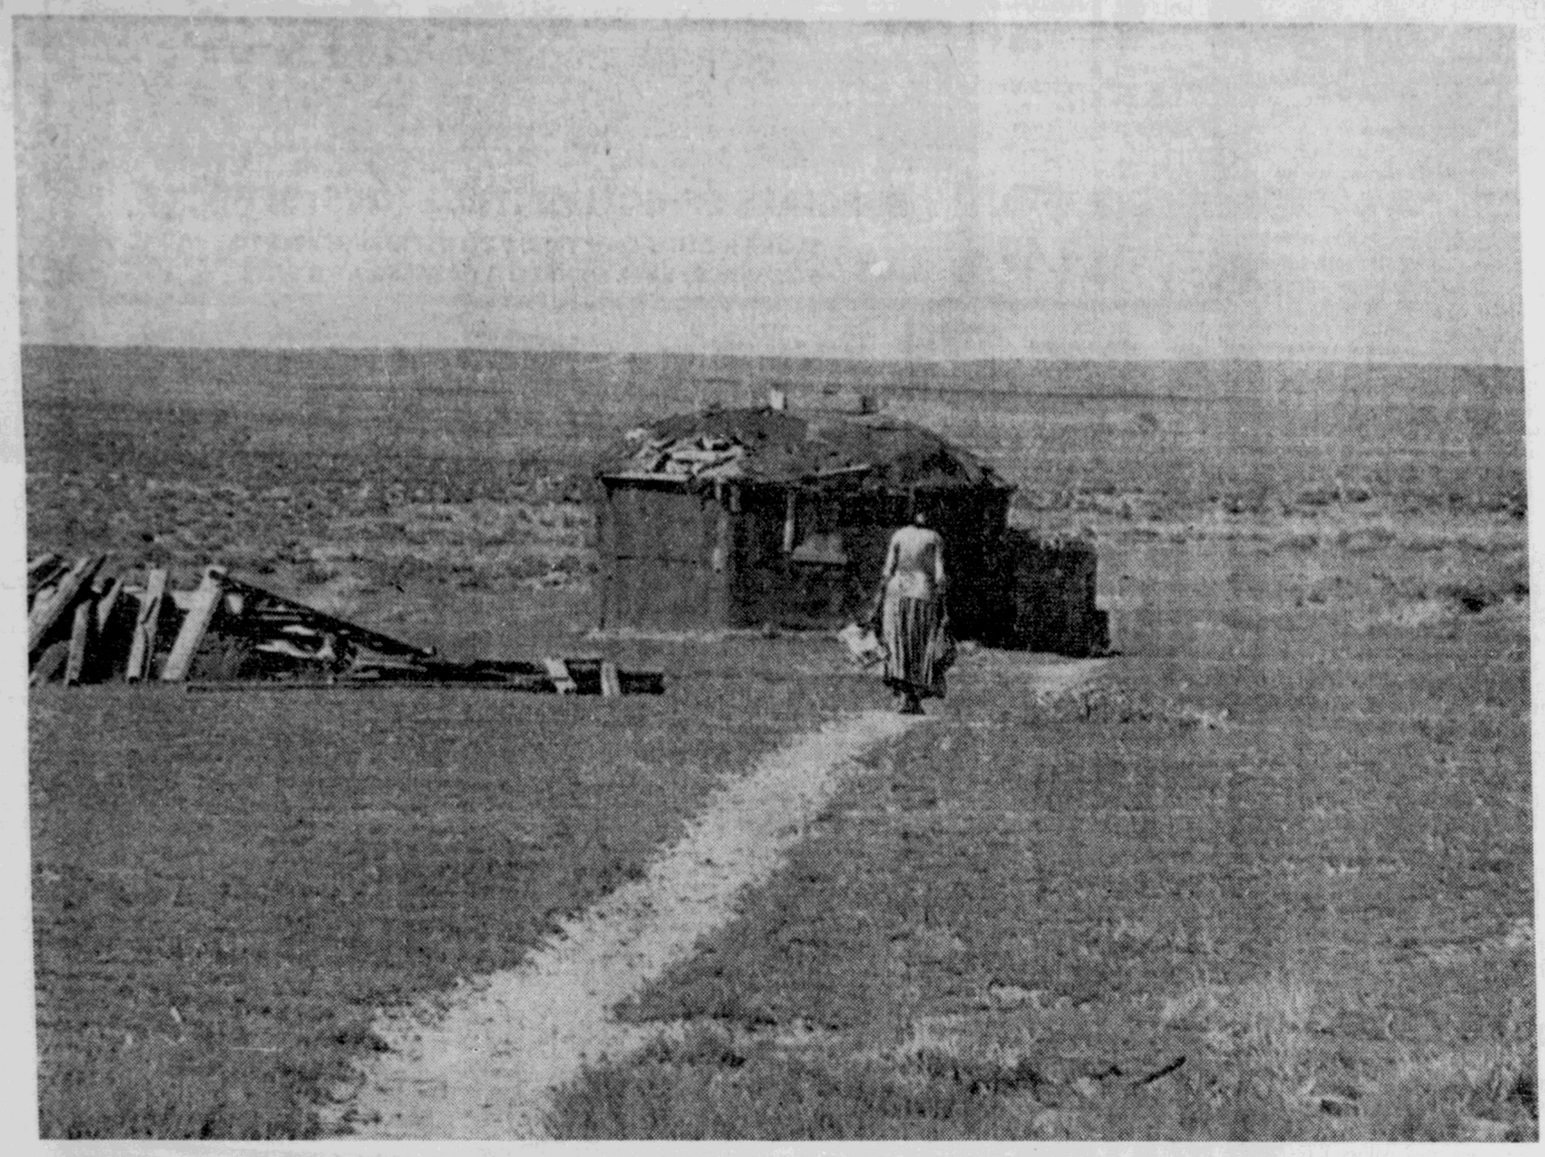
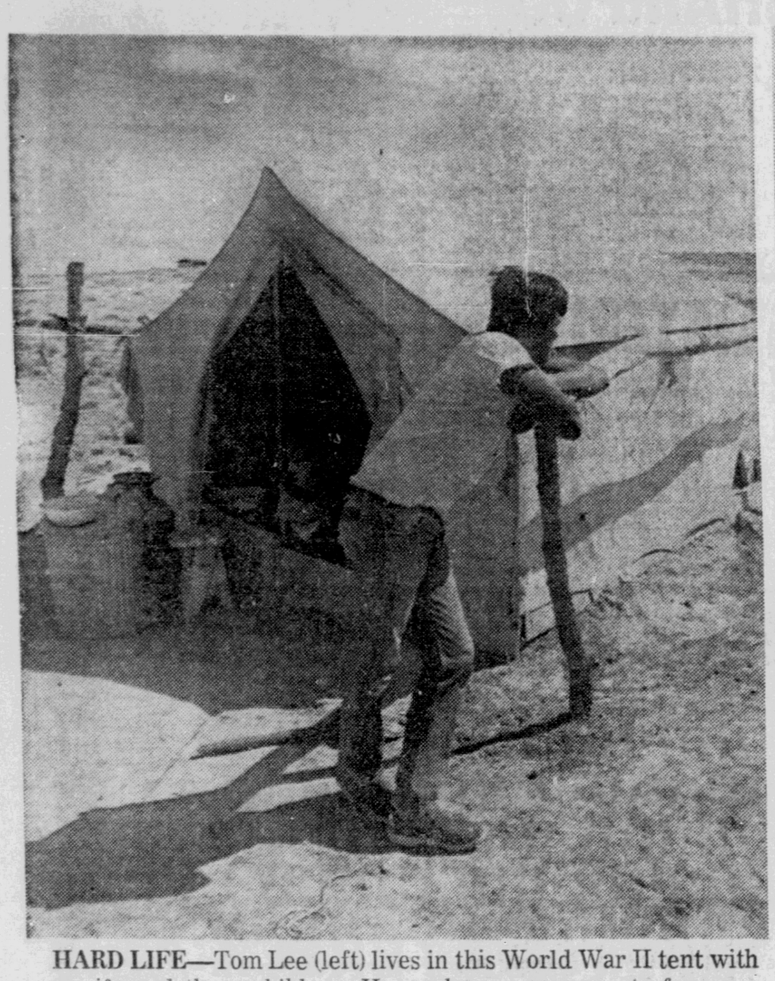
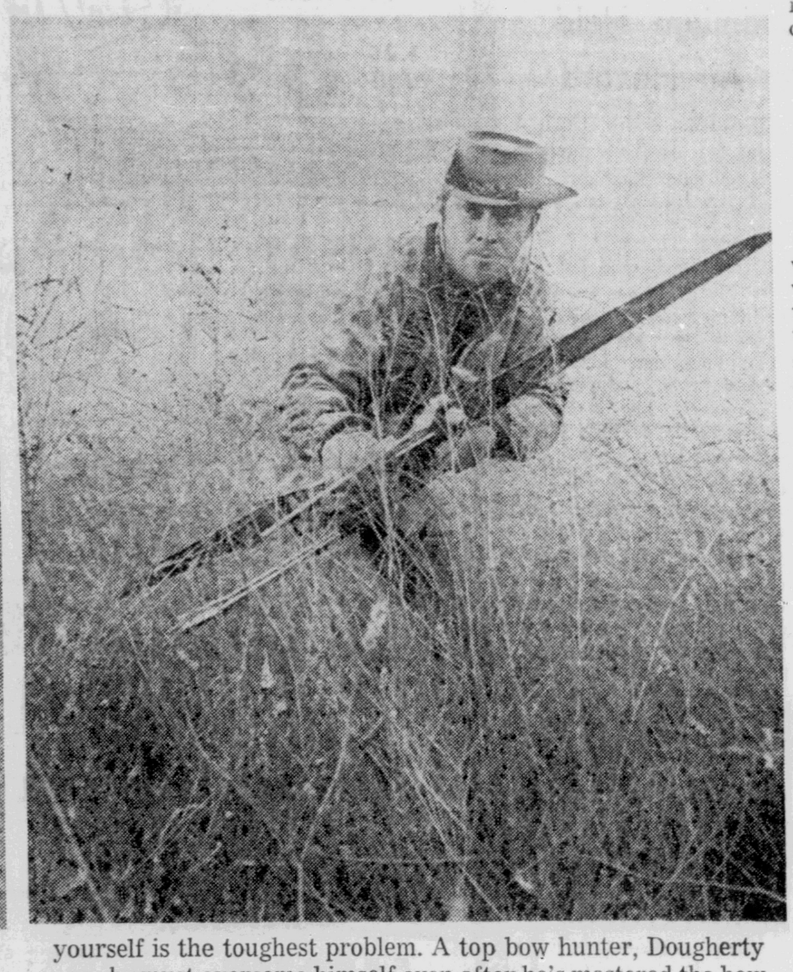
The Navajo: A Life Of Drunkenness, Dirt, Despair

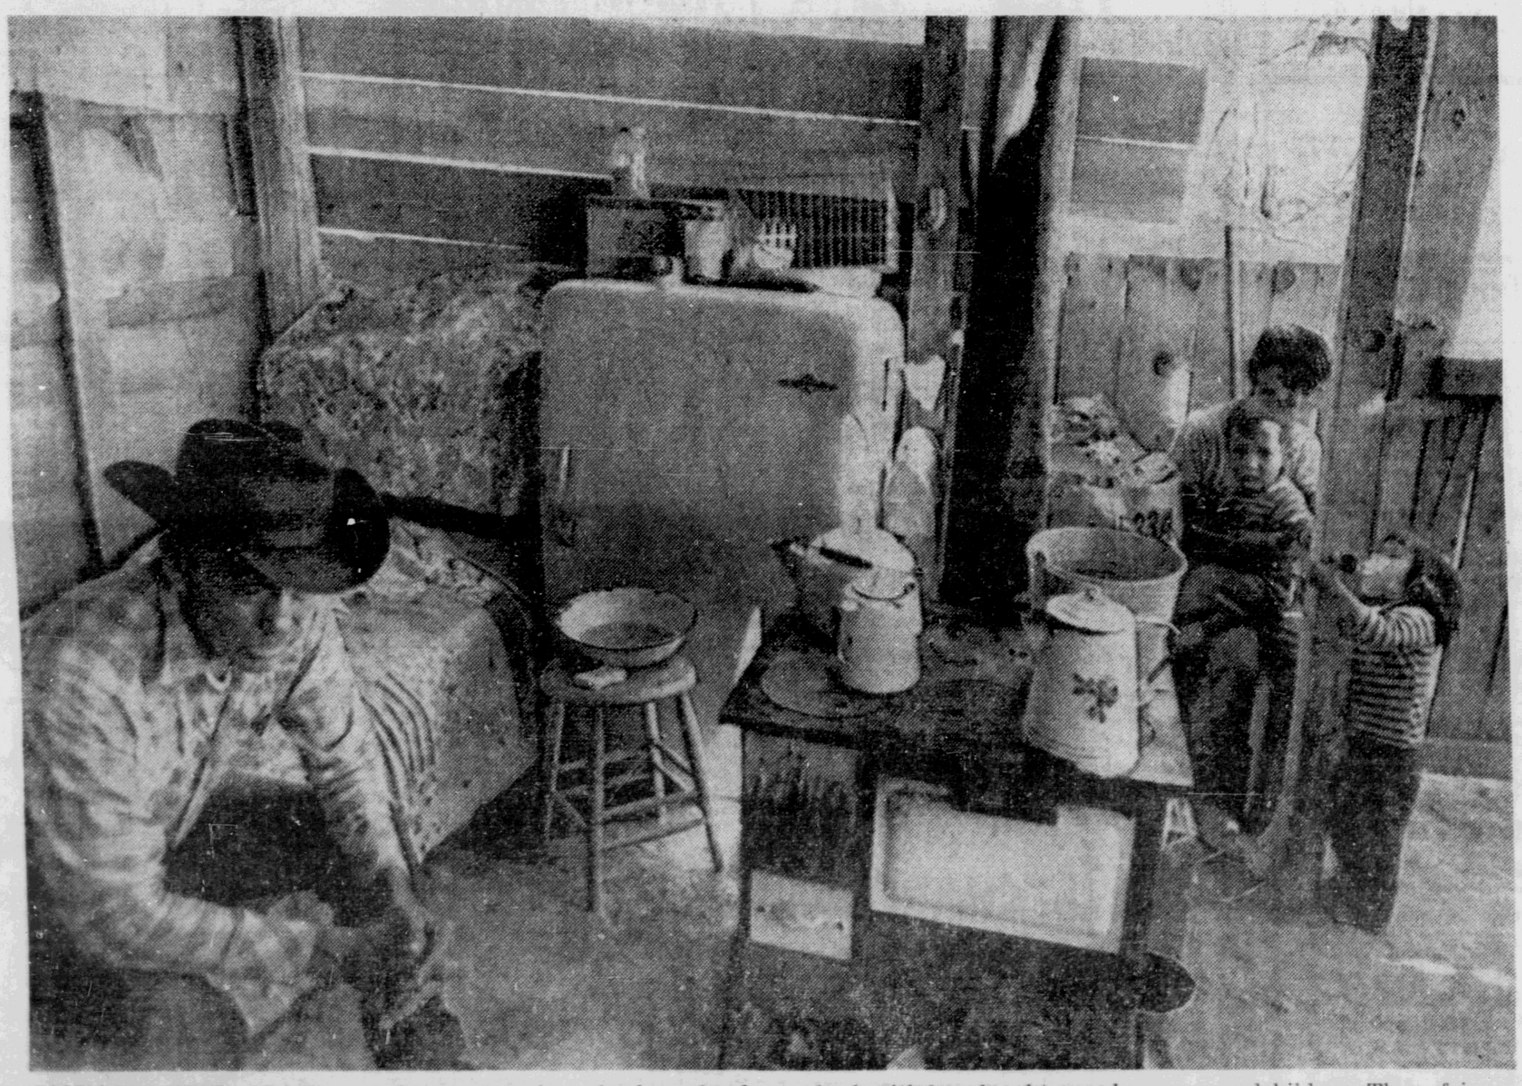


HER HOGAN—A lone Navajo Indian woman walks toward her hogan between Chinle and Ganado in a desolate area of the Navajo Indian Reservation which is located in part of New Mexico, Arizona and Utah. She is one of the 220,000 Navajos living on the reservation which is the size of West Virginia. (UPI Telephotos)





HARD LIFE—Tom Lee (left) lives in this World War II tent with a wife and three children. He works on components for computers in a nearby instrument plant, earning $66 a week. Hunters like Jim Dougherty (right) say learning to overcome yourself is the toughest problem. A top bow hunter, Dougherty says he must overcome himself even after he's mastered the bow and arrow. Life on the reservation is hard.



NAVAJO HOME—This is one of two rooms in a shack made of scrap lumber and covered with tarpaper with pieces of cardboard forming part of the wall on one side. A woman lives in the shack with her daughter and seven grandchildren. The refrigerator does not work but is used for storage. There is no electric power or plumbing on the reservation.

(Editor's note: Earlier this summer President Nixon in a special message to Congress called for more aid to the American Indian. UPI sent newsman Peter M. Kelly and photographer Joseph C. Marquette to the sprawling Navajo Indian Reservation in New Mexico, Arizona and Utah, to take a look at the Navajo in 1970.)

By PETER M. KELLY

MONUMENT VALLEY, Utah (UPI) — The tourists, in sneakers and Bermuda shorts, sit on folding chairs in the headquarters of this 35,000-acre tribal park watching a slide show on Navajo Indian life.

One slide shows a young Navajo girl, dressed in a purple velvet blouse, colorful skirt and sandals, standing in front of a log lean-to. She is smiling at the camera but the shack brings sighs of sympathy.

"This is a Navajo girl," the narrator says. "The house behind her is called a hogan. It's one of the earliest types of Navajo structures."

You do not have to go far from the slide show to find an off-screen hogan. About four miles from where the tourists sit, at the base of the towering Three Sisters Butte, the two daughters of Mrs. Betty Cloy, 38, lie asleep in the twilight on two of three beds in a shack that is a duplicate of the one in the slide.

Mrs. Cloy sits on the third bed. She is dressed in a dirty white shirt and skirt and wears heavy white socks on her feet. Mrs. Cloy, a Navajo, has an annual income of $1,630. She makes $550 selling rugs to tourists and the rest of the money comes from welfare.

Mrs. Cloy says she never heard that President Nixon wanted to do more for the American Indian. Her main worry is where she will get fresh water for her family for the next day.

Mrs. Cloy is one of 120,000 Navajo Indians living on the reservation the size of West Virginia that is bounded by mountains of the Continental Divide and covers portions of New Mexico, Arizona and Utah.

In population, the Navajo is not vanishing. But in an age of spaceflight and moonwalks, he's vanished from the concern of most Americans.

Poverty among the Navajos is not the exception; it is the rule. It exists in Mrs. Cloy's hogan. It exists in every hogan scattered throughout this park of shattered red rock columns and high buttes that resemble broken teeth.

And the fallout from the reservation-wide poverty, which many tourists who spraypaint their initials on the park rocks don't see, is high infant mortality, drunkenness, malnutrition, pneumonia, filth and, with some Navajos, a sense of despair.

The combination of all of these has bred a bitterness against the white man that is unconcealed and, to the Navajo, justified.

The bitterness is pictured in a factory worker at Shiprock, many tourists who spray paint N.M., who signals for a tribal policeman with a piece of broken mirror to run off a photographer. In Monument Valley, a Navajo answers a reporter's question by spitting.

Frankie Todachine, a Navajo ranger in the valley says the white man earned the bitterness. "During every election," Todachine said, "the politicians come to the reservation and promise everything. But it never comes."

Unlike some other minority groups, many of the Navajos don't care if they're assimilated into the white man's society. A Public Health Service official said, "The Navajo has an inclination to turn into himself and rely first on the tribe and himself before going outside to the white man."

The shack in which Mrs. Cloy, her daughters and three sons live is their summer home. The chinks between the logs let in the evening breezes. In the winter, the family lives four feet away in a conical mud hogan. The thick walls of the building keep out the cold.

The log shack was given Mrs. Cloy by a movie company which left it after filming a western in the valley five years ago. The hogan of mud was built by her late husband. Mrs. Cloy has never lived in anything but a hogan. She's never had running water or electricity. Her stove is the top of an old oil drum. She weaves at night by the light from a kerosene lamp.

Paved roads fun along the edges of the reservation, but very few extend into it. The unpaved roads usually are nothing more than hard dirt or clay and when it rains, they become impassable.

Except in areas near federal or tribal agencies, jobs are scarce. Navajos liviing in isolated areas measure their possessions in the number of sheep and horses they own.

At Shiprock, Tom Lee lives 200 yards from an instruments plant in a World War II Army tent with a wife and three children. He makes $66 per week working on components for computers. His children play on ground baked white by the sun and littered with empty beer cans.

Lee is 34 and says he got his job at the plant six months ago. "I used to be a cleaning man," he said. "I used to sweep up the dust. I've got a good job now."

Gallup is a town of about 14,000 and each weekend hundreds of Navajos pack its bars to drink. The problem of Indian drunkenness in Gallup is acute and social workers recently opened a "crash pad" for Navajos to use when the city's detention center is filled.

In one of the bars, a glass of tokay wine costs 45 cents. The bar whiskey is 60 cents a shot. The more expensive brands of liquor cost 75 cents.

The causes of Navajo drunkenness are tied in with the Indian's environment, according to physicians and social workers. Buck Chambers, a 65-year-old Navajo working with the Office of Economic Opportunity, says the problem in modern life "is going too fast for the people. There is nothing else to do."

On the east side of Gallup a psychologist, working at an abandoned garage used to house the spillover of drunks says he has no answer to the problem. "All I can do is see they are cleaned up and refer them to rehabilitation programs at the PHS hospitals."

At a gasoline station between Chinle, and Mexican Hat, Ariz., two bearded hippies with knapsacks under their arms lounge against a soda pop machine. One of them wears a brown, floppy hat with a wide brim.

Earlier in the summer, the word went out that a group of hippies planned to hold a rock festival on the reservation. Startled officials of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, which administers the reservation, checked the story out and found it was only rumor.

But there are hippies on the reservation. Officials know of no established communes like those that exist only a few hours away outside Taos, N.M., but there is a continual flow of the flower children passing through the reservation each day.

Chambers and other Navajos don't like hippies very much. "I see them," Chambers said. "I don't talk to them much."

Welfare programs provide money for most of the families each month. The payments vary, according to the size of the family.

Health care is available free through a reservation-wide system of Public Health Service hospitals. The Baptist and Presbyterian churches are active on the reservation in assisting the Indian. The Presbyterian Church once tried to run a hospital at Ganado but it went broke.

Overlooking Beautiful Valley, the tribe has built one rest stop. "If the white man owned this valley," Chambers said, "he would put up an observatory telescope and charge people money to look at the valley. This is what the Indian should do.

"But I'd rather be a Navajo than a white man.

IN THE SHADE — A woman called Grandmother Bayashee who cannot remember her age sits in the shade of her hogan. She is deaf and has poor eyesight. Tribesmen look at her and say, "She is too old, she is going to die soon. We don't need to build her a house."

The Three Careers Of Alma Wells

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Alma Wells (Mrs. James Wells) of Marin City has three careers — housewife-mother, nurse and opera singer.

Very appropriate, therefore, is her philosophy of life, which she says can be summed up in a quotation from Jack London: "I would rather be ashes than dust ... I would rather be a superb meteor with every atom in magnificent glow than to be a sleepy and permanent planet."

Alma was night supervisor at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael until she had to change her schedule when she was accepted after auditions held last spring for the San Francisco Opera chorus. She is now working a full day shift as staff nurse at the hospital and rehearsing for the fall opera season four to five hours, six nights a week.

THE WIFE of James Wells, who is employed with the U.S. Post Office, she is the mother of two children, Karen Therese, 13, and Kevin, 11.

"I've always worked night shifts," she explains, "so that I could be with the children when they were small."

Since she was graduated from San Rafael High School, the College of Marin with a nursing scholarship given by the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and St. Mary's College of Nursing in San Francisco, Alma has held several night supervisorial positions.

For a year following her graduation from St. Mary's she was a night charge nurse at St. Mary's Hospital, went on to become head nurse at San Rafael General Hospital four years and then became evening supervisor for a year and a half at the Lawton House Convalescent Hospital in San Francisco before starting at the Kaiser Hospital in 1966.

SINGING HAS been part of her life ever since she was a child.

"I was the youngest of four children in Magnolia, Ark.," she says. "My mother had a lovely voice, and we all sang. I participated in the College of Marin Opera Workshop and with the Festival Theatre in San Anselmo, but I didn't study voice seriously until four years ago when I started vocal lessons with Mme. Bella Resek in Mill Valley.

"Since then I have given a great many private recitals in the Bay Area in churches and concert halls."

The young lyric soprano also sings in the choir at the Village Baptist Church in Marin City, where her brother, the Rev. Samuel L. Banks, is a pastor.

Only 5'2" tall but sturdy, with lots of endurance, Alma has black eyes that fairly sparkle as she speaks of her enthusiasms.

"Music in any form is a creative thing. I enjoy all types, but I especially like opera," she says, "because it depicts life and has more dramatic meaning to me. I also like

POLLUTION BEGINS AT HOME

Phosphates Trigger Chain Reaction

By DONALD S. PHILLIPS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Much of America's water pollution problem begins with the rinse cycle of your automatic washing machine or dishwasher.

When the detergent or presoak is flushed into the sewer, it carries with it into our lakes and rivers 2.5 billion pounds per year of phosphate, the miracle ingredient that made modern washday products possible.

Phosphate washing compounds are not poison and by themselves pollute nothing. It is safe to wash baby's diapers in them. In fact, phosphorus is one of a number of chemicals that are necessary to all life.

But most scientists now agree that the excess phosphate compounds that man is dumping into his environment through such sources as detergents and farm chemicals are triggering a form of pollution that can turn relatively shallow lakes into useless stinking bogs.

When certain other ingredients — such as carbon and nitrogen — already abound in the lake, the excess phosphates cause an overgrowth of tiny water plants called algae. The algae grow into a thick mass of scum. When they die, they not only smell, but use up the oxygen in the water, killing the fish. The lake is rendered useless.

As the algae pollution becomes worse, the pollutants settle to the bottom of the lake, making the lake even shallower. Sunlight then raises the temperature of the lake, accelerating the process. The lake turns into a bog or swamp and eventually the swamp becomes dry land.

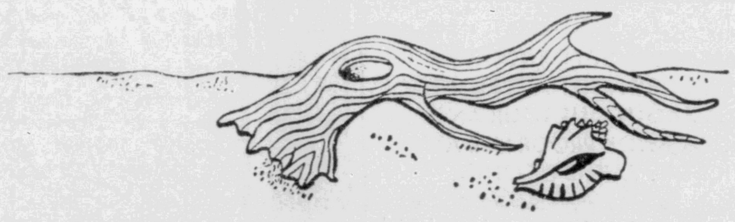
This is the process mainly responsible for the pollution problem in Lake Erie and the Potomac River around Washington.

The process, known as eutrophication, is not an isolated or a minor problem. A top government official involved in environmental problems said in an interview that "of all the emerging water pollution problems, eturophication will be the major problem."

Even the most modern treatment plant can't take phosphates from sewage without a special secondary treatment process.

Phosphates are not always the culprit. Sometimes an increase in carbon, nitrogen or the other life-giving chemicals starts the process. But phosphates according to present scientific knowledge create the problem in the majority of the cases.

The housewife who wants to help in the battle against pollution has a dilemma. She is showered with advertising slogans and is told constantly of the "active green granules" and "perma power brighteners" and "active enzymes" that will lift her to a cloud of washday bliss.



Nowhere on her detergent box is she told that it contains phosphates, much less the quantity of the compound.

One major manufacturer, Proctor & Gamble, is advertising that it is substituting a new ingredient for some of the phosphate in two of its products, Gain and Cheer. Even so, one of its major competitors complained at a Senate hearing that even after the reduction, these products still had more phosphates than his company's products.

The housewife hears presoaks called "enzyme presoaks." Actually, they are mostly phosphate pre-soaks. Pre-soaks require a higher percentage of phosphates than any other washday product.

Other possible detergent pollution problems are being studied. Some scientists contend that an unacceptable amount of arsenic is being dumped into lakes and streams from improperly produced phosphates.

Other scientists and consumer advocates, including Ralph Nader, have charged that enzymes are dangerous. Nader said enzymes can cause lung and skin diseases.

It has been known for about 40 years that excess phosphates could cause this type of pollution.

Yet, it is only in the past five years that a coordinated, concentrated effort has been initiated to discover the true gravity of the problem and to develop an acceptable substitute for phosphates.

The effort has been marked by conflicting scientific "facts," backbiting among competing detergent manufacturers and foot dragging by the joint industry-government panel that was supposed to seek a solution to the problem.

In two years, the industry-government panel met only 13 times, recommended that nothing be done about phosphates in detergents "at this time," and said its greatest accomplishment was "the establishment of a common meeting ground."

Even the Interior Department took a go-slow attitude until it was pressed by Congress.

The point of dispute is whether it would do any real good to remove phosphates from detergents, which account for about one third of the problem. The industry claims that so much phosphate comes from other sources such as human wastes and agricultural fertilizers that removal of phosphates from detergents would not help.

The industry says an immediate replacement of phosphates would simply give the housewife less cleaning power at greater cost, and that the replacement substance might be a worse pollutant than phosphates.

It sees the answer to the problem as special waste treatment processes to remove all the offending ingredients from the water, including phosphates from all sources.

Other scientists and government leaders concede waste treatment is necessary, but say it will be many years before enough treatment plants can be built. They claim that eliminating phosphates from detergents would at least slow eutrophication until other measures could be taken.

Phosphates are used mainly as a water softener. They are present in all except for a few experimental detergents. In fact, automatic washing machines cannot clean efficiently without phosphates or an acceptable substitute, and automatic dishwashers must use detergents with high concentrations of phosphates. Soap cannot be used in automatic machines.

The detergent industry says there is no known safe substitute for phosphates, although one ingredient — sodium nitrolotriacetate, or NTA — is being marketed in one liquid detergent and as a partial substitute for phosphates in some powdered detergents.

Lever Brothers' Liquid All is the only American detergent using NTA in place of phosphates.

So far, it is not a suitable total substitute in powdered detergents for various reasons, including a tendency to cake in the box. In addition, spokesmen for the industry say that although NTA is safe for home use, there is still not enough evidence it would not cause a worse pollution problem than phosphates if used in massive amounts.

One small company — a subsidiary of Sears Roebuck & Co. — has announced but has not yet marketed a phosphate-free powdered detergent. The company is keeping the formula a closely guarded secret. It says it simply restructured its old formula and left out the phosphate.

Almost immediately, the rumor was circulated that the new

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Five Years Is Too Long To Kow-Tow To A Married Bachelor

DEAR HELEN:

Marriage: five years ago. Children: two. But what kind of married life is it when your husband takes off any time he gets peeved?

Dave is gone again now, for the 12th time in five years. He said I bugged him and he couldn't stand the pressure.

But: he comes by whenever he feels like it, takes us for a Sunday drive, out to a show. Then again, he'll call to invite us somewhere and never show up. The children are naturally upset by this uncertainty. So am I.

He has a girlfriend. He's always had a girl on the side, as he says he needs someone to talk to and he can't communicate with me.

I suggested that he either see a marriage counselor, or we talk to a lawyer. He vetoed both. Says he needs time to figure out what he wants in life. Isn't five years enough? — NOT GETTING ANY YOUNGER

DEAR NOT:

Your husband has had time enough. What he needs now is an ultimatum. Tell him you want either a full-time husband and father for your children or a clean break, for you're through kow-towing to a married bachelor. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

As a volunteer aid in a local hospital, I have been particularly concerned over the problems of unwed mothers. It seems that so many want to keep their babies, but most have been talked into giving them away. The emotional upset of having your own flesh and blood taken from you because "it's for your own good" is enough to make one wonder what's happening in today's society.

Often a girl who gives up her baby regrets it deeply later on. Often she would have been able to support the child. Too late she realizes that a baby does not interfere with a good marriage.

Rather than getting all one-sided counsel, I think a girl should talk with unmarried mothers who have kept their babies — then make her decision. There shouldn't be a stigma attached to the illegitimate any more. That's for the 18th century. — K.A.

DEAR K.:

The stigma is fast disappearing — but the problems of raising a child alone still remain. It's a tremendous decision — whether to give away or keep your baby — and many girls these days are deciding for the latter. The pressure toward adoption is not as great as it once was. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm writing in regard to the person who said she was inspected by department store security guard. ("As an example," not through suspicion.)

My husband is security manager for a big chain. He and the general manager were shocked by this letter. It couldn't have happened as told except in a place where there are no regulations. Even so, this invasion of privacy should have been reported to the labor commission or other agency, even if it meant that the employee thus inspected lose her job.

Helen, before any person may be touched, a crime must be proven. Even then, the only person who is allowed to strip a suspect is the court matron at the police station.

Few realize the risks involved in retail security. No store can afford a law suit so the detectives must use extreme caution. My husband has handled people with knives, guns, narcotics, stolen cars, etc. He has had clothes ripped, been struck and threatened, yet he must be certain of guilt before acting. If the "inspector" really did strip store personnel, I hope the store is justly punished. — WIFE OF A DETECTIVE

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

No Waste

A few spoonfuls of uncooked ground beef needn't be wasted. Brown it quickly in a skillet and toss it with shredded cheese just long enough to melt the cheese. Serve bread, on toast or a toasted bun.

Most glue can be removed from washable items by soaking them in warm soap suds.

ON BEING BLACK

Protection Of All Children Should Be Community Effort

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

It was just one of 1,001 trips around the corner to the neighborhood grocery store that my daughter had made this summer — a loaf of bread for Mom, a can of tuna for ailing Mrs. Jones and bubble gum for herself.

Glancing at my watch, I knew she had been gone longer than usual. I walked to the corner and glanced down the busy street. The entranceway to the store, a block and a half away, could be seen from where I stood.

As I waited, I noticed a man standing idly on the corner directly across the street from me. At that moment I attached no particular significance to his presence. He, too, was looking in the direction of the store.

SHORTLY, I saw my little one's natural coiffured head emerge from the store and come bobbing in my direction. My first impulse was to walk back to the house quickly, before she saw me. Like most children, she likes the feeling of carrying out a mission completely by herself. But, for some reason, I decided to wait for her.

As she neared the middle of the block, the man stepped into the center of the sidewalk, blocking her path. She kept walking, but hastily moved to the far side of the sidewalk in an attempt to go around him. He moved in front of her again, stopping her.

For a minute, I was dumbfounded. In the next instance, I flew across the street, speechless with fury.

"Oh," he backed up feebly. "This your kid?"

Smoke had to be pouring out of my ears. I had an impulse to jump on him and scratch his eyes out.

Nervously he stuttered, "Ummmm, that's why you were on that corner."

My voice finally came back. "Yeah, I was on that corner because there are people like you on this corner!"

"AW LADY, I wasn't going to hurt her. I was just talking to her . . . wanna give her a dollar 'cause she's so cute." He waved the dollar bill he held in his hand uncertainly as he backed away. Then he turned and ran.

Perhaps the man had no ill intentions. But I still shudder to think what might have happened if I had not been standing on that corner at that minute. And the incident caused me again to concern myself and my neighbors with the problem of protection for our children.

Survival in the inner cty, with increased population, crowded conditions and greater numbers of frustrated and deranged people on the streets, is somewhat of a dilemma for city parents. On the one hand, since we do live in the city, we know that our children must learn survival techniques which are applicable to city life and to overprotect them — that is, to attempt to test-tube their daily existences — would be to deprive them of those vital survival techniques which they must acquire through a certain degree of experience. Still, we must protect them insofar as possible, while they are learning to handle themselves, from the obvious and ever-present dangers in the inner city.

What can and should we parents be doing to provide the best possible and safest arena for our children to grow?

Even though most children tire of hearing the standard warnings, "Don't talk to, don't ride with and don't take money from strangers" is still a vital code for their day-to-day safety.

CHILDREN SHOULD walk to and from school in groups and should be told to come straight home from school. Parents should know what time their children should be at any given location. Working parents should arrange for a neighbor to 'check in' their children from school.

THE BIRDS AND THE "B."

The MGB '70 has the kind of look that'll turn any girl's head. Test drive it today.

The history of the forts that stand guard around the Golden Gate goes well back into the 19th Century. But you don't have to go that far back to discover just how many changes these forts have seen. A World War II veteran visited the forts, noted some of those changes, and reminisced about how things were when he was stationed there in the 1940s. product would contain caustic materials.

A high government source said, however, that a list of ingredients furnished to him by the company did not support the rumor. He said first indications were that the product "looks good."

Big companies are watching the product closely because the Sears company uses a mixing process to make its detergent while they use a spray-dry method. If the Sears product proves to be the answer to phosphates, it would cost the big companies millions of dollars to set up similar processes.

Eutrophication is a natural process, but man has vastly accelerated the process in the last half century.

For instance, it is estimated that in the last 50 years man has accelerated the age of Lake Erie by more than 15,000 years.

Erie, perhaps the classic example of how man can kill a lake, is one of thousands of lakes and streams suffering from eutrophication.

Despite the complexity of the problem, there are hopeful signs.

Charles G. Bueltman, technical director of the Soap and Detergent Association, said in an interview that in addition to NTA there is a family of materials that "shows a lot of promise" as a phosphate substitute.

But he said it will take 7 to 10 years to fully test and market such a product.

The sewage treatment industry already knows how to remove phosphates from sewage, and the government is shooting towards a target date of 1978 for inaugurating special treatment processes in most of the country's major cities.

In the middle of the conflict is the government, including Congress. House hearings on the problem have been completed and Senate hearing are almost complete. Legislation being considered includes immediate removal of phosphates from detergents, prohibition of pre-soaks, and requiring manufacturers to list the amount of phosphates in their products.

jazz, but it requires an entirely different phrasing that I can't do so well.

"Leontyne Price is my ideal, and I would love to be an opera star like her, but it doesn't matter that I probably will not be. With music as with anything in life you continue to grow. The most important thing of all is to find one's self and function as a human being. Nursing is a way of giving, and when I'm giving, I'm happy."

TO THOSE who ask how she manages to go on to opera rehearsals after a full day at the hospital, Alma says, "Going to opera rehearsals after working all day is like taking a tranquilizer, I love it so much."

More physical activity is about the last thing one would think this dynamic young woman would need, but she says skiing, swimming and bicycling help her to keep in good condition and in contact with her children.

Alma will be performing with the chorus in five operas this fall, "Otello," "Tosca," "Carmen," "Nabucco" and "Faust."

STUDENT DISSENT

Fall Rebellions Will Reach Into Intermediate Grades

WASHINGTON (UPI) —"The alarm bell of student dissent is ringing loud and clear across the land and it's not about to be stilled any time soon."

So does the National Education Association (NEA) spell out the problems educators and the communities will face as another school year nears.

Dissent and rebellion will dip even into the intermediate grades, says NEA.

The prediction of more disturbances comes from a recent survey of violence in the classroom, a study done by the Office of Students and Youth of the U.S. Office of Education (USOE).

How to deal with the situation? Educators generally agree that students have a right to be heard, provided their "voices are not too shrill and are not accompanied by acts of violence."

The National Association of Secondary School Principals, an affiliate of NEA, has prepared guidelines for dealing with dissent. They're in "the Reasonable Exercise of Authority" by Robert L Ackerly.

Among the guidelines for fair treatment of student dissenters:

FREEDOM OF expression.

"Freedom of expression cannot legally be restricted unless its exercise interferes with the orderly conduct of classes and school work." Students may express opinions through speech, wearing buttons, etc., "so long as such actions do not intrude upon the rights of other during school hours."

Personal appearance: "A student is free to adopt his own hair style and manner of dress provided his action deos not present a hazard in such school activities as shop or lab work. Ruled out are extreme styles that are likely to create classroom disorder or such items as boots with cleats that create a school maintenance problem.

Codes of behavior: "These should be what school officials believe to be reasonable and fair" and necessary for the protection of rights of others and of the school.

DISCIPLINE: "We recommend again that rules governing in-school discipline be established only after full participation of students and other concerned parties. Serious breaches of discipline or any accommulation of minor breaches "must be handled by due process."

Student government: The scope . . . should be a matter of public record. This means, among other things, a published charter or constitution. Such a charter should be the result of joint agreement among administration, faculty and students."

Student press: "School-sponsored publications should be free from policy restrictions outside of the normal rules for responsible journalism."

Drugs: Students are required to obey the same laws on school grounds as elsewhere- . . . "school uthaorities have the same responsibility as every other citizen to report violations of the law."

Dog Tosses Infant To Death

LONDON (UPI)—A German shepherd dragged a 26-day-old girl from her baby carriage Thursday and tossed her to her death, police said. The dog later was destroyed.

The victim's grandfather, George Howard, 42, and her uncle, Anthony Howard, 16, beat the animal with a broom and made it drop the infant, but she was dead on arrival at Lewisham Hospital, police said.

A Ministry of Agriculture spokesman said veterinarians would examine the dog's body to determine if it had rabies.

The child was in a carriage in the back garden of her home when the dog suddenly rushed at the carriage, dragged the infant out and began tossing her about.

World Airways Halts Order For Three 747s

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — World Airways, one of the country's largest charter lines, announced today it has withdrawn its order for three Boeing 747s because of the "uncertain future" of charter carriers.

Edward J. Daly, president, said the Civil Aeronautics Board has proposed new charter rules "that would severely restrict rather than encourage charter operations.

World had 747s on order for delivery in 1972. It now has a fleet of 707 intercontinental fan jets and six 727 intermediate jets.

Safe 747 Landing

LONDON (UPI) — A Pan American 747 jumbo jet flying between Amsterdam and New York had to divert to London Thursday with suspected engine trouble. Emergency landing preparations were put in force at London's Heathrow Airport but the plane landed safely.

Minuteman III Firings Made

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—The Air Force began a series of demonstrations and shakedown launches of its new Minuteman III Intercontinental Ballistic Missile early today.

A crew from the Strategic Air Command's 394th Strategic Missile Squadron launched one of the new missiles down the Western Test Range at 2 a.m. (EDT).

The Minuteman III, designed to replace the older Minuteman missiles in the near future, is a 76,000 pound, three stage solid-fuel vehicle with a range of more than 7,000 nautical miles at a speed of better than 15,000 miles per hour.

MOSCOW TELEVISION

World War II Is Hottest TV Topic

By JAMES O' JACKSON

World War II outranks news, views, quiz shows and commercials as a topic for television programming in the Soviet Union. It is fought, refought, analyzed, memembered and deplored in a thousand different ways with millions of feet of film, color or black and white.

Hardly a night goes by without some television reference to the war, be it a full-length documentary or the laying of a wreath at one of the thousands of war memorials in the Soviet Union. Anniversaries of great battles, national holidays, and generals' birthdays can be the occasion for five hours of World War II coverage during prime time.

If the endless parade of tanks, guns and battleships across the screen is wearing to viewers, they at least need not watch commercials. Sales messages on Moscow television are as rare as war films are frequent, although some tentative moves toward commercials have been made.

Between the war films Moscow television keeps its programming high in the cultural clouds, giving Soviet viewers a steady diet of ballet, opera, drama, folk dancing and feature films.

Some of the films are new and first rate. Early this year Moscow television showed the entire eight-hour production of "War and Peace" in four nightly instalments.

Most films, however, are old and bland. Few modern American films have made Soviet television, although such nonpolitical productions as "The Glenn Miller Story" have been shown, and Charlie Chaplin movies are popular.

Sometimes, Soviet Television treats its viewers to the lowbrow. A quiz show, called "Auction", appears on an irregular basis. Persons giving correct answers to questions can win a car, a television set, or baskets of food.

There is no such thing as a situation comedy. But comedy is not unheard of. There is a monthly show called "13 Chairs" with a format similar to America's "Laugh-in"—except for the jokes. A sample groaner:

Housewife: "I woke up last night and saw a man going through my purse".

Friends: "Did you kill him?"

Housewife: "Of course not. I don't want to be a widow."

If the cultural quality of Moscow television fare is generally high, its news standards are not.

As with all of Soviet journalism, television news must serve the party and the state control is so rigid, and penalties for idealogical mistakes so severe, that editors invariably err on the side of caution. The result is that news usually is ignored, misplayed, or altered.

The landing of the first man on the moon was a case in pont. While most of the world thrilled at the sight of Neil Armstrong lowering himself to the lunar surface, Russians watched a turgid documentary on Polish workers.

To be fair, Soviet television is no quicker on its feet when a Soviet spaceship takes off. It is usual for western newsmen to report liftoff and landing of Soviet manned flights anywhere from minutes to hours ahead of Moscow television.

Only 100,000 Troops To Leave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department says only 10,000 troops will be withdrawn from Korea next June instead of the announced 20,000 because American troop strength already was below authorized levels.

The Pentagon announced earlier authorized troop strength in Korea would be reduced from 63,000 to 43,000. At the time of the announcement there were only 53,000 American servicemen in Korea.

Moonshine Whisky— New Pollution Victim

Federal agents said Thursday that in 24 of 40 samples of moonshine whisky seized and tested recently, there was a dangerous level of mercury pollution—sometimes as high as two parts per million.

Food and Drug Administration officials said a safe level for human consumption is one-half part per million.

Commuter Bus Plan Heads For Approval

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Golden Gate Bridge District's commuter bus plan, long stalled by San Francisco officials, appeared headed for final approval yesterday with an endorsement by the streets and transportation committee of the board of supervisors. (Another bridge district story, page 1.)

Two of the committee's three members, Terry A. Francois and Robert E. Gonzales, declared their strong support for the 132-bus system, but a vote was skipped at the insistence of chairman John A. Ertola. He said he needed more time to work out the wording of conditions he wanted included in the resolution the committee will submit to the full board for its action on Sept. 8.

Board approval of the resolution approving the bus system would clear the way for elimination of the police code's prohibition against intercity buses in the financial district.

Ertola said he probably would support the resolution, but stressed his misgiving that the system may postpone construction of rapid transit to Marin, and instead open the door to a second deck on the bridge. The result then would be to worsen traffic congestion in the city instead of relieving it, he said.

Ertola said one condition of the approval must be that the bridge district eliminate commuter discounts as soon as it begins bus service. The bridge board already has agreed to do this.

The supervisor also said he will push for having the district pay for additional traffic police the police department said would be needed to handle the buses in the financial district.

The $7.7-million bus system will serve the financial district via Sansome and Battery streets, and the Civic Center via Van Ness Avenue.

Minor Injuries As Autos Collide

Two persons received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 9:29 a.m. yesterday at Mission Avenue and Irwin Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a sprained back was John Grupe, 17, of 7 Adrian Way, San Rafael. Treated for a cut knee and sprained shoulder was Kathleen Marie Keith, 23, of 92 Deer Hollow Road, San Anselmo.

Keith, going north on Irwin, was cited for failure to stop at a red light and Grupe, going east on Mission, was cited for driving with an altered driver's license, according to poilce.

FAMILY

"Boatniks" — Disney's slapstick sea comedy offers light summer entertainment for the family.

"Funny Girl" — Partly fictionalized biography of comedienne Fanny Brice. Streisand recreates her Broadway musical role that is extravagantly mounted and lavishly costumed.

"Hello Dolly" — Delightfully entertaining family fare set in Yonkers and New York City in 1890 with lavish, imaginative sets and delightful choreography. "most fun musical of the year." Barbara Streisand stars as the charming, conniving matchmaker.

"Out-of-Towners" — Very broad satire of hazards of New York life and misadventures of a small city businessman who brings his wife along for a job interview. Hilarious comedy.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Airport" — Absorbing and gripping drama of an evening to morning account of the workings of a large international airport during a blizzard. Film is almost unbearably tense for nervous adults, and is certainly not for children.

"Bullet for Pretty Boy" — This mediocre film follows the career of Pretty Boy Floyd and his gang of bank robbers. Story ends when G-men gun down Pretty Boy. Children, no.

"Cheyenne Social Club" — Two carefree cowpokes inherit a bawdy house with six prostitutes. It is adult material masquerading as family fare. t lacks wit, taste and honesty. Stewart and Fonda deserve a better vehicle.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for a musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, racous and at times tasteless, not suitable for young children.

"Patton" An unusually well made film with a brilliant characterization by George C. Scott. Very strong dialogue.

"Reivers" — A weekend adventure when an 11-year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of man. Story has good human values, but it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes the film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"Sterile Cuckoo" — A kooky college girl and a boy who is serious and square. Their love affair and first sex experience are told with simplicity and insight. Acting excellent.

"Z" — Remarkable film about a political assassination. Powerful combination of action and suspense providing profound insights into today's troubled politics. Subtitles in English.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bloody Mama" — Story of the Barker Gang. Kate Barker and her four sons are shown to be a psychotic and morally bankrupt family of conscienceless killers. Murder, robbery and sex ruled their lives.

"Getting Straight" — Satiric melodrama that tries to give both sides of student rebellion on college campuses as experienced by a student-teacher. Violence and sex scenes and foul language are abundant.

ADULTS ONLY

"Beyond the Valley of Dolls" — Director Russ Meyer has made 19 sexploitation films, but none as sick and offensive as this. Countless graphic sex scenes show how three innocent girls are destroyed by their contact with the drug society, with homosexuals, sadists and nymphomaniacs. Sex, nudity and cursing.

"Coogan's Bluff — A lawman is sent by a sheriff in Arizona to New York to bring back a murderer who is a dope addict. Much violence and explicit sex. Children, no — excessively brutal.

"Loving" — The quiet desperation of suburban life is artfully explored in story of a commercial artist on the brink of disaster. Realistic frank language, sex scenes.

"M.A.S.H." — Hilarious, subtle anti-war comedy of three army surgeons who develop outlandish life-style to survive the gore that passes before their eyes. Sex, nudity and profanity.

"Two Mules for Sister Sara" — Set in Old Mexico during period the Mexican Guerillas were attempting to chase the French out of their country. The two leading characters are an American mercenary and a prostitute disguised as a Catholic nun. Plot is unconvincing and language is foul. A trite comedy.

The name Winnipeg comes from the Cree Indian word "Win-nipiy," meaning murky or muddy water.

New Sewer Line Granted For Bolinas

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — A special exemption to the ban on new sewer connections in Bolinas was granted yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control oBard.

John R. Pepper of Bolinas was granted the exemption on the ground he had a hardship because of a physical disability. The disability obliged him to have a single level home, but he had not been able to find one, he told the board. Thus he needed permission to build a new home, and to connect it to the community's sewer system.

The board has ordered a ban on new connections until the community builds a sewage treatment plant, due for completion in 1972. The community's sewers now dump raw sewage into the mouth of Bolinas Lagoon, causing gross pollution, according to board findings.

A request for an exemption sought by Hunt Conrad of San Francisco was postponed to Sept. 24 to get documentation for his application.

The California Highway Patrol said Parrott was driving south on Pepper Road, failed to stop at the intersectio n of Petaluma-Valley Ford Road and skidded into a dirt embankment.

He is survived by his mother, Mary C. Parrottt and a brother, Robert Parrott, both of Petaluma.

Five Seek Reduction Of LSD Bail

I-J Special Report

UKIAH — Five of seven persons arrested in a narcotics raid that turned up $3 million in LSD in Fort Bragg are challenging the high bails set for them by a Mendocino County Superior Court judge.

Writs of prohibition filed with the state Supreme Court are aimed at overturning the application of an 1897 law which presumes a defendant is guilty for the setting of bail, according to defense attorney Robert Y. Bell of Santa Rosa.

All seven, four of whom are Marin residents, have been held in jail since their June 16 arrests in lieu of $50,000 cash bond or $100,000 bail bond.

FEDERAL COURT

A similar writ seeking to overturn the bail set by Superior Court Judge Wayne P. Burk has been filed in federal court system and will become active if the state court fails to set a hearing within 10 days.

The defense argues in the writs that such high bail is denial of bail for a bailable offense. Defense attorneys said that in some murder cases — a Memorial Day beating to death for example — bail was set lower.

The five who are affected by the writs are Craig Burns Champie, 20, of Fairfax, John Rene Rodigou, 23, and Michael B. Aylwin, 23, both of San Rafael, Leland Moore, 20, and Gregory Wiggins, 23, both of Santa Rosa.

NOT COVERED

Not covered by the writs are Wayne Butler, 23, of Forest Knolls and Katherine Alice Thomas, 18, of Laguna Beach.

All but the two Santa Rosa men were arrested in a dawn raid on a house that yielded enough LSD for more than a million tablets.

Wiggins was arrested the afternoon of June 16 and Moore the next day.

All seven are charged with conspiring to make LSD, manufacturing it, possessing it and possessing it for sale, and will appear Sept. 8 for hearing on a defense motion to suppress evidence.

Bay Air Pollution: No Sign Of Letup

By DAVID DIETZ

STANFORD — A nationwide team of 20 professors concluded yesterday that air quality in the Bay Area has worsened and shows no sign of improvement.

The educators, who reached the conclusion after an 11-week study of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, recommended broad expansion of the agency's activities to attack dirty air.

And such an expansion, the report suggested, should include a program that would give the district the power to inspect automobiles for smog control — a jurisdiction heretofore reserved exclusively by the state.

While cautious not to criticize the district's activities to date, even observing warmly that the agency has "tried hard" to curb dirty air, the professors' report nevertheless called for a virtual turnabout in the agency's anti-pollution methods. It went on to issue a sweeping series of recommendations aimed at improving the monitoring of pollutants and in sharply decreasing their levels.

The report, released at a news conference at the university here, culminated a summer workshop sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the American Society of Engineering Education. Most of the 20 participants represented engineering fields.

"Air pollution in the Bay Area has become steadily worse, despite the actions of the BAAPCD," the report said. "The district has slowed the rate of air pollution, but it has not been able to stem the tide, far less been able to clean up Bay Area air to pre-1950 conditions."

While placing much of the blame for worsening pollution on industrial and automobile growth, the report said a contributing reason was the district's "narrow interpretation of its mission, an absence of clearly stated goals and methods to achieve these goals"

It outlined how, through improved methods of measuring air quality, the daily tonnage of certain pollutants released into the air by more than 30,000 stationary sources (i.e., industrial smokestacks) and about 2.5 million automobiles could be substantially reduced within five years and, if the district wished to go slower, 10 years.

This would insure, the report said, that "average air quality in the Bay Area does not exceed standards established by the State Air Resuroces Board on the emission of such hazardous pollutions as particulate matter, sulfur dioxide, oxides of nitrogen, carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons.

"It should be a specific goal of the district not to exceed the state air quality standards anywhere in the Bay Area at any time," the report advised. The professors defined these standards as the turning point toward "bad" air and added, "It should be a goal of the district to define and work for 'good' air."

Although the report noted that the control of auto emissions has been left to the state, it called upon the agency to initiate a revenue-producing testing program under which all cars registered in the Bay Area would be tested for smog control every two years. The professors envisioned 100 testing stations around the region at a cost estimated at $2 million to $3 million. At an inspection charge of $2 per car, the district could reap some $5 million in annual revenue, the report said.

"If the district is responsible for air quolity in the Bay Area," the professors said, "it can no longer dismiss control of the automobile on the basis that cars are not legally under its jurisdiction."

The team said it believed the district had a "legal right under its charter" to start an inspection program.

Other recommendations in the report were:

1. That the district, which now measures air quality at fixed stations, dispatch a number of mobile monitoring vans throughout the region to obtain a better idea of pollution concentration.

2. That in-stack monitoring devices be required of all large emitters. Emission averages and daily peak emission rates should be reported to the district monthly, although the level of discharges during equipment failures or during unusual operating periods should be reported hourly.

3. That the district should make use of an airshed model, similar to the Army Corps of Engineers' San Francisco Bay Model, to predict trouble periods, and that it should engage computer services for emission inventory.

A report giving technical support to the professors' recommendations is expected to be issued within two months.

Free Hand In Police Program Denied

Bella H. Aaron, Marin County Human Rights commissioner, yesterday denied charges that she has run a police cadet training program too independently of other commissioners.

She also denied an allegation that her police-community relations committee of the commission does not include members of minority groups.

The complaint by some fellow commissioners had been echoed at meetings of the Marin City Council.

Mrs. Aaron said the committee of which she is chairman is composed of 15 members, including several police chiefs, and has always included at least two blacks.

She said the only reason there are no blacks among the 10 cadets now in training is that the only black candidate who applied was less qualified than those chosen. She added that the committee specifically asked for minority group applicants.

Because of criticism of her operation of the police-community relations program, Mrs. Aaron asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney for an opinion on the matter, she said.

Maloney reported the operation was following precisely the contract under which Marin received $104,000 in grants from the state and the San Francisco Foundation.

The one-year cadet project which began last May is a program in which 10 cadets work 30 hours each week with police departments and attend classes at the College of Marin for an additional 10 hours a week each.

For duties of clerical and desk work which relieve regular officers for patrol and investigation, the cadets receive $100 a week.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos is also a coordinator of the project and the director is Charles F. Williams, 48, who was a specialist in police-community relations with the San Francisco Police Department before taking the Marin job.

Another phase will begin next month when 100 police officers from various Marin departments will begin training in such subjects as handling of social crises, reducing friction between police and minority groups and dealing with young people.

Marin lawyers, judges, probation officers and other specialists will teach the courses, Mrs. Aaron said.

Still another phase of the program is community education in which teams of lawyers, judges and others will visit various schools providing information on the rights and obligations of all citizens including young people.

Several public seminars are also planned, Mrs. Aaron said, in which relationships of police and the public will be explored. The first such seminar is set for 8 p.m. Sept. 9 in the Marin Civic Center.

Mrs. Aaron said her committee is also looking for representatives from various community organizations to serve on a 24-member citizens advisory committee which will give advice on the police community relations program.

Four Injured As Car Overturns

Treated for cuts at Hillcrest Hospital was the driver, Shigekatsu Uyemori, 63; and Sumiko Oshinomi, 41; and her children, Linda, 14, and Kirk, 11.

Under Treatment

Hugh Everett, 21, of 15 Buena Vista, San Anselmo, who was injured yesterday when his bicycle collided with a car at West End Avenue at Sentinel Court, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition today with a broken right wrist, cuts on the right leg and multiple scrapes, at Marin General Hospital.

San Quentin Returns To Normal Again

Except for some sporadic wash basin and toilet smashing during the night conditions at San Quentin Prison returned to normal today for the first time since an inmate strike began Monday.

Irving Ritter, prison business manager, said all inmates working at prison jobs returned to work this morning.

Normal feeding procedures were resumed yesterday afternoon, he said. Inmates had been fed in four groups, rather than all together, since the disturbances began.

Ritter said there was some smashing of basins and toilets in the prison's segregation unit last night, although the extent of it had not been determined.

As of yesterday, 90 toilets, 62 washbasins, 25 beds and 20 light fixtures had been destroyed since Monday.

The trouble began Monday with a 10-minute strike and presentation of a list of demands to Warden Louis S. Nelson.

A strike by 800 inmates Tuesday was ended when officials fired tear gas into the yard in which the prisoners had congregated.

Among the inmates' demands were the naming of a black warden and granting of political asylum in communist countries to condemned prisoners.

No action has been taken on the demands and none is contemplated, Ritter said.

Fine Or Jail

Robert James Woldhagen, 45, of San Francisco, yesterday was ordered by Judge David R. Baty in Marin Municipal Court, to pay a fine of $350 by Oct. 1 or go to jail for 10 days. Woldhagen was found guilty on a drunken driving charge that originated in Sausalito on April 15, 1968.

Permit Granted Night Club Serving Sonoma Collegians

The Cotati Planning Commission last night granted a use permit for a nihgt club to serve Sonoma State College students, but said it would keep a close eye on its operations.

The use permit was requested by H. Ward Mailliard, a Sonoma State graduate, who recently purchased the Inn of Beginning from Gregory Cochran.

The commission first insisted that a reserve police office be on duty as a bouncer, but dropped the requirement when Mailliard vowed it would not be necessary.

The commission said that if police receive numerous complaints about the club, a police officer would be required to keep the peace and to see that no underage students are served alcoholic beverages.

In listing other requirements, the commission banned topless, bottomless and nude entertainment and said it would call an immediate rehearing on the permit should persons be found inside the club in possession or under the influence of drugs.

Five Cotati residents spoke in favor of the use permit, saying students needed some place to gather for entertainment. No opposition was heard.

The commission also met informally with Harold Heers who presented tentative plans for a subdivision on East Cotati Avenue.

Heers said he planned 307 single family houses on 58 acres with 4,500 square foot lots. He said he also planned a minimum of 144 apartment units to ease the housing crisis for Sonoma State students.

Fatal Stabbing Suspect Nabbed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Police arrested a circus worker Thursday in connection with the fatal stabbing of the San Francisco Progress' night composing room foreman.

Royston (Ed) Moor had been killed Aug. 12 as he left the newspaper with his paycheck.

The man arrested, Ronald Steven Minnick, 22, was quoted by Inspectors Gus Corrie and Herman Clark as saying he was involved but that a man he knew only as "Jerry" had done the killing.

Minnick said he was from Toledo, Ohio, had left a circus in Arizona and had hitchhiked to San Francisco.

Rec Bond Proposal Signed By Governor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A measure allowing issuance of $60 million in state bonds for building recreation facilities in conjunction with the State Water Project has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, his office announced Thursday.

The bill by Sen. William E. Coombs, R-Rialto, goes before the voters in the November election.

New Zealand Band To Perform

A performance by the New Zealand National Band and Maori Dancers on Sept. 13 will close the Marin Chest Summer Concert Series.

Gates will open at 1:30 for the 3 p.m. concert to be held in the Forest Meadows Theater next to San Rafael's Dominican College.

There will be no reserved seating and those attending are asked by the sponsors to bring folding chairs in order to insure themselves a seat.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Van Dellen

Food supplies the energy needed by the body to function properly. These basic requirements constitute one-half to two-thirds the total dietary needs of the average office worker and housewife. Some of the calories are used by the body for energy, to keep warm, the heart to pump blood, and the lungs to convey oxygen.

The balance of food supplies energy needed for physical activity. Any excess is stored as fat. It is here that our soft life is beginning to show, especially around the waistline.

UNLESS EATING is curbed, our calorie stockpile eventually results in pronounced obesity. When unused calories are converted into weight, approximately 3,500 calories must be burned up through physical activity to lose 1 pound of fat. As we all know, it is easier to create a positive balance through proper eating than a negative balance by means of dieting and exercise.

The average active person gets along on 2,500 to 3,000 calories daily. Laborers require much more. Low caloric diets vary from 800 to 1,200 calories a day.

OUR MODERN equipment, labor saving devices, and motor vehicles spare us so much activity that in order to avoid obesity, we must become more active or eat less.

Driving a car 2½ miles burns up 17 calories. Cycling utilizes 122; walking, 210. Thus 193 more calories are burned by walking rather than riding.

The steno using a standard typewriter burns up 450 more calories than the girl who uses an electric machine. In 10 weeks, this is equivalent to a pound of weight, provided her diet remains unchanged. The farmer driving an ordinary tractor uses 150 calories an hour, but power steering reduces this to 126. When he walked behind the plow, he expended 400 calories an hour.

Returning to our original premise, it is easier to turn down a 350 calorie piece of applie pie than to do the amount of exercises required to burn up 350 calories.

NOT CURED

M.S. writes: When I had an infection several months ago, my temperature was 101 degrees and the white blood count was 25,000. Now the blood is normal but I'm running a low-grade fever and am constantly tired. What caused this situation?

REPLY

SYSTOLIC BLOW

G.B. writes: What is meant by a systolic blow in a 7-year-old child?

REPLY

A heart murmur. It may be innocent or produced by a defective valve. A congenital lesion usually is responsible if it existed since birth, whereas rheumatic heart disease is the cause if the child had rheumatic fever.

SKIN CANCER

E.D. writes: Is the cause of skin cancer known?

REPLY

No, but there is evidence that prolonged exposure to the ultraviolet rays of the sun or to radioactivity plays a role as does irritation from certain chemicals. Years ago, in England, chimney sweeps were found to be highly susceptible to skin cancer.

MOTHER'S MILK IS BEST

B.G. writes: Which is best for a baby — cow's milk or mother's milk?

REPLY

Mother's milk is best because it is what God intended. Cow's milk is an excellent substitute but some babies become allergic to it.

Today's Health Hint— The aged should not skimp on meat.

State Bar Elects New Governors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The State Bar announced Thursday that these men had been elected by lawyer-members to its board of governors:

Leonard S. Janofsky, Los Angeles; Lionel B. Benas, Oakland; William J. Schall, San Diego; Jack M. McPherson, Chico; and Richard A. McCormick, Fresno.

McCormick's election was not contested.

Joining 10 other board members, they will serve three-year terms starting during the organization's convention in Los Angeles Sept. 14-18.

Battery Device Triggers Bomb

OAKLAND (UPI)—A bomb that exploded July 30 in a Hall of Justice lobby was triggered by a battery-operated device, police say.

An analysis by the Internal Revenue Service's division of firearms and tobacco also showed that a zipper back cover on the bomb was at least 10 years old they said.

No one was injured in the after-hours blast.

There has been no arrest.

Firm Must Clean Up Operation

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments yesterday gave a Petaluma area garbage disposal firm three months to clean up its operation or face revocation of its use permit.

The board said that many complaints had been received about the operation of Larry's Garbage Disposal, 2482 I Street Extension, owned by Larry Johnson.

The board ordered that garbage trucks not be parked overnight at the site and the grounds be cleaned up.

The Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments also:

MOBILE HOME — Granted the request of Takashi Koga to place a mobile home at 763 Corona Road, Petaluma, for agricultural purposes.

AUTO REPAIR — Approved a two-year extension for the use permit on an automotive repair shop at 8755 Pine Lane, Cotati, as requested by Carl Schollmann.

DRILLING — Granted the request of the BCR and F Oil and Gas Co. to drill test holes on Old Adobe Road, Petaluma.

Cyclist Suffers Loss Of Two Toes

A 20-year-old Novato man, riding on the back of a motorcycle on the Novato-Hicks Valley Road at 11:45 p.m. yesterday, suffered the loss of two toes when his foot became caught in the sprocket mechanism.

The California Highway Patrol said Van Brock Kessler, of 1309 Leafwood Drive, Apt. 6, was injured when a motorcycle driven by Gregory G. Lehman, 20, of the same address, hit a bump and knocked his foot into the sprocket.

He was taken to Novato General Hospital and transferred to Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio in San Francisco, where he was reported in good condition today. A hospital spokesman said he lost his right big toe and part of his second toe.

Vapor Engine Is Steaming Along

NEW YORK (UPI)—William Lear, the industrialist who hinted recently he was abandoning his work on a steam engine, said Thursday work is progressing and is ahead of schedule.

Lear's steam or vapor engine would be designed to replace the internal combustion engine. He announced that it has gone through a 100-hour test "with successful results."

He is reported to have spent $5 million already on the steam engine research.

Lear has an order for a steam or vapor engine to be tested on San Francisco's public transit systems.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as provided herein and in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911 (the "law"), and in all particulars not recited in this resolution or provided in the law, the election shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(e) The election shall be and is hereby consolidated with the State of California General Election to be held in the district on the 3rd day of November, 1970, pursuant to law, and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the area of the district for the election shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County for said General Election and set forth or to be set forth in the notice of election officers and polling places for said General Election published or to be published by the County Clerk of said County, as required by law, to which notice reference is hereby specifically made for the designation of the precincts, polling places and officers of the election; provided, however, that no person not a qualified elector of the district shall be permitted to vote at the election. The Board of Supervisors of Marin County is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect of the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said General Election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (+) may be marked with pen or pencil; except that if and to the extent that Votronic ballots are provided for absent voters, each absent voter shall stamp a mark (.) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" or opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall likewise be canvassed or caused to be canvassed by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein and in the law. The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

Section 5. Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: If the revenues of the district are or in the judgment of the board will probably be inadequate for any cause to pay the principal of or interest on said bonded debt as it becomes due, the board shall cause a tax to be levied, as provided in the law, sufficient to provide for such deficit and to pay the amount of such principal and interest as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available. The board shall annually determine the amounts necessary to be raised by taxation as aforesaid during each fiscal year and shall fix the rate or rates of tax to be levied which will raise the amounts of money required by the district, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the Board of Supervisors of Marin County is required by law to fix its tax rate, the board shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County the rate or rates so fixed and shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County a statement in writing containing the following: (a) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonded debt of the district as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; and (b) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the district. The board shall direct that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, said Board of Supervisors of Marin County shall levy, in addition to such other tax as may be levied by such Board of Supervisors at the rate or rates so fixed by the board, a tax upon the property within the district, and it shall be the duty of said Board of Supervisors to levy the tax as required. The board hereby determines that all taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be levied upon all taxable property within the district. Said tax shall be collected at the same time, form and manner as other county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be paid to the district. All taxes for the payment of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be a lien on all property within the district taxable for district purposes, all of which said property is hereby stated by the board to be benefited by said bonded indebtness. All taxes for the district shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Interest on any of said bonds issued by the district and coming due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy after the sale of said bonds are available and interest on any of said bonds coming due before the expiration of one year following completion of the acquisition and construction of the works and improvements for which said bonds were issued may be paid from the proceeds of sale of said bonds.

Section 6. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need be given.

Section 7. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

Marichal Shoots For Rare 200th Victory Tonight

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Juan Marichal, the San Francisco Giants' peerless righthander, reaches out for a plateau tonight that includes only the game's greatest pitchers since the turn of the century.

The Giants, who dropped an error-filled 4-1 decision to Bob Gibson and St. Louis Cardinals Thursday afternoon, open a four-game weekend series with the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight.

Marichal, who has won his last five decisions, shoots for his 200th career victory and ninth of 1970 while pitching against Bob Moose.

When Marichal gets that 200th win, which seems certain this season, he will join a circle that includes only Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Eddie Plank, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove, George Mullin and Carl Hubbell as pitchers who won 200 games in their first 11 big league seasons.

Of course, all in that group went on to win many more games but among pitchers active today only Jim Bunning, now of the Philadelphia Phillies, has 200 career victories, and unquestionably he has been one of the finest in the last dozen years.

The last man to reach the 200 plateau was Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1966. In all, only 64 pitchers ever have won that many games in a career.

ILLNESS, FRUSTRATION

This has been a year of illness, frustration, and disappointment for the soon (Oct. 20) to be 32-year-old Marichal, who never won fewer than 13 games in any one full season.

"I'm getting more confidence in my fast ball," Marichal said after his last victory. "When I got sick I lost all the steam on my fast ball. Even though I throw a lot of other pitches that still is the one pitch I need the most to win."

Gaylord Perry had a pretty good fast ball, and slider and curve going for him Thursday as he pitched an eight-hitter but five errors did him in as he went down to his 13th loss compared to 17 victories.

TOUGH ONE

"It was a tough game to lose," Perry said, "but errors are part of the game. I'll just have to do better next time."

He hardly could improve on his latest effort. Perry got key outs when he needed them and had the Cardinals hitting his pitch most of the game.

But Gibson, who won his seventh straight, 17th in the last 19 decisions and 19th overall this season, was good, too, limiting the Giants to eight hits and keeping them from scoring in all but the first inning when a single by Willie Mays and a triple by McCovey accounted for the Giants' only run.

Gibson struck out eight and walked two and he accomplished the victory while getting the Giants to hit his breaking pitches.

"He was as good as he can be," said Giants Manager Charlie Fox. "He's the kind of pitcher you have to beat early. Otherwise he can't be had."

FOUR ERRORS

Four errors on two consecutive batters in the third helped the Cardinals to a run.

Lou Brock started the inning by hitting to third baseman Jim Hart. Hart threw wild past first and second baseman Tito Fuentes, backing up the play, threw wild into left field. When the dust cleared Brock was on third.

Ed Crosby followed by hitting wide of first to McCovey, whose throw to Perry covering was low for the third error of the game. Perry, in his hast to pick up the loose ball then inadvertently kicked it as Brock scored and Crosby raced to third.

That wasn't too bad, considering St. Louis netted only one run from the four bobbles.

In the seventh Joe Hauge singled after two out and Joe Torre rolled to third. Hart picked the ball up and had an easy force play at second but threw the ball into right field, Hague going to third and Torre to second. Both scored a moment later on a single to left by Joe Cardenal.

In the ninth, the Cardinals scored their only earned run on singles by Brock and Crosby and Hauge's sacrifice fly.

"You remember a game like that a long time, no matter what," said Perry dejectedly. "But I'll just have to try to forget it. It's gone now."

Ironically, Gibson, who now has beaten the Giants six straight times, lost last to San Francisco on Sept. 17, 1968. To beat him that time Perry had to pitch a no-hitter.

Too Late For McCovey To Repeat As Champ

Blurred vision in his right eye was a worrisome thing to Willie McCovey at the outset of the 1970 baseball season. Indeed, everyone in the Giant organization from Horace Stoneham down to the office boy was worried.

After the first eight games, McCovey was batting only .125. Was the career of the National League's MVP of 1969 coming to an untimely end? Had doctors been overly optimistic in predicting McCovey's vision would return to normal?

The doctors traced the source of McCovey's eye problem to a reaction from the medication used to treat his arthritic right knee. The medication was changed just before the Giants took off in mid-March for Japan.

It wasn't until mid-April that the eye returned to normal. Everyone knew it as McCovey hit consecutive home runs in the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth games and his batting average climbed to .189.

Since then there has been no concern about McCovey's sight. And there has been no worry about his batting average even though it hovered around .250 the next three months. The important thing was McCovey was getting the ultimate results from his hits. In mid-June he had 47 hits, 51 RBIs.

Buggywhip Swing In Groove

By the end of July McCovey's hit total was 79 and his RBIs 76. On July 31 his batting average was .258, including 20 doubles, one triple and 24 homers.

As August started McCovey had his buggywhip swing in the same groove that made him the home run and RBI champ of the National League the past two seasons. Between Aug. 1-23, McCovey hit at a .361 clip to boost his season batting average to .280. During this stretch he hit eight homers and knocked in 22 runs to boost his home run total to 32, RBIs to 98.

There is virtually no chance whatsoever of McCovey winning the home run and RBI titles again this year. Johnny Bench and others are too far ahead of him in both caegories. Furthermore, the best pitchers shun McCovey. They prefer to walk him even if they put the potential winning run of a tight ball game on base.

Last year McCovey was walked 121 times, 45 intentionally. This year he already has been walked 106 times, 33 intentionally.

Exaggerated Shift To Right

And all teams, except the Dodgers, use an exaggerated right side shift against McCovey's lefthanded pull swing. The Dodgers shift against McCovey but not as radically as other teams. Occasionally, McCovey will bunt to the left side but not very often. He bunted three times this year.

His first bunt of 1970 was a beauty May 3 in Candlestick Park against the Phillies, and Willie Mays scored from first base as the bunt rolled over Candlestick's artificial turf into left field for a double.

But McCovey is not going to make a habit of bunting even though Preston Gomez, manager of the Padres, says he would be glad to give McCovey four bunt hits per game.

"It's a little late in my career to become a Matty Alou kind of hitter," said McCovey.

New Rumor Reports

When Bing Devine paid a surprise visit to the spring training camp of the Giants March 4 this year and huddled with Horace Stoneham, the inevitable and logical conclusion was that a trade between the Cardinals and Giants was brewing.

However, no trade materialized at the time although a couple of months later the Cardinals and Giants did swap bullpen pitchers, Jerry Johnson for Frank Linzy.

Now there are new reports in circulation that the Giants and Cardinals are setting up a winter trade. And because of circumstances that developed since the March 4 meeting of Devine and Stoneham in Casa Grande, the new reports should not be ignored.

Everyone knows the Giants need pitching for 1971 unless they get super performances from young rookies now being groomed for starting roles next season. Everyone in baseball also knows that the Cardinals, especially Augie Busch, their president and owner, are extremely disappointed with Steve Carlton's record this year.

Carlton was a holdout this spring and received a tongue lashing from Busch in their salary discussions. Carlton got $25,000 in 1969. He wanted $40,000 for 1970. He was offered $31,000. Busch told him to take it or leave it, declaring "I don't care if he ever pitches another ball for us again."

In any event, when the Giants were in St. Louis a couple of weeks ago for their final 1970 Busch Stadium series with the Cardinals, Clyde King watched them in every game. Was the ex-manager of the Giants scouting them for the Cardinals, updating his already comprehensive data on the Giants?

An Embarrassing Record For A's In Loss Streak

DETROIT (UPI) — What's the record for pitchers reaching the 20-game win level against one team in a three-game series? If such statistics are kept, the Oakland Athletics have a right to be embarrassed.

The slump-ridden A's who call on John Odom 5-5 tonight in the opener of a weekend series against the Detroit Tigers, dropped their sixth straight game Thursday in Baltimore.

The Orioles won it, 6-4, and made Mike Cuellar the American League's second 20-game winner. Two nights earlier, Dave McNally reached the coveted 20 mark by stopping Oakland. And to compound matters, Jim Palmer registered his 18th victory for the Orioles in between.

10 OUT OF 11

As for the A's, who have lost 10 of their last 11 games, they fell 8½ games behind Minnesota in the American League West.

Oakland made a run at the Orioles in the middle innings but two home runs by Frank Robinson and another by rookie Terry Crowley shut off whatever hopes the A's had of salvaging the final game of the series.

FIRST RUN

A pinch double by Gene Tenace gave Oakland its first run in the fourth and Joe Rudi's eighth homer and Don Mincher's groundout accounted for the other two runs in the next frame. Bert Campaneris singled across Oakland's final run in the eighth.

Chuch Dobson, the A's most effective hurler since the All-Star Game break, couldn't do it and lasted but 2⅔ innings. He gave up four of the Baltimore runs and Marcel Lachemann, the second of four Oakland relievers, got tagged for two more runs.

After winding up the nine-game road trip here, the A's head for home for a six-game stand against the Chicago White Sox and Kansas City Royals.

All-America Li'l League Series Final

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) —The 24th annual Little League World Series has turned into an All-American affair.

The last of four foreign entries was eliminated Thursday when Chinandega, Nicaragua bowed to Campbell, California, 2-1.

It meant the championship will return to American soil after three years when Campbell plays the title game Saturday against Wayne, N.J., a 4-0 victor over Highland, Ind., Thursday.

Wayne coasted on the two hit pitching of Tom Olsen, who struck out 12 and allowed two walks in registering the victory over Highland starter Rick Domsic.

Campbell's Mike Alvarez limited Chinandega to three hits and retired the last nine men in order.

MARIN FOOTBALL

North Favored In Star Battle

The North, its advantage clearcut, and the South, with the big boys who could spoil that advantage, will clash tonight at San Rafael High School in the fifth rendering of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club Marin County all-star high school football game.

Five former all-league performers, including Terra Linda's passing combination of Tom Jackson to Bob Daniele and Dan Trondson, will be in the starting offenive lineup for the North. Jackson's presence alone is enough to unbalance the odds. With his two primary receivers in the game, the North rates as a two touchdown favorite.

Tackle Kerry Atkinson of San Marin and guard Chris Fenton of Terra Linda the other all-Marin County Athletic League players, will be responsible for giving Jackson time to throw.

That may not be easy, since, among the South's defensive players who will be trying to get to him will be all-North Coast tackle Tom Wickert and all-leaguers guard Phil Simon and middle linebacker Rick Puccinelli.

The South's offense, which will be built around fullback Bob Sutherland of Drake, will include only two all-leaguers.

South coach Mike Davlin announced today that he will start Drake's Kevin Peak at quarterback, and use San Rafael's quarterback Lowell Widmer at safety, where he gained all-league recognition two years. Peak's ability to pass may indicate that the South will be putting the ball into the air more than was earlier expected.

Starting offensive lineups:

Casper Student Red Hot

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Mike Reasor caddied for Arnold Palmer and learned from Billy Casper, but Thursday he gave both of them a lesson.

Reasor shot a 6-under-par 66, one stroke off the course record at Upper Montclair Country Club, to take the first round lead in the $300,000 Dow Jones Open — golf's richest tournament.

Most of the game's top players had their problems, but Reasor didn't, and he gave Casper the credit.

"He has helped and advised me a lot, particularly with the mental part of the game," Reasor said. "I know when I hit the ball now, what I can do with it. I know when to gamble and when not to gamble. Billy has been a real big help."

Club pros Paul Harney and Terry Wilcos slipped into a second place tie at 67, one stroke off the pace, and six other players had 68s.

NOTICEABLE GROUP

More than half the field — 83 of 150 — matched or bettered par Thursday, but there were some noticeable exceptions.

Palmer and Jack Nicklaus shot 73s, Dave Hill 75, Gary Player and Sam Snead 76 and Frank Beard 78. A 69 by PGA champion Dave Stockton, Casper's 70 and U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin's 71 were the best by the "name" players.

Nicklaus said "I just didn't play well. It's as simple as that." Palmer blamed his 73 on the same putting miseries

A's Must Quit Their Fireworks

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

OAKLAND — Nothing seems to be going right these days for the Oakland Atheltics. In addition to slumping on the field, the A's have had their fireworks display license revoked.

Oakland fire marshal Lawrence Toellner made the ruling yesterday, noting that the fire works recently touched off three grass fires.

Owner Charlie Finley had the fireworks exploded whenever an Oakland player hit a home run or when the A's won a game.

Football

WASHINGTON — The Washington Redskins yesterday acquired offensive tackle Steve Wright from the New York Giants who placed the seven-year veteran on waivers earlier this week.

Wright, a former University of Alabama lineman, played with Green Bay before his troubled stint with the Giants.

Horse Racing

DEL MAR, Calif. — Bill Shoemaker'a attack on the victory record of Johnny Longden seems to be picking up as he comes closer.

Yesterday, Shoemaker managed two winners in five starts and he will be aboard five more mounts today. His two wins yesterday raised his personal mark to 6,023 wins, nine short of Longden's 6,032.

In the past week Shoemaker has ridden 20 mounts and booted home eight winners.

Tennis

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. — Alexander Metreveli of Russia will face top-seeded Rod Laver of Australia tomorrow in the semi-finals of the Marlboro Open tennis championship. Yesterday Metreveli knocked off Dick Stockton of Garden City, N.Y., the last American in the men's field of the $25,000 event.

Basketball

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh Condors of the American Basketball Association announced yesterday the signing of 6-foot-7 rookie forward Dennis Witkowski of Fordham University.

Witkowski, 23, a native of Woodbridge, N.J., was one of 12 rookies invited to training camp by Condors ' general manager Marty Blake.

Hockey

NEW YORK — The National Hockey League and the Columbia Broadcasting System reached a new two-year agreement yesterday for televising the NHL Game of the Week.

Beginning Jan. 10, a total of 13 regular season games will be shown through April 4. The Stanley Cup telecasts begin Sunday, April 11, with a maximum of six games scheduled for coverage.

GOLF

which hape bugged him for some time.

Reasor, who caddied for Palmer in the 1966 U.S. Open — when Palmer blew a seven-stroke lead on the last nine holes and eventually lost a playoff to Casper — needed just 26 putts in his six-birdie, no-bogey round.

HITTING WELL

He said he was hitting the ball so well "It was almost virtually impossible to shoot a bad score," but there was a time not long ago Reasor considered giving up pro golf and becoming a full-time school teacher.

That was in 1968 when he failed to qualify through the PGA tournament school at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

"I had to play a whole year at that course and then I just made it through in 1969," Reasor said. "I went for nine months on my own, then I decided I couldn't cut it. But I got a sponsor."

$60,000 PRIZE

In his 15-month pro career, Reasor has won $8,988. His biggest paycheck was $2,125 at the Canadian Open where he finished 13th this year. The Dow Jones winner will earn $60,000.

There were 10 players at 69 and 16 at 70.

After today's second round, the field will be trimmed to the low 70 and ties for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday, which will be nationally-televised (ABC).

49ers Will Face Formidable Task

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers leave their training camp here for good today after one final practice workout before Saturday night's exhibition game with the Denver Broncos in Eugene, Ore.

The 49ers' special team will face a formidable enemy in the form of Bronco Bill Thompson, who last year had the highest American Football League average in both punt returns and kickoff returns, 11.5 yards and 28.5 yards respectively.

Thompson will try to practice his skills against the 49ers, who last year had the poorest specialty teams in the National Football League.

Coach Dick Nolan indicated that veteran quarterback John Brodie will start against the Broncos. He also hinted that Brodie might go more than the first half for the first time this year. In previous pre-season games with Cleveland and Miami, Brodie was taken out at halftime, replaced by No. 2 signal-caller Steve Spurrier.

Denver Ace May Miss 49er Tilt

DENVER (UPI)—The Denver Broncos leave for Eugene, Ore., today with their No. 1 college draft choice Bobby Anderson on the doubtful list for Saturday night's exhibition game against the San Francisco 49ers.

Coach Lou Saban had expected the University of Colorado running back to be ready, but said an infected knee had not responded properly to treatment.

An Experiment At Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Bay Meadows will introduce — on an experimental basis — a $2 exacta on the first race when 78-day thoroughbred racing opens next Friday.

The $2 exacta will replace the daily double, and the public will be asked as the season progresses to "vote" on which they prefer.

A $5 exacta will continue to be sold on the ninth and final race each day.

FISH AND GAME

Gun Club Pier Reports Action

By AL GIDDINGS

Frank Spencer from the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier called me this past week to give me the following rundown on the bass angler activity by those who either fish or launch boats from the pier area. Anglers fishing the bridge who troll with pet spoons and bug-eye jigs have had good success. Si Testa has been limiting out most days when he goes along with his guests. Bud Stocking, the DeLongs, Ward Smith, Rod Jerome, C. Lawrence, F. Schaefer and their guests have all been doing well too either fishing the Richmond Bridge or the Brothers Islands.

The fish are from five to 15 pounds on the average with an occasional fish in the 20 pound bracket. W. Demerow had connected fishing from the pier on three occasions.

Frank also reported two salmon brought into the pier by anglers fishing the Red Rock area more or less located on the Richmond side of the bridge. Salmon fishing at California City could break wide open any day now!

INDIAN SUMMER

Tomales Bay outside the mouth is still going good. Salmon in the 20 pound bracket are not uncommon at all. Pt. Reyes commercials have taken some big fish with indications showing that the big fish should be off Duxberry and Muir Beach anytime from now on! We should be getting into the periods of Indian summer weather with calmer seas. Just because you got seasick your first time out doesn't mean it'll happen everytime. Your first trip, some nervousness, and being aware of each and every swell, all tend to cause this. After a few trips when you reach the point of just waiting for a strike and all else is forgotten, it's rare to become seasick! Eat a hearty breakfast and just think of the big fish you are going to have on any minute!

Want some sport from the shore? Two ladies called and excitedly said they had been fishing White House Pool at Pt. Reyes Station. They hooked some huge leopard sharks, landing six, the largest weighed 24 lbs. Use bait, a light rod, a wire leader and give it a go. And if you're not too finickey, try cooking the fish, not bad!!

Have you seen the ducks around? It looks like a good years with ducks already arriving. Saw about ninety mallards in Stemple Creek, about a hundred sprig in Nicasio Dam, and sprig numbers all the way to 10,000 have been reported in the Sears Pt. area!

GOOD DUCK CLUB

You'd better call Walt Freitas, the President of the Marin County Chapter of Duck's Unlimited or stop at the Western Sport Shop in San Rafael and contact John Eberhart, who is the D.U. membership chairman. Being a member of Duck's Unlimited makes you a contributor to this fine cause; and it also gives you contacts for joining a good duck club. The dues are $10 yearly, you receive a D.U. magazine every other month. They also have a fall stag banquet, and a spring ball and fund raising party for members and guests.

Losers Vs. Winners On Pro Grid

By BOB DI PIETRO
UPI Sports Writer

The winners who feel like losers and the losers who feel like winners clash tonight in an pre-season contest in a brand-new stadium before a sell-out crowd and a national television audience.

The New York Giants, who displayed more liabilities than assets in last Sunday's 28-24 win over their intra-city rivals, the Jets, tangle with the Pittsburgh Steelers, who snapped a regular-and-pre-season string of 15 straight losses with a 20-13 victory over the vaunted Minnesota Vikings two weeks ago.

The televised game (ABC (6 p.m. PDT) will be the first football game played in Pittsburgh's new Three Rivers Stadium. A sellout crowd of 51,000 is expected.

SCRAMBLER HURT

Dick Shiner, an ex-Steeler, may get the starting call at quarter-back for the Giants groin injury.

Terry Bradshaw, pro football's No. 1 draft pick last spring, who was awarded the game ball on the strength of his 12-of-30 passing performance against the Vikings, will be directing the Steeler attack again in his effort to win the first-string quarterback job from Notre Dame alumnus Terry Hanratty.

SATURDAY GAMES

In Saturday's action, Baltimore plays Miami, Cleveland tussles with Cincinnati, Dallas challenges Houston, Los Angeles is at San Diego, Chicago visits St. Louis, San Francisco plays Denver, Kansas City collides with Atlanta, and Boston and New Orleans meet on the neutral turf of Jackson, Miss.

On Sunday the Jets play Minnesota and Green Bay takes on Oakland. Monday night's action pits Philadelphia against Detroit.

Umpire Weyer Hurt By Foul

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Umpire Lee Weyer suffered a possible fracture of the right arm when he was struck by a foul-tip off the bat of San Diego's Earl Wilson in the second inning of Thursday night's game here with the Chicago Cubs.

Wilson was the Padres' leadoff batter at the time and the two-strike foul hit Weyer near the elbow. He was taken to a local hospital for x-rays.

Marinites In Regional Softball

Its lineup laced with Marinites, Paul Koss Supply opens play tonight in the Northern Pacific Regional Softball Tournament in Stockton, the last step in the climb to the National Championships.

Paul Koss Supply, with a 35-20 season mark, will meet Oakland in the opener.

Three of the team's four top hitters and the squad's opening game pitcher are Marinites. Leading the club in hitting is San Rafael's Nolan Wilson who has a .401 mark in 55 games. He's ripped two homers and has 26 runs batted in. Also in the lineup will be Ron Reagan (.292, 4 homers, 25 rbi) and Chuck Yoakum (.255, 1 homer, 17 rbi) both of San Rafael.

Opening on the mound will be Joe Nystrom, who has a 13-5 mark and a fine 1.08 earned run average.

Other Marinites on the team include infielder Greg Schaefer (.188, 10 rbi) and manager Don Koss.

The winner of the tournament earns a berth in the National Championships scheduled for Clearwater, Fla. in mid-September. Koss Supply finished fifth in last year's regionals.

Leonard Hits A Dazzling Practice Run At Ontario

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—Joe Leonard pushed his Johnny Lightning Colt turbo-Ford to a dazzling 177.2 miles an hour in practice runs at the Ontario Motor Speedway yesterday and teammate Al Unser averaged 174 mph for 20 laps.

The Johnny Lightning teammates were only two of 17 drivers who have managed laps of 170 mph or more during the six days of practice for the Sept. 6, California 500. Bobby Unser has gone 171.42 and Mario Andretti 173.08 while Mark Donohue has hit 172.74, Lloyd Ruby 173, Pete Revson 173.08 and Johnny Rutherford 175.4.

Several drivers praised the 36-year-old Leonard's 177.2 mph round as he passed Donohue in turn one and Bobby Unser and Gordon Johncock in turn two.

Ruby hit his 173 mark by pulling into eLonard's slipstream to cut down on wind resistance.

Al Unser's 20 laps included only one under 173 as he was caught in traffic and could get only to 169.8.

George Follmer, Arcadia, Calif., previously banned by the U.S. Auto Club for running in unauthorized races, checked in saying he had been reinstated for the California 500. Follmer said he was called by Bill Smyth, executive and competition director of USAC who gave him the go ahead. Follmer will drive the STP Hawk turbo-Ford Mario Andretti drove to victory in the 1969 Indianapolis 500.

Greg Weld, Independence, Mo., hit the wall in the only incident of the day. He was not injured and the car was not seriously damaged.

Cal Aerial Attack Impresses Willsey

BERKELEY (UPI)—The California Bears are supposed to have a tough ground attack, but it was the aerial game that impressed coach Ray Willsey after the first contact workout.

"Offensively, throwing and catching are the best thing we're doing," Willsey said Thursday. He also lauded defensive guard O.Z. White who stod out in pass-rushing drills.

INDIANS INJURED

STANFORD (UPI) — Stanford's first contact drill left fullback Hillary Shockley and flanker Demea Washington with pulled hamstrings.

All four should be healthy by Monday.

Coach John Ralston lauded middle linebacker Jeff Slemon and quarterbacks Jim Plunkett, Jesse Freitas and Mike Boryla after Thursday's drill.

BRONCOS REPORT

SANTA CLARA (UPI) — Twenty-two lettermen were among 73 varsity candidates Thursday as the University of Santa Clara opened practice. Star of the show is expected to be 268-pound quarterback Dan Pastorini, who tossed for 17 td's and punted for a 42.6 yard average last year.

FAMOUS FULLBACKS

CORVALLIE (UPI) — Aregon State is famous for its fullbacks and this year should be no exception.

One bit of bad news was that letterman offensive guard Dan Zellick was out for the year with a shoulder injury.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1970 with 125 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1833 the British Parliament barred slavery throughout the Empire.

In 1922 a New York realty company paid $100 to sponsor the first radio commercial.

In 1968 the Democratic party nominated Hubert Humphrey to run for president as anti-war demonstrators protested in Chicago streets.

A thought for the day: Lytton Strachey said, "Perhaps of all the creations of man language is the most astonishing."

Disturbed Receive Home Treatment

NEW YORK (UPI) —A new approach to the age-old problem of the emotionally disturbed is being inaugurated by the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens.

Formerly, adults who could not adjust to family and community life were sent for treatment to institutions where they might remain indefinitely.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Robert Ewen's New Book Best Of The Year On Opening Leads

In 1865, Queen Victoria of England admired "Alice in Wonderland" so much that she put an order in for the author's next book. It turned out to be a mathematical work, "An Elementary Treatise on Determinants." It worked the other way for Robert Ewen, whose "Opening Leads" is the best bridge book of the year. (Ewen's first book was a monograph on "Testing and Fair Employment.") Today's hand is taken from Ewen's more recent book.

WHAT LEAD

Imagine that you are West, on lead against South's contract of four hearts. What would you lead?

The singleton club is a waste of time. If your partner has a club trick or any way of gaining the lead, you will surely defeat the contract since you have three sure trump tricks.

Many otherwise sane citizens would lead one of the high trumps "to look at the dummy." The rules of the game permit you to look at the dummy no matter which card you lead.

WASTED OPPORTUNITY

Let's see what happens if you waste your opportunity by leading the king of hearts. Youthen switch to a diamond, but you are too late.

South takes the king of diamonds and leads a heart to drive out your queen. You return the queen of diamonds to force out the ace.

West leads another heart to drive out your ace. And your return the ten of diamonds to make South ruff. But now South leads his last trump to draw your deuce of hearts. And then South safely cashes his tricks in the black suits.

DIAMOND LEAD

You win the race if you begin by leading the six of diamonds, forcing out the king. South leads a trump, and you take the queen. You return a diamond to force out the ace. South leads another trump, and you take the king.

Now you lead a third diamond, and make South ruff. If he leads a third heart, you take the act of hearts and lead a fourth diamond to make South use up his last trump. Your deuce of hearts will then be the last trump, and you will take your trump and the fifth diamond to collect 200 points.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ — A J
♥ — 10 9 6 5 4
♦ — A K
♣ — K Q 10 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

You would prefer to open 1-no-trump if one of the clubs were a diamond or a spade, since then you would have 17 points in high cards and only one doubleton. With two doubletons, prefer to bid a suit rather than no-trump.

Car 'Just For Fun'

Income A Concern? Bonds Are Remedy

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Should I hold General Telephone for recovery or sell and take a sizable loss? I understand its Sylvania division has been a drag on profits for a good many years. Now I read that the company has not kept up with service on its Southern California telephone network. Would I be better off in bonds? — T.L.

A. Expenditures for improvement and expansion of its telephone service reached $846 million last year and are expected to approximate $950 million this year. For the 1970-74 period management believes the company will spend $5.5 billion for this purpose. Although GTE has a reputation of providing poor service in this area, it is apparent that the company is making major efforts to reverse this image. Manufacturing operations, to which SYL conrtibuted 51 per cent of sales and 34 per cent of profits, were about half as profitable as telephone operations in 1969. In the first half of 1970 a 15-week strike at one subsidiary and a slowdown in sales of color TV tubes reduced the profit still further so that only 2.1 per cent of sales flowed through to net as opposed to 5 per cent in 1969. Shares have recovered somewhat from the sharply depressed levels of May and June and now yield about 6 per cent. A switch to the bond market where yields of 8 per cent and better are readily available is justified, if income is a major concern.

Q. I am a widow and would like to invest in Dayton Power and Light. I have never bought bonds or stock before. Can you give me information? —A. S.

A. There are more than a dozen security dealers located in the capital city near you. Certainly one would be willing to assist you in your initial investment. Dayton Power and Light common stock is primarily attractive for the individual seeking high income. Near-term growth, however, may be restricted by a heavy schedule of capital expenditures and a 9 per cent increase in common shares later this year. Interest charges on long-term debt increased 40 per cent in the 12 months through June, 1970.

Advances Hold Lead Near Close

NEW YORK (UPI) — Advances held a wide lead over declines in active trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

Approaching the last hour the Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was up 5.89 at 765.68 — off slightly from an earlier high of more than seven points.

Advances led declines, 921 to 328, among the 1,531 issues traded.

The four-hour volume of 10,210,000 shares was up slightly from the 9,570,000 shares in the comparable span yesterday.

Analysts said the market was reacting to a combination of encouraging factors. They include a cut in the prime interest rate by a small New England bank leading some investors to believe that the large banks will follow, a Wall Street Journal story that many analysts feel the bear market is over, and delayed reaction to the announcement yesterday that the index of leading business indicators moved up in July.

"Rumors that this or that bank was going to cut its rate have been flying all day," one analyst said. Many large banks have denied they are contemplating a cut.

The Commerce Department announcement regarding the business index said the gain was the largest since the spring of 1969. The index is a statistical composite of eight business reports that usually point the way to future changesc in the economy.

Natomas, Xerox, Boeing, Occidental and Penn Central were actively traded issues.

Most major groups moved in fractions.

Prices were firm in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

CUMMINS ENGINE CO., INC. of Columbus, Ind. has purchased certain assets and rights to manufacture the Coot all-terrain utility vehicle formerly manufactured in California. It has been successful in the agricultural, hunting and fishing markets and other industries where transportation over rugged, roadless terrain is needed. The purchase includes inventories, worldwide manufacturing rights, patents and trademarks. It will be produced and marketed by Cummings' Frigiking Division in Dallas.

THE WICKES CORP. has announced net income for the second fiscal quarter at $2.8 million or 40 cents a share, compared with $3.9 million or 58 cents a share for last year's second quarter. The company has made a $2 million expenditure in the manufactured housing division. It predicts that 250,000 modular housing units will be manufactured by 1975.

Mrs. Priest's Drive For Funds Defended

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The campaign fund-raising tactics of State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest were defended by some bankers today while others viewed them as a subtle form of pressure.

Milton G. Gordon, the Democratic nominee facing Mrs. Priest in the November election, earlier accused the former U.S. Treasurer of soliciting campaign "kickbacks" from bankers holding state deposits.

"Ridiculous," countered Mrs. Priest.

Her request for campaign funds was contained in an Aug. 3 letter to potential contributors, including bankers, which set a "minimum budget" of $75,000 for the incumbent treasurer's Northern California Re-election campaign.

The letter noted "corporation checks are acceptable" and specified the amount each recipient was to send to her campaign leaders.

One defender of the letter was Howard W. Rathburn, president of the First National Bank of San Jose, who said he felt the letter was "helpful."

He added, "I don't think it's in the nature of coercion. It gives you kind of a ball-park estimate."

Some other Northern California bankers were reluctant to discuss the letter for publication. A few expressed concern they would lose their state deposits if they publicly objected to being solicited for funds for Mrs. Priest's campaign.

"The reason they (bankers) won't talk about the letter is the treasurer has total discretion over what's in the banks," said one banking executive. "She can find some excuse over the next year to take it out."

"I never got a letter quite like this," said another banker.

Mrs. Priest, a Republican and former U.S. Treasurer during the Eisenhower Administration, replied "there has been no pressure on bankers. It's like any other fund raising campaign. We may ask people for funds but they don't have to give...It makes no difference in their deposits."

Normally, the state keeps in banks about $225 million in time deposits (similar to savings accounts" and about $40 million in demand deposits (checking accounts). The deposits are spread through about 115 banks.

Arthur J. Dolan Jr., Northern California finance chairman of Mrs. Priest's campaign and a San Francisco investment banking executive, said he sent the letters only to persons who had given her contributions in 1966.

Robert M. Eberhardt, president of the Bank of Stockton and past president of the California Bankers Association, said he had recveied a letter but refused to contribute because he gave at a $100 per plate fund raising dinner for Mrs. Priest last September in Los Angeles.

"I think I had two places at the dinner," he said. "I think we've done our part in attending her dinner. I'm certainly not responding to a letter that was sent out."

Eberhardt said California bankers are solicited for campaign funds by candidates for a variety of offices.

N.Y. Stock Rule May Be Illegal

CHICAGO (UPI) — The anti-rebate rule of the New York Stock Exchange may be in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, a three-judge federal appeals court hanel has ruled.

The decision came on appeal of a $29 million suit filed by the Lewis D. Thill Securities Corp. of Elm Grove, Wis., charging the exchange with engaging in an unlawful conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce and trade.

The suit's main complaint concerned a rule which prohibits members of the New York Stock Exchange from sharing with a nonmember any commission earned from the purchase or sale of securities.

Thill contended the rule cost them $7 million in commissions and compensation.

Split On Span Transit Plans

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — A major split between the Golden Gate Bridge District's consultants on its long-range transit plan broke into the open last night.

The issue was the old proposal that Marin commuters to San Francisco get there via a rapid transit connection across San Rafael Bay to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station in Richmond.

Kaiser Engineers of Oakland, which is doing the engineering aspects of the transit plan, argued that the Richmond loop would not be used by Marin commuters to San Francisco, and that such a loop would use up all of the reserve capacity in BARTs' transbay tube from Oakland to San Francisco.

But Okamoto-Liskamm, the San Francisco urban design consultants for the bridge district's transit plan, argued that further study was needed to see if a Richmond loop would not be the best solution precisely because it would not move commuters to San Francisco. This would save both Southern Marin and San Francisco from the increased development that would be inevitable if a rapid transit connected the two counties directly, they said.

Further study of the Richmond loop, the consultants estimated, would cost $49,165, and delay completion of the transit plan from Oct. 21 to Dec. 3. The plan was ordered by the 1969 Legislature, and is due for submission to the 1971 Legislature in April.

The split between the consultants came as they presented preliminary patronage and cost estimates for four other possible transit systems across the Golden Gate. Their presentation was before the district's joint transportation and finance-auditing committee in Board of Education offices. About 50 persons attended.

The other systems under study are labeled: Alternative 1 — a "fixed guideway" on an exclusive right-of-way under Geary Boulevard, over a second deck on the bridge and north to Novato generallly along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad alignment; Alternative 2 — also a "fixed guideway" but under Columbus Avenue to Sausalito via a tube under the bay, and then up the same alignment to Novato; Alternative 3 — a bus rapid transit to an exclusive right-of-way under Columbus and the Marina to a second deck, then to Novato along the railroad alignment; and Alternative 4 — a "fixed guideway" using the tube in Alternative 2, but in Marin there would be an aerial structure through the Ross Valley to San Anselmo, then through a tunnel to the Civic Center and north to Novato.

The Richmond loop was sugested as a fifth possibility by the citizens panel advising the urban design consultants.

The six bridge district directors made no attempt last night to resolve the conflict between the consultants.

The preliminary figures for the Richmond Loop were drawn by the consultants under a $9,890 special budget voted by directors to explore the patronage expected for the loop.

Kaiser is being paid $375,000 for its part in the transit plan, and Okamoto-Liskamm is being paid $145,000.

The transit plan will look ahead to the year 2015, when Marin's population is expected to exceed 500,000, compared with about 205,000 today.

The head of the Kaiser team, Gifford Randall, said that preliminary cost estimates for each alternative were $500 million for alternatives 1, 2 and 4, $250 million for the third alternative, and $100 mlilion for the Richmond loop. His estimates, close to estimates made in earlier studies, included only the costs of right-of-way, stations

MARIN COUNTY

Marin County's basic tax rate for this year will be $2.575, an 18-cent jump from last year, but the overall raise will be 31.5 cents because the board of education tax levy must be added.

This report, by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, will go to the Marin County Board of Supervisors next Tuesday for approval. Mitchell had previously estimated the rate somewhere between $2.50 and $2.60.

Last year's tax rate of $2.395 included the Marin County Board of Education tax levy. This year,the board of education administers its own budget.

Mitchell said the board of education tax levy of 13.5 cents must be added to this year's $2.575, for comparative purposes. This bringst he overall county rate to $2.71 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The county library tax will go up from last year's 20 cents to 22.5 cents. This is levied in all areas not served by city libraries.

The structural fire protection tax will go from 31 cents to 34 cents this year. This is levied in all unincorporated areas that are not protected by cities and special fire districts.

COTATI

A 1970-71 budget of $476,052, up $166,069 from last year, was adopted last night by the Cotati City Council with the tax rate increasing by 25 cents for some residents.

The budget and tax increase reflected plans for a major overhaul oft he sewage system. Residents in sections of the city not previously served by sewers will see a tax increase from $1 to $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation.

Residents already served by sewers will continue to pay $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation.

The budget included a 5 per cent raise for city employees and an increase of $166,069 over the 1969-70 budget of $289,983.

MILL VALLEY

The Mill Valley City Council last night adopted its 1970-71 operating budget of $1,833,585, and set the tax rate at $2.929 per $100 assessed valuation, a jump of 50.4 cents or more than 20 per cent over last year's rate.

Last night's special session was a culmination of nearly three months' work by the council to pare down the tax rate, the highest of any city in Marin County.

Residents paid $2.425 per $100 assessed valuation last year, surpassing the second highest city, San Anselmo, by more than 17 cents.

This year, the difference is even greater. San Anselmo's tax bite jumped to $2.35, but Mill Valley last night increased its lead to 57.9 cents.

By contrast, the rate in Tiburon is 80 cents. In San Rafael it's 94 cents and in Novato, 99 cents.

Since state law limits general law cities such as Mill Valley to assess $1 per $100 for general fund operations, the city has had to resort to seven special override taxes to gain sufficient funds to operate.

According to City Mgr. William H. Cunningham, only two of the special funds have ceilings such as the general fund — library, 30 cents, and drainage and flood control, 20 cents.

Like last year, this year's library fund is at the 30-cent legal limit. The drainage fund stands at 8.9 cents.

The other funds have no limit. This year's levies, with last year's in parenthesis, are: bond interest and redemption, 21.7 cents (20.5); retirement, 30.3 (17); sanitation, 35.1 (20.5); parks and recreation, 59.5 (39.5); and planning, 12.3 (16).

In order to give the ailing general fund a much-needed money transfusion, Cunningham has followed a practice common, he said, in many cities — assessing the special funds for

NOVATO TAX RATE HIKE — 18 CENTS

The 99 cents per $100 assessed valuation tax rate approved Tuesday by the Novato City Council for fiscal 1970-71 was 18 cents higher than the rate for 1969-70.

Wednesday's Independent-Journal reported that the tax rate had been increased by 24 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Israeli Jets Hit Arab Guerrillas

Israeli jets struck twice at Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan today. High Israeli government sources said in Tel Aviv they were convinced that Egypt agreed to the Middle East cease-fire only to prepare for an attack across the Suez Canl.

The cease-fire continued to hold along the waterway as it has since it went into effect Aug. 7 at the urging of the United States. But there were military exchanges between the Israelis and the Palestinian guerrillas, who have not accepted the standstill.

Agnew's Cambodia Promise

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew promised Cambodia continued American aid today but said that the United States "would not become militarily involved."

At the same time, he said that his visit to the beleaguered Indochinese country demonstrated to the Communists that America "would not stand idly by."

An official of the Cambodian high command commented that "the eyes of all the world now know America is our close friend."

Agnew stopped over in Phnom Penh, the capital of Cambodia, for a state lunch and talks with Premier Lon Nol en route from Saigon to Thailand, the last stop in his Far Eastern tour.

NO COMMITMENTS

"I made no commitments whatsoever," he told newsmen in his plane after leaving Phnom Penh. "I explained that we would not become militarily involved."

He said that he also told the Cambodians the United States will continue to supply military aid, however.

"If my visit gave the Communists the impression that we would not stand idly by . . . that is exactly what we had in mind," he told a questioner who asked whether his visit might be seen as contributing to an escalation of the U.S. involvement.

"I would reply that I made this visit at the invitation of the government of Cambodia and at the request of President Nixon," he said.

The visit to Phnom Penh had all the pomp and circumstance of a state occasion. A high Cambodian official told newsmen:

"GREAT MOMENT"

"For the Lon Nol government, this is a great moment. It proves to the Cambodian people that Lon Nol has been able to woo and win powerful allies such as the Americans."

Agnew said he found Lon Nol "an extraordinarily well-organized and impressive individual" who reported Cambodia has a good pacification program in progress.

The vice president said Lon Nol told him the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had experienced "very little success in getting any infrastructure" established in Cambodia.

Agnew said he knew of no plans for the United States to

Senate Votes Down $5.2 Billion Cut In Defense Budget

Upper Chamber, However, Imposes A $66 Billion Spending Ceiling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate voted down, 42 to 31, today a bipartisan move to cut $5.2 billion from President Nixon's proposed defense budget by imposing a $66 billion spending ceiling for the current fiscal year.

The President's budget anticipates spending $71.2 billion. Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Charles Mathias, R-Md., sponsored the economy amendment which would have imposed a reduction of about 7 per cent.

Despite growing sentiment for a shift in national priorities away from space and defense to human resources, a Senate majority decided that the continuation of the Vietnam war prevented major changes at this point.

"The war's on now," Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee said.

Proxmire and Mathias contended that military manpower, overseas defense installations and costly weapons like the B1 bomber and MBT70 tank were ripe for cutbacks in a time of national inflation and pressing domestic needs.

With today's vote, the Defense Department was practically home free in its efforts to head off major alterations in the $19.2 billion military procurement bill. All major challenges to the bill have been rejected by sizable margins in five weeks of debate and voting.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., described as nonsense Nixon's contention that he had begun to change national priorities with a budget allocating 37 per cent for defense compared to 41 per cent for human resources.

Eagleton said Nixon's figures improperly included Social Security payments and other trust fund outlays that constitute more than half of the nation's expenditures for human resources. He noted that the trust funds are self-sustaining and the money is not spent at the discretion of the federal government.

Excluding trust funds, Eagleton said the government was spending only five cents of every federal dollar for health, three cents for education, two cents for housing and urban renewal and fifty cents for defense and space.

"Unfortunately," he said, "the shift to date is largely an illusion, accomplished by fiscal sleight of hand... this clearly shows that there has been no change in our national priorities."

Viets Down Copters, 36 Americans Missing

SAIGON (UPI)—The U. S. Command today reported the loss of two more helicopters and an F100 jet fighter to Viet Cong and North Vietnamese ground fire. U. S. B52 bombers pounded Communist buildups in Laos, Cambodia and northern sections of South Vietnam.

A total of 36 Americans were killed or missing in the helicopter crashes.

The Command said in a delayed report the F100 Supersabre was downed near Dak To, 280 miles north-northwest of Saigon last Friday. One OH1 Helicopter was shot down near the Gulf of Thailand close to the southern tip of South Vietnam Thursday. The crew escaped injury. Another Huey copter was hit by ground fire near An Khe, 258 miles north-northeast of Saigon. One crewman was injured.

The reports of the latest helicopter crashes followed Thursday's announcement that a big troop-carrying CH47 Chinook helicopter was hit by a Communist rocket grenade on the northern coast in one of the worst such crashes of the war. A total of 36 Americans were killed or missing in the crash of the Chinook and the downing of a Huey copter 87 miles southwest of Saigon, both on Wednesday.

Communiques said U. S. B52s carried out three missions over South Vietnam today, two 52 and 53 miles south-southwest of DanNang and the third in an area 105 miles north-northeast of Saigon. Other B52s struck over Cambodia and along the Ho Chi Minh Trail of Eastern Laos.

The U. S. Command said stepped-up shellings by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners wounded 14 Americans at five U. S. outposts overnight. The heaviest such attack was a 30-round mortar barrage aginst a 101st Airborne Division position 24 miles west of Hue near Artillery Base O'Reilly, an embattled outpost 12 miles from the Laotian border.

Reports said there were no major ground actions involving American troops.

South Vietnamese spokesmen report government militiamen killed 22 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Thursday in fighting just inside the Cambodian border about 62 miles west of Saigon. Two of the militiamen were killed and 11 wounded.

South Vietnamese Rangers early today turned back a Communist assault on their position 48 miles west-southwest of Saigon and killed 18 of the attackers, government spokesmen said.

Red China Note

MOSCOW (UPI — Soviet leader Leonid I. Breshnev appealed to Communist China today to reconcile differences with the Soviet Union. He also restated Kremlin demands that Israel withdraw from all occupied Arab territories.

The Communist party general secretary issued strongly worded statements on Soviet policy toward China and the Middle East, stressing opportunities for peace and "normalization of relations" in both areas, in a speech at Alma Ata, Kazakhstan.

In one of the longest and most conciliatory appeals to Peking uttered by any Soviet leader in recent months, Brezhnev denied that Moscow had concluded a nonaggression pact with West Germany in order to free its hands for struggle with China.

'Hair' Too Much

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI — President Nixon was with it Thursday night when the performers at the Los Angeles Music Center sang old show tunes — but they lost him when they struck up the music from the rock hit "Hair."

"That's the only selection daddy didn't recognize," giggled Tricia, who acted as a stand-in for her ailing mother, Pat, at a first night performance of the "Musical Theatre Cavalcade."

She clued in her dad when dancer Juliet Prowse went into bumps and grinds to the tune of "The Age of Aquarius."

Tricia's favorite during the nostalgic revue of 200 years of musical hits was Jerome Kern's "Old Man River."

The president and his daughter flew to Los Angeles with a party of cabinet members and their wives, all in formal attire. They mingled with movie stars and socialites.

Legion Explosion

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — An entrance to the American Legion Memorial Hall in downtown Seattle was rocked by an explosion early today which caused an estimated $2,500 damage.

There were no injuries. Windows in the two-story building were shattered in the immediate area from a charge which went off in the left front corner of one entrance to the building.

Some structural damage was reported. Police blocked off the area for a time to search for any other charges or bombs that might have been set. None was found.

Taping Canceled

NEW YORK (UPI) Taping of the last hour of the "Merv Griffin Show" for Monday night was called off Thursday after demonstrators disrupted proceedings by waving placards and shouting slogans demanding "equality for black artists" on television.

The taping of the 90-minute show had been in progress for about a half hour when about 60 protesters in the audience began blowing wooden whistles, waving picket signs and otherwise interfering with the program.

Policemen were called to the midtown Manhattan theater where the performance was being taped but no arrests were made.

Premier Emilio Colombo and his cabinet, in their first major action since taking office 23 days ago, imposed a wide range of higher taxes by decree Thursday night in an effort to keep the bottom from dropping out of the Itanial national budget.

Jane's Warns Of Russ Sea Supremacy Drive

LONDON (UPI) — Jane's Fighting Ships said today Russia has begun a "drive to attain supreme seapower" and called on the United States and Britain to build navies to keep pace.

Editor Raymond Blackman said in the foreword of the 73rd edition of the authoritative world naval reference book, published today, that the current Soviet section of the journal was 70 per cent larger than the section last year.

At present, the Soviet fleet is second only to its U.S. counterpart. The editor said the U.S. Navy was plagued by the growing obsolescence of much of its fleet, which dates back to World War II.

Blackman said it was significant that after concentrating on nuclear-powered submarines for several years, Russia was going back to building conventional subs as well.

He estimated that the Soviet navy included 75 nuclear-powered submarines and 320 diesel-driven models.

Variety Is Keynote To State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Persons attending the 1970 California State Fair can choose between carnival rides, John Birch Society pamphlets, rock band concerts or a barnyard full of livestock.

This new diversity is being credited for the increased success of the 117th annual fair. Attendance is up over last year.

Dow Chemical Co., one of the original "establishment" targets of the "new left" has an exhibit booth showing colored slides of its products.

There are no pickets at Dow nor at a nearby booth staffed by members of the John Birch Society, who are eager to pass out their pamphlets.

Across the midway in a section called "The Age of Aquarius," longhairs and beards operate "head" shops selling cigarette papers and black lights—merchandise often associated with the drug subculture—and posters poking fun at Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The youthful section also features a light show in a tent, nightly rock concerts and leather and metal craft shops. It cost 50 cents to get in.

Meanwhile, animal lovers can see prize bulls and dairy cattle, plus swine, rabbits, sheep, goats, chickens and geese.

Attendance at the fair, which opened Aug. 21 and will close Sept. 9, is up this year over last, despite a refusal by the legislature to give the extravaganza more operating funds.

Gang Threatens Revolutionary Tactics If Demands Not Met

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — An underground group claiming credit for the bombing at the University of Wisconsin says that if its demands are not met by Oct. 30 it will take "revolutionary measures of an intensity never before seen in this country . . . open warfare, kidnapping of important officials and even assassination."

A statement by the group, which calls itself "The New Year's Gang, " appeared Thursday in a special edition of the Madison underground newspaper, Kaleidoscope.

The statement said the bombing of the UW Army Mathematics Research Center, which killed a researcher and injured four other persons early Monday, was "part of a worldwide struggle to defeat American imperialism."

The FBI which is coordinating an investigation of the blast by some 80 agents and officers, declined comment on either the Kaleidoscope report or the investigation.

"The battle cry against imperialism was raised once again as the mathematics research center of the U.S. Army was struck by revolutionary cadre of The New Year's Gang," the statement read.

"We see our achievement as more than just the destruction of one building. We see it as part of a worldwide struggle to defeat American imperialism.

"The vanguard of the revolution demands the immediate release of three Black Panthers arrested in Milwaukee, the abolition of ROTC, and the elimination of male supremacist women's hours in dormitories on the Wisconsin campus.

Kaleidoscope reported earlier this year The New Year's Gang was responsible for the theft of a light plane and the attempted bombing of the Badger Army Ordinance Works at Baraboo, Wis., last New Year's Day. The bombs were found undetonated, on the grounds of the plant, which makes ammunition for the Vietnam War.

The statement in Kaleidoscope expressed regret over the death of Robert F. Fassnacht, 33, a research physicist and father of three, who was killed in the Monday predawn blast which also damaged nearby buildings and could be heard for miles.

Span Board, Advisors Split On Transit Ideas

and construction. They did not include the costs of operation, rolling stock or serving bond debt.

He stressed also that his estimates were based on costs in 1970, while the earliest possible completion of a transit system generally is thought to be at least eight years in the future.

Randall said that patronage on a Richmond loop would be 10,000 persons in the peak weekday hour, but that only 2,000 of these would go on to San Francisco. Eight thousand would get off for jobs in the East Bay, he said.

"It just doesn't carry people to San Francisco, " he insisted, terming the loop "backwards from a logical solution." While he said the loop thus "really has insufficient merit to warrant further study," Randall said he was willing to do the additional study to satisfy its proponents.

But he predicted that the loop would "do nothing for Southern Marin, where there will be tremendous pressures generated for some solution to relieve the congestion into San Francisco."

He also predicted that BART would not allow Marinites to use up the reserve capacity of its transbay tube, a reserve that will be needed to serve the East Bay.

In patronage projections for the other, more direct routes, Randall said that far more pesons would use the system if it were in a tube to Sausalito than if it went over a second deck, because the tube alignment would be 10 minutes faster, he said.

Some 10,000 commuters would ride the fixed guideway system over a second deck in a peak hour, while 18,000 would ride a system using a tube, according to his estimates. About 13,000 would cross the bridge in a peak hour using a bus rapid transit system, he said.

All estimates assumed development of a complete ferry system, and of a feeder bus system, Randall noted.

Rai Okamoto, head of the urban design consultants, cautioned that neighborhood objections would be a probelm of any alignment through San Francisco. The Richmond loop, he argued, could help shift the emphasis of urban development away from San Francisco, and encourage development both in the East Bay and north of Novato.

Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the citizens advisory panel, noting the loop had been talked about for many years, urged its complete study. "If it is not laid to rest one way or the other, it will continue to haunt us," she said.

Also favoring the Richmond loop was Gerald Kaufmann, chairman of the citizens advisory panel's transportation committee. Kaufmann, a San Franciscan, declared that "we have to get a handle on the Manhattanization of San Francisco."

Several speakers warned that a second deck for transit could open the door to use of the deck for cars, a solution long opposed by San Francisco.

MIDEAST

man said Israeli jets struck at two Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan three miles east of the Jordan River for about 20 minutes. They were identified as forward bases for attacks on Israeli settlements.

Later, the jets returned to hit another guerrilla base in the Jordan Valley.

On Thursday night, a spokesman said, an Israeli force wiped out a seven-man guerrilla squad near the Lebanese frontier in the biggest clash there since the cease-fire took effect. One Israeli soldier was wounded.

Three other Arab guerrillas died and an Israeli soldier was wounded on Thursday night in another clash south of the Sea of Galilee and the frontier with Jordan, an Israeli spokesman said.

The actions came after a two-day lull. They came as the Palestinian National Council met in the Jordanian capital of Amman to plan its strategy in opposing the peace talks of Jordan, Egypt and Israel through United Nations mediator Gunnar V. Jarring in New York.

High Israeli sources in Tel Aviv told UPI correspondent Peter D. Lynch they were convinced that Egypt was only using the standstill in order to prepare an attack.

The sources said for two years Egypt has been trying to gather its forces for a cross-canal attack into the Sini Peninsula, taken from them in the 1967 war, but the Israeli air force prevented such a buildup and inflicted heavy casualties.

Since the cease-fire began Aug. 7, they said, Egypt has used the lull to carry out invasion preparations it could not do while under attack by the Israeli air force.

In Cairo, Egyptian Information Minister Mohammed Hassanein Heikal said the Middle East peace talks that started in New York this week will fail and Israel will be to blame.

Heikal, writing in the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram today, said "the issue of withdrawal from occupied Arab territory will force Israel into an impasse. It will not be able to say yes and it will not be able to say no".

Two Youths Cited On Pot Charges

Two Novato 16-year-olds were cited to juvenile authorities today after suspected marijuana was found when they were stopped for curfew violations, Novato police reported.

Two lids were found in the air vent of a pickup truck in which they were riding, police reported.

The youths were stopped because they were recognized driving in an area away from their homes after 1 a.m. and the car was searched because one boy was observed apparently hiding something under the seat or dashboard when the youths noticed the patrol car.

services for which the general fund pays.

For example, $790 worth of insurance will be bought for the city's golf course this year, but the payments will come from the general fund. So Cunningham charges the $790 to the parks fund and puts the money back into the general fund.

He similarly charges other shared costs to the various special funds. Besides insurance, these costs include general administration (city manager-clerk, finance director) and finance (payroll, purchasing and auditing).

Although the special funds are restricted by law to specific purposes, charging of theb to help the general fund is legal, according to Philip A. Torre, an associate of Mill Valley City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who is out of the county.

"You can't take money out of a fund and use it for an unrelated prupose," he said, "but some functions are properly chargeable to special funds."

Payment Is Sought For Project Fill

Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District yesterday filed a suit against Corte Madera landowner Domenic Muzzi and Certosa, Inc., demanding $11,022 payment for 440-900 cubic yards of fill placed on Muzzi's property during dredging for flood control work.

The suit filed in superior court said Muzzi and the corporation signed an agreement on July 26, 1966, that they would pay 2.5 cents a cubic yard for the fill from the project.

Youth Leaps To Death From Span

A 15-year-old Palo Alto youth leaped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday after telling a 14-year-old companion that he might jump if they visited the span.

The body of David Stimson Whitcher was recovered by the Coast Guard half an hour after the 4:45 p.m. jump, according to the California Highway Patrol. He was the son of Dr. Charles Whitcher, a Stanford University physician.

Officers gave this account of the incident:

Whitcher and a friend, Steven Connolly, 14, were shopping and sightseeing in San Francisco when Connolly asked him if he wanted to walk across the Golden Gate Bridge.

Whitcher reportedly answered, "I guess so, but I'll jump if we do." Connolly thought he was joking because "he was grinning and acting sarcastic, and he was always fooling around like that."

They caught a bus to 14th Avenue, then walked out on the bridge. Near midspan, Whitcher handed Connolly his watch, wallet and keys and told him to have his parents look in his dictionary at home under "death" and "Mary." There, he said, they would find two letters, one to them and one to his girl friend.

Connolly, still thinking Whitcher was joking, started to walk away, but the youth climbed onto the railing, asked his friend to time him on the way down, and jumped.

School Candidates Agree On Needs

Four candidates for the Sausalito School Board showed more agreement than disagreement yesterday in brief talks before approximately 50 members of the Sausalito Rotary Club.

The contenders, Robert E. Fisher Jr. and Royce McLemore of Marin City and Robert R. Lyon and Robert A. Thompson of Sausalito all stressed that the district's academic standards need to be improved.

Fisher, a graduate of the district's schools, said he still has problems today as a student at the College of Marin because of lacks in his early training in Sausalito.

The 23-year-old candidate, father of two preschool children, told the Rotarians: "My aspirations for my children are the same as yours are for your children. They must learn to read, write, spell and do arithmetic; all these things are important," he said, adding: "They must also learn to get along with oth? ers in a sane and rational manner."

Saying the school district was faced with bankruptcy in the 1972 tax election if voter confidence was not restored, candidate Lyon said the district suffered from "poor academic environment and lacks in discipline stability."

He said Sausalito schools are damaging the prestige of the town itself. "Family people are fearful of moving here, I'm told, because of the schools," he said, but appeared hopeful that "inspirational education for all children" can be returned to the Sausalito system.

Royce McLemore, mother of four daughters — one of whom attends Martin Luther King School stressed the need for upgrading reading and mathematics programs, especially in the early grades.

But she emphasized her belief the Sausalito School District is not a total failure "because my child attended Martin Luther King School last year and it was her best year; she learned so much."

Thompson said he wanted "some value for my tax dollar; I don't want to send my kids to a school where I feel they are being sacrificed piece by piece." He said education should prepare the children for a place in the competitive world and said the politics of militancy have changed the concept of integration "into an education, political and social nightmare."

Thompson said Sausalito resident are paying $5,400 per year to educate each Sausalito child in the district. He arrived at the figure, he later told the Independent-Journal, by taking the amount of the schools budget which Sausalito contributes to the district (which he said was 85 per cent) and dividing that by the number of children Sausalito sends to the schools.

To calculate the cost per student county school officials use the entire budget and student body and come up with approximately $1,900.

The candidates touched on several other subjects. Fisher said he believes too many political actions have been taken by citizens in both Sausalito and Marin City and promised "I will not be swayed by politics; I will listen to all sides and weigh all carefully before making a decision." He also said his "door, telephone and home would be open to any person who wants to talk about the district."

Mrs. McLemore said she feels some of the district's problems have been caused by a lack of commented. "I think I will be balance on the school board. I think the representation on the board must be broader," she commented. "I thin kI will be able to close the gap that exists."

Thompson said he felt the past board had spent too much time "trying to be good people." He also mentioned that "significant problems of personal safety still remain" for persons in the district, but gave no examples.

Two-Tour Viet Vet Is Only 15 Years Old

FT. CARSON, Colo. (UPI)—A Vietnam veteran with two tours of combat in Southeast Asia and two Purple Hearts has been arrested by FBI agents after it was discovered he was only 15 years old.

Authorities said they still were trying to determine how Walter Lee Martin of Dothan, Ala., pulled the hoax. He first enlisted when he was 12, they said. Dothan, 6-3, 198 pounds and married, was in El Paso county jail today after being charged with fraud. He was serving as a staff sergeant in the military police command at Ft. Carson when arrested Thursday.

"We don't know how he did it," said Assistant U.S. Attorney James Richards who outlined sketchy details of the teen-ager's military experience. Richards said Martin apparently first enlisted in Alabama when he was 12, using the identification of James J. Wilson, and was sent to Vietnam in 1968.

After being wounded in action, the youth became involved in some trouble and landed in a stockade where a check of fingerprints led Army officials to discover he was only 13.

Richards said the Army then kicked the youth out of the service and shipped him back to the United States.

The prosecutor said Martin's activities became a little hazy after that, but he somehow obtained the Army identification of a S. Sgt. Albert Lewis Jr. and found himself being shipped back to Vietnam for a second tour of duty.

Martin was again wounded and after a short hospital stay in Japan was sent to Ft. Gordon, Ga., to recover. While on leave, Martin went home to Alabama and got married.

Early this month he was assigned to duty with the military police at Ft. Carson near Colorado Springs because of his experience and record.

Meanwhile, officials said the real Lewis was in Vietnam where he re-enlisted for another tour of duty and requested an emergency leave home. It was then the Army discovered something was wrong and the teen-ager at Ft. Carson was arrested.

Richards said the government really was not anxious to prosecute Martin, but wanted to assist him in any way it could —so long as he stayed out of the Army. Richards said he would request that prosecution be deferred and that the probation department recommend a course of action.

The prosecutor said Martin might be placed on one year probation and sent home to Alabama until he becomes old enough either to enlist or be drafted.

Ban On Some DDT Products For Livestock

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department announced today a ban on sale of DDT products for use around many classes of livestock, lumber, forests, buildings and more than 50 food crops.

It said it took the action to reduce possible contamination of the environment. DDT is classified as a persistent pesticide—one that is long-lived.

A spokesman said the order would take effect in 30 days but manufacturers could continue marketing the products during any appeal they made.

On Nov. 20 the department cancelled the registration of DDT products used for control of insects around homes and gardens, shade trees and for control of aquatic and tobacco pests.

"It has been determined that DDT is not essential for use on beef cattle, commercial, institutional and industrial establishments, including all nonfood areas in food processing plants and restaurants," the department said in a statement.

Among the uses of DDT canceled today were dusting and spraying of some livestock to control flies, mosquitoes and gnats, and of lumber, buildings and forest trees to control wood-eating insects, such as beetles.

"I don't want an imported car. I want a Volkswagen."

But a Volkswagen is an imported car.

Isn't it?

Sure it is. Just like coffee is an imported drink.

So it's no surprise to find 3½ million Volkswagens buzzing around the States.

Isn't that odd for a funny-looking car with a funny-sounding name?

No. Not when you know how we take care of them and sell them.

To begin with, service always came before sales with us. It still does.

We've always worked every bit as hard to improve VW service as we have to improve the VW itself.

So when you bring your VW in for service, drive up to the front door, please.

You can sit in our spic-and-span waiting rooms, have a cup of imported coffee and not walk out broken in mind, spirit and checkbook.

One big reason for this is that while we always make VWs better and better, we don't always make them differenter and differenter.

So those 3½ million VWs have a lot in common: most VW parts still fit most VWs.

It is actually easier (and cheaper) to get parts for a Volkswagen than for many domestic cars on the road today.

It is also easier to get a whole VW: $1839* does it.

Lots of cars just come and go.

VWs just go and go.

Demos Lose Control Of Majority On NLRB

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For nine years Democrats have held the majority on the National Labor Relations Board. That changed today.

The term of Democrat board member Frank W. McCulloch expired at midnight Thursday, and President Nixon is expected shortly to name a Republican to replace him, giving the GOP three members to two for the Democrats.

Nixon's appointment will decide more than just the partisan makeup of the board. Some Republicans and businessmen hope he will name someone more favorable to management. They contend the board has been too partial to labor.

The NLRB and its trial examiners mediate some 30,000 labor-management disputes a year.

Union sources said Nixon probably would choose Ralph Kennedy, regional NLRB director in Los Angeles, an employee of the board for 22 years.

AFL-CIO officials said Kennedy had an antiunion bias, but they probably would not oppose his nomination because they recently suggested Nixon appoint someone from within the ranks of board employes.

The nomination, for a five year term, must be approved by the Senate.

Nixon has appointed one other board member—Republican Edward B. Miller, a Chicago attorney who represented management in labor relations cases. That appointment did not give the GOP a majority because Miller replaced another Republican — Sam Zargoria, whose term expired in December.

Nixon also made Miller chairman of the board, replacing McCulloch, but the former Democratic chairman's term on the board did not expire until Thursday.

The Democrats on the board are John H. Fanning, a Rhode Island attorney serving an unprecedented third term which expires in 1972, and Gerald A. Brown, Palo Alto, Calif., whose second term ends next year. The other Republican is Howard Jenkins Jr., Denver, the only Negro ever to serve on the board.

There is no law dictating the partisan makeup of the board, but by tradition, the President in power tries to maintain a 3-2 margin for his party.

Carson City Man's Death Cause Listed

A Carson City, Nev., man who was found dead Wednesday in a Fairfax residence, died of apparently natural causes, the Marin County Coroner's office reported today.

The body of William Benson Buck, 36 was found at the home of Joan Buck, 697 Cascade Drive, at 6:30 p.m. by a neighbor watching the residence while Mrs. Buck was on vacation.

Fairfax police said the neighbor, Milton L. Fischer of 657 Cascade Drive, knocked on the door of the Buck home when he noticed an unfamiliar vehicle parked in the carport.

When there was no answer, Fischer entered the home and found Buck's body lying in a small pool of blood in the kitchen area.

Coroner's Investigator Keith Craig said Buck apparently collapsed and hit his nose on a cabinet as he fell, accounting for the blood.

There was no sign of violence, he said.

Results of an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death were pending.

Security Guard Captain Nabbed In Minneapolis

Forrest Jerrold Morais, 34, former captain of the guards employed at the Independent-Journal plant and wanted for grand theft, was arrested yesterday in Minneapolis, Minn.

Minneapolis police reported that Morais had with him television equipment suspected of being taken from his former employer, Nor-Cal Security Service, according to San Rafael Police.

Morais, who had been missing since March 27, is charged with embezzling $1,431 from his employer by keeping a check which had been given him to pay a bill for uniforms.

He is also awaiting trial in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of battery against a picket at the I-J on March 20.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas said yesterday that Marin officials plan to extradite Morais from Minnesota.

Morais was located through the efforts of Nor-Cal Security, who then turned the matter over to police.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has agreed to sell Israel $5.5 million worth of feed grains under the Food for Peace program.

Marin City Asks To Share School Board Meetings

Marin City Council last night called for the Sausalito School District Board to hold its meetings in Marin City on an alternating basis with meetings in Sausalito.

Council members felt there was a growing isolation of the school district from the community, and that the district board should meet in Marin City to improve communications.

"I think we're being alienated and exploited," said Thelma McKinney of 30 Pacheco Street. "They (the district board) should come out and deal with us."

There were calls from the audience for the community to support Gabe Jackson, an educational aide, slated to be fired by the school district board.

Jackson is challenging the charges against him and Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., council chairman, said Marin City residents should be alerted as to when the matter will be before the district board.

"We should stand by Jackson like every other black person," said Mrs. McKinney. "They have trampled on us long enough." She charged the district was getting rid of the "strong black educators."

Council members agreed to invite Robert E. Spain, interim superintendent of the school district, to discuss school matters with them.

Sitting in at the meeting were recently appointed principals, Henry E. Hopkins of Martin Luther King School, and Armando Renzullo, who is serving Manzanita, Bayside and Central Schools.

Hopkins said the support of the Marin City community was needed to improve the schools, stressing that ideas from residents would be welcomed.

He contended the reading program will be improved, the district wouldn't permit pupils to be ridiculed and the instructional program will be tailored "to meet the needs of youngsters."

The portions of the meeting concerning school affairs was filmed by a British television crew, making a documentary on the Sausalito School District.

Marin City Endorses Urban Development

Marin City Council last night backed Marin Urban Development Association in its bid for federal approval and $5 million in mortgage funds for the first phase of a proposed development program.

Ulysses J. Montgomery, a San working for MUDA, said the first-phase program included about 180 dwelling units both multiple and single-family, and a neighborhood commercial center.

There won't be detailed planning until MUDA, a non-profit corporation of Marin City residents, obtains feasibility approval and a mortgage allocation from the Feredal Housing Administration, he explained.

MUDA, a nonprofit association of Marin City residents is a prospective developer in Marin City, seeking to succeed California Development Co., which was under fire for lack of action.

In July the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Housing Authority granted the corporation preliminary approval to become developer in Marin City, and gave it nine months to come up with a feasible project.

Asked how extensive the proposed commercial development would be, Montgomery replied "about $300,000 worth."

Montgomery pointed out development in Marin City required a survey of community needs, a review of the economic potentials and growth prospects of Marin City and adjacent areas, and a review of the existing master plan for the area.

The community survey, being conducted by the Marin City Council under a federal planning grant, is nearly complete.

For the other necessary reports, he proposed that MUDA, the council and the Marin County Redevelopment Agency share the costs of hiring specialists, each paying one-third.

Council members endorsed the proposal that the three organizations share in the expenses, estimated at $32,500.

Recommended were Larry Smith and Co. Inc., a nationwide firm of economists, market analysts, and real estate consultants, for the economic studies at a cost of $7,500, and Kennard and Silvers of Los Angeles and Whisler-Patri of San Francisco, architects and planners, for review of the master plan at a cost of $25,000.

Montgomery pointed out that the redevelopment agency was under the gun from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to show progress on redevelopment by Oct. 31 or funds would be cut off.

The Marin City Council Also:

POLICE COMMUNITY RELATIONS — Agreed that Bella Aaron, chairman of the Marin County Police-Community Relations Committee, should be invited to a council session to explain the program. There were complaints that the program was set up before opinions of Marin City residents were sought.

LAND PURCHASE — Passed a resolution of intention to purchase a strip of land, about seven-tenths of an acre along Highway 101 near Donahue Street, from the State Divisionof Highways for $10.

SCHOOL SIGNS — Endorsed a request by the Pre-School Parents Advisory Council from the Manzanita Child Center that school traffic signs be placed along Drake Avenue.

DOCTOR'S OFFICE — Endorsed a request by Dr. William Rothman of Sausalito, that he be permitted to use an apartment in Marin City from which he could conduct his practice in Marin City. Council member Collie B. Gaines dissented.

Guilty Plea To Assault Charge

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Jared K. Rossman of Fairfax entered a plea of guilty in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of simple assault which arose from his role in an anti-ROTC demonstration on April 28 at the University of California.

Judge George Brunn referred the case to the probation department for a report and set a Sept. 8 sentencing date.

Rossman 21, of 2 Meadows Way, free on $5,500 bail, was accused of fighting with a policeman.

Eye Surgery

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— George C. Wallace was released from Eye Foundation Hospital Thursday five days after he underwent minor surgery for a growth on his eye.

Meany Knocks Riots, Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The AFL-CIO president took a stand Thursday for dissent but not for rioting or violence.

In a speech before the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, George Meany said so many reasons are given for student rioting that "the suspicion arises that the main idea is that they want to destroy our educational system."

"Dissent can be a means of improvement, but dissent without purpose seems to make no sense, whatsoever," he said. "The right to dissent does not mean the right to loot and burn."

DINING OUT AND INNS

One thing about seafood — if you stay clear of butter and certain fatty sauces — you can eat just about all you want without putting on weight or increasing your chloresterol count.

Ounce for ounce, seafood has about half the calories of meat. More than that, you get about twice as much protein from fish as you do from the same weight of meat.

Aside from these health benefits, most people eat seafood simply because they like it. And in Northern California we enjoy several advantages — being able to get fresh fish and having professionals who know how to prepare it.

One of the professional places is right in San Rafael — the Grotto. Its seafood is about as fresh as you'll find anywhere — unless you cook and eat it as soon as it comes out of the water or off the boat.

The Grotto is comparatively small and tables are usually well-filled. It could do with a few more — but getting more space here is out of the question for Stan and Ursula Valan — so they have to go along with what they have. However they manage quite nicely.

Two things I recommend — the Captain's Choice and the fresh salmon, which will be in season only about two more weeks. But then, you may have your own ideas. There is enough variety in the menu to satisfy them.

Ramona's is finally on the road to completion and you should once more be able to enjoy steak picado, green enchiladas or whatever it is you have been missing.

The odds for getting open by today were pretty slim, but they are considerably better for next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Ramona credits breaking the red tape and the speed-up to Kurt Kissmann and his crew of Better Homes Construction Co., who stepped in early this week to complete the job, giving up some of their other work to do it.

Now if she hasn't worn herself out worrying and fuming and hasn't landed in the hospital, things should soon be back to normal.

FABBRI 'S at 1707 Fourth Street, San Rafael is closed. But you can look for an entirely new operation here in about 30 days.

New owners Tom Reddock of San Anselmo and Tom East of Los Angeles are leasing this West End location through Harry Abras of Don Timmer Realty. They plan a restaurant similar to the Hickory Pit that was here a few years ago.

They will call the place the Buffalo Smoke House and serve both lunches and dinners and prepare food to take out. Featured will be barbecued steaks, chicken and ribs. The two Toms will seek wine and beer license and plan to have a bar at one side of the restaurant. They foresee great deal of remodeling.

Reddock has been with Wells Fargo Bank. This is his first restaurant venture. East has had previous restaurant experience in Southern California.

DANCING in downtown San Rafael? Sure there is!

The place to go is Bernard's Executive Lounge at the top of the Reynold C. Johnson Building at Fourth and C Streets. The nights are Fridays and Saturdays. The hours are from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. A three-piece combo provides the kind of dancing where boy holds girl — you remember.

There's also good food. Wally Price is the chef.

IT'S FOUR MONTHS until New Year's Eve, but already one far-seeing entrepreneur has made plans.

Fred Cherry, the wine man, is takling about "the most sumptious party Marin has ever seen." It will include a program of international wine tasting and equally international delicacies, champagne dinner, steak flambe, noisemakers (mostly popping corks) and dancing.

His limit is 150 persons. He already has reservations for 20. Price is $25 per person, with a $5 deposit — not refundable, but transferable.

MEDALLION OF BEEF is the newest addition to the dinner menu at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael — a favorite of food connosseurs everywhere. Restaurateur Bill Bisson insists that its preparation is a matter of proper timing rather than time — so you'll not need to wait an extra 20 minutes or more to have it served.

PIANO ENTERTAINMENT Thursday and Friday nights from 9 is now being provided in Danny Olsen's Candlestick Room in the Country Club Bowl, San Rafael. The Candlestick Room practically adjoins Eugene's Country Club Restaurant.

Performer here goes by the single name of Milan. He was with George Liberace's Orchestra for five years.

TWO MARIN RESTAURANTS, Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon and Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo are participating in a new discount coupon book of Complimentary Dinner Club, 907 Fox Plaza, San Francisco.

Membership ($) also includes restaurants in San Franicsco, Oakland, Daly City, Campbell, Felton and Los Angeles — and vacation certificates for Lake Tahoe or Las Vegas.

Incidentally, one of the San Francisco places is the Jolly Friars on Clement Street, owned by Sam Zakkession, who also has Zack's in Sausalito.

FOR THOSE INTERESTED in improving their knowledge and understanding of wines, the Wine Advisory Board at 717 Market Street, San Francisco, continues to offer its wine study course (formerly $1 — now free).

Material covers the history of wine, various types of California wines and how wine is made. Students also receive an examination sheet with true and false and multiple choice questions to be completed and returned to the Wine Advisory oBard.

Over 229,000 consumers have received their basic wine education by completing this course since it began in 1954.

IT STILL HOLDS TRUE — build a better "mouthtrap" and people will be sure to find you, even if you're as far away from Marin as Fort Bragg.

This summer has seen a number of Marinites visiting the Noyo River Inn, according to Gregory Seubert, manager and co-owner. Gregory's former patrons, who knew him when he owned the restaurant bearing his name in Corte Madera, have been catching up with him. And even at that distance I understand several of them have been making return trips.

Look for it when you are up that way — on South Harbor Drive, off Highway 29 (Fort Bragg-Willits highway) one-quarter mile from its junction with Coast Highway 1.

Police, Fire Protection Promised To 10 A.M. Monday

Despite deadlocked wage negotiations between the county and its safety employees, the county is assured of police and fire protection, at least until 10 a.m. Monday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he got that assurance yesterday from Randall M. Prevo, general manager of the Marin County Employees Association, negotiator for the county's 210 safety employees.

Bruce said the employees group agreed to carry on as usual, without strikes or slowdowns, until Monday at 10 a.m., when another meeting is scheduled with state conciliator James Marshall in the county administrator's office.

Safety employees — sheriff's deputies, county firemen and communications employees — are working under the 1969 contract, which expired July 1 but was extended until Monday at midnight.

Nixon Abandons Consumer Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has abandoned its support for key consumer legislation designed to allow groups of defrauded customers to band together in big lawsuits against offending businesses.

The administration first supported it but Thursday said the bill as rewritten by the Senate Commerce Committee would harass businessmen, swamp the courts and "play a cruel joke" on cheated consumers.

Assistant Attorney General Richard W. McLaren, saying he was speaking for the administration, told the Senate Judiciary Committee the bill as rewritten is too strong and may even be unconstitutional.

He also said the administration now favors leaving this kind of consumer protection up to the states.

Innocent Plea To Credit Card Forgery

LeRoy Raymond Willey, 39, of San Anselmo, yesterday pleaded innocent to a charge of forging another person's name to a credit car slip. Municipal Court Judge Robert N. Connors set preliminary hearing on the felony count for Sept. 8.

Willey was arrested Sunday on a Sonoma County traffic warrant and then booked on the credit car count, involving rental of a car last Friday in San Rafael.

Retail Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department reports retail sales throughout the nation totaled $6.9 billion last week.

Luncheon Set For Welcoming

"Take a Teacher to Lunch" is the theme of the 13th annual welcoming luncheon for new teachers in Mill Valley schools, to be held Wednesday at noon at Sabella's Restaurant.

The event is sponsored by the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce. Director Lawrence A. Mayer is chairman of the event, assisted by Steven C. Kanewske.

Among invited guests will be officials of the school district, Supervisor Michael Wornum, Mayor George E. Wickham and City Mgr. William H. Cunningham.

In observance of Mill Valley's 70th anniversary, which is being celebrated during September, Lucretia Little, city historian, will be the speaker. Her topic will be "Before the Bulldozers."

Reservations may be made at the chamber office, 85 Throckmorton Avenue.

Forestry Jobs Hit By Budget Slicing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Cuts in the state's 1970-71 budget will require the elimination of 77 jobs from the Division of Forestry, which is charged with fighting forest fires, a spokesman said Thursday.

But he denied the state's firefighting capacity would be hurt. California's forest fire season is now reaching its most critical period.

John Mayfield, deputy director of the State Department of Conservation, which includes the Division of Forestry, said the job cuts have already started and would be completed over the next year through attrition. He added the $1.7 million budget reduction was made by a legislative conference committee, and not by the Reagan administration.

"We do not feel it will affect the firefighting capability of the Division of Forestry," Mayfield said.

But the president of the California Division of Forestry Employes Association, Raymond B. Caldwell, said "The division's already inadequate forces are unable to meet the prevention and enforcemeent needs under the present loads." He made his statement in a letter to State Resources Agency Secretary Norman Livermore Jr. The Forestry Division is a member unit of the agency.

He charged the division is "being systematically destroyed."

"There is deepening concern among our personnel over the division's present ability to properly respond when we are again faced with several disastrous fires occurring simultaneously as has happened in the past," Caldwell said.

Mayfield said 21 of the cuts were being achieved through closure of the division's District 3 Headquarters in Sacramento, while 30 assistant forest ranger jobs, administrative in nature, were being eliminated at state conservation camps.

He said 19 fire crew foremen were also being dropped at conservation camps, and that the cut reflected lower inmate populations in the camps.

He added other jobs were being eliminated through "ranger unit consolidations."

President Tells Union's Position Toward Minorities

Maurice Albert Hutcheson, the 73-year-old president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, laid it on the line the other day at his union's convention in San Francisco: The Carpenters Union will fight government efforts to put more minority race members into the building trades.

Hutcheson, a longtime union "pie card" holder (he became auditor of the Carpenters Union in 1928, first vice president in 1938, and has been president since 1952), told delegates to the convention that opening the ranks to more minority race members could "wreck skill and quality workmanship."

A little later on in his speech, however, he had some remarks about the "skill and quality workmanship" among the 820,000 members of his union.

"We must stamp out the existing philosophy that anyone who works hard at his job is a sucker," he said. "We should continue to bargain hard for fair wages but we must be just as determined to make our performance justify our pay."

THE CARPENTERS UNION, he declared, is "constantly harassed by bureaucrats and so-called liberals" to admit more members from minorities. He found this outrageous because, he said, his union has actively recruited 1,300 minority apprentices among its 820,000 members.

We are gratified that Boss Hutcheson put it on the line.

A LITTLE LESS than a year ago, we called attention in this column to complaints that the building trades unions — except for the Construction and General Laborers Union, which is not skilled labor — keep their doors closed or only very slightly ajar for all except white Occidentals.

The result was a call on the editorial writer by a large delegation from the building trades (after arrangements had been made for an informal call by two or three representatives) to protest and deny with much vehemence that there is any job discrimination in their field.

The delegation placed much emphasis on creation of the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program by building trades unions and employers, to recruit and train minority race members in the various building crafts.

Both previous and subsequent to that, however, checks with the program's Marin office elicited little to show that the program was making much impact. Some of the unions had taken in no apprentices through it; others had taken two or three. The total was about in the ratio of the 1,300-to-820,000 reported with pride by Boss Hutcheson.

SAID HUTCHESON in his San Francisco speech: "It is obvious that certain people in the United States today are not one bit interested in obtaining work or training for decent, honorable, economically secure careers for those members of the minority they pretend to speak for. Instead, they are using criticism of the building trades to cover their own inadequacies as true leaders or to publicize and promote themselves or to obtain political advantage."

Tell that to Marin City, Maurice Albert!

Eutrophication?

This is the era of ecology awareness. And, like the space age before it, it is adding strange, new words to Everyman's covabulary.

Eutrophication is a word which we are going to be reading and hearing more and more in coming months an years. It is part of what happened to Lake Erie and is happening to San Francisco Bay.

Eutrophication is the process which occurs when excessive amounts of plant nutrients from any source cause a great proliferation of algae or other plant life in a body of water. It includes the eventual death of the plant life, the oxygen-absorbing processes of decay, the death of most desirable fish, and finally the creation of a fetid body of water virtually bereft of any higher forms of animal life.

Hence, eutrophication is not a pretty word because it describes an ugly process. But it is a fact of life in the '70s.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Song's Bill Requires Warranties To Be More Than Mere Words

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If Gov. Ronald Reagan signs SB 272, by Sen. Alfred H. Song, D-Monterey Park, he will take a step in protecting the rights of California consumers through giving better recognition to written warranties.

Senator Song, chairman of the Senate business and professions committee, struggled hard and long throughout the 1970 legislative session to strike a blow for consumer protection, and wound up with passage of 272 through both houses.

THE MEASURE requires manufacturers who sell consumer goods with written warranties to provide service facilities or to authorize their retailers to handle warranty repair work on their products.

"If the bill is signed into law," Song said, "California will be the first state of the union to mount a comprehensive attack on the problem of deceptive warranties which fail to protect the consumers."

One would think that a reputable firm issuing a warranty with a product would not need to be called up by the state to make its warranty good.

MANUFACTURERS do not attempt to foist inferior products on a trusting public, generally speaking. But in the long distribution chain from manufacturer to distributor, to wholesaler, to retailer and finally to consumer, there are bound to be weak spots, and reluctance on the part of some of the principals to live up to guarantees.

This is where Senator Song's bill comes in. It provides that the consumer has only to return the defective product to the nearest service facility or retailer to receive the service promised by the warranty. The work of repair would have to be completed within 30 days, and the manufacturer would be required to pay the full cost of repair.

THE BILL ALSO is a two-way street and should not be used by a consumer as a vehicle for taking advantage of a retailer or manufacturer. Abuse of a product under warranty should not be used as an excuse to get either a replacement or a free repair job.

Not all the warranty troubles emanate from the retailer or manufacturer. There are doubtless many instances where consumers have abused the product and seek replacements or repairs.

But the Song bill is sound in its conception, a dollar's worth of goods for a dollar's worth of payment.

Citing The Record On Smith Air Strip

I have no intention of arguing the pros and cons of commercial use of Smith Brothers airport. I'm not wealthy, and I do not fly to work, but the great value the site has to me as an aircraft owner and too-occasional pilot forces me to protest the allegations and insinuations in the letter of writers Swaim Meisner, Spini, Skilling, Baumann, and Fields.

First, Smith Airport is not illegal, as the writers must surely know. The facts regarding this are amply available to anyone interested and that lie is not to be dignified by further coment.

Second, Smith Airport did not "sneak in"; quite the contrary, that area as an airport location predates most of the Santa Venetia development by many years, and present residents of Santa Venetia moved there knowing of its existance.

Third, the rare times I am familiar with that commercial use has been made of Smith came about only because the safety of people and equipment would have been jeopardized by use of other airports in the vicinity (most due to weather).

Fourth, because of the nature of the airport, the only training at Smith involves pilots who base their aircraft there and are maintaining or raising their standards of proficiency. Surely the residents of Santa Venetia are not so short sighted as to object to this?!

I bring these points to your attention because of the evident hysteria in the Swaim et al letter. Hysteria must be avoided if rational people are to be free to make rational decisions.

Lively Bouquet Re Lively Baseball

Since the I-J editorial staff had the intestinal fortitude to stand still and absorb my recent brickbat on the subject of San Rafael's railroad, perhaps you will permit a bouquet for a well written and timely article by Jim Murray on the subject of live baseballs.

Since early in the baseball season, the following episode has been implanted on my memory:

Scene 1 — NBC-TV game of the week: Baseballs are flying out of the stadium as if fired from a howitzer.

Scene 2 — Enter ex-major league shortstop and his guest, the commissioner of baseball, for brief chat at the seventh inning stretch. Ex-shortstop: Mr. Commissioner, what about all this commentary concerning the new "rabbit" baseball? Are this year's baseballs any livelier than those used last season? Commissioner: Absolutely not! The only difference is the signature on the ball.

Scene 4 — No instant replay, no comment from sportscaster, no commissioner (mercifully).

In this era of "credibility gaps" when referring to statements by public officials which do not happen to be true, it takes a good deal of journalist art and wit to get the piont across without getting (a) slugged, (b) sued, (c) fired, (d) slugged, fired and sued.

Well done Jim Murray.

Obeying Law Carries Penalty

Regarding the leash law, I feel almost penalized in abiding by this law, though I'm sure my dog would run away if I didn't. The problem is that there are about five friendly free-flowing dogs near my house, and mine is the only one leashed. Mine used to be friends with the others but has recently become a bit ferocious. To protect the other animals, and thereby mine, whenever another dog comes around, I must pick up mine and take him into the house.

I am not asking for enforcement of the law; I much prefer that the police spend their time finding out who burglarized my house. But I am making a plea to my neighbors that they be considerate of their neighbors and keep their dogs enclosed or leashed. This would also help my newly growing junipers.

Editorial Shows Problem Understood

Thank you for your very far-seeing editorial on the suburb's stake in the solution of the big city's problem.

It is certainly going to take a great deal of public understanding and support for Marin to take the necessary steps to do its share of providing housing for the poor. Your editorial leadership will do a great deal to develop that understanding.

Thoughts Of One Who Knew Haley

Judge Harold Haley was like my own dad. I went to college with his twins, Carol and Joan, and his niece, Maureen, now Mrs. Gary Thomas.

A good friend, he was always an inspiration to the young crowd who congregated around his home.

We loved him, this man of peace who knew no enemies.

The shock of his sudden death leaves all who knew him numb and unbelieving that this could happen in America.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A repentant husband, trying to square himself with the little woman for coming home loaded from a poker game at 4 a.m., pleaded "What little gift can I buy to make the one I love best happy again?" His unforgiving wife answered, "How about a pipe and a couple of pounds of the finest tobacco?"

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Placed In Unhappy Position: Cannot Keep Conflicting Pledges

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

Unless the Senate ladens the textile-shoe-oil import quota bill with so much more protectionism that a presidential veto would be easy to defend, Mr. Nixon will have to choose between these two embarrassing actions:

1 — Go back on his campaign pledge to get limited quotas for textile imports and tus disappoint the textile leaders and many southern supporters who helped him get nominated and elected.

2 — Or go back on his press conference threat of July 20 to veto the trade bill if it went beyond his own recommendations and thus impair his own credibility.

A PRESIDENT cannot safely threaten a veto and not carry through. How would the next veto threat mean anything?

The House is about to pass the protectionist-oriented trade bill which emerged from the House Ways and Means Committee under the chairmanship of Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark. It already goes beyond the limits set by Mr. Nixon as acceptable. The President asked for textile quotas only. Then the Mills committee added shoe quotas; then oil-import quotas and, finally, a device for other industries to obtain quota protection if imports increased a certain percentage.

At this point Mr. Nixon said this is too much. His commitment to veto such a bill is very precise:

"We feel that for Congress to pass a limited bill dealing with textiles only . . . we believe that that approach is acceptable. But if the bill goes beyond that, if it includes other items, I would not be able to sign the bill because that would set off a trade war which would have all the repercussions that I have tried to describe earlier."

NOW THE PRESIDENT is in an uncomfortable plight of his own making.

By conviction and on the basis of his long record, Richard Nixon is a free trader. He believes that the best interest of the United States will be served by expanding two-way trade, not contracting it.

He made his pledge to support limited textile quotas, which he has described as "wrong in principle," on the grounds that they would be an exception. But Congress is not making them an exception. They are proliferating.

A Nixon-appointed cabinet-level task force studied the problems of the shoe industry and strongly recommended against quotas on shoe imports. The Mills committee included them.

A similar White House task force found that U.S. consumers are already paying $5 to $8 billion extra a year because of oil quotas. The Mills committee put oil quotas into the new trade bill.

MRS. VIRGINIA H. Knauer, the President's assistant for consumer affairs, testified for the administration:

"In many ways, this bill is the most significant anticonsumer legislation now in the Congress. The imposition of import quotas will hurt virtually every consumer in the United States, particularly lower-income consumers.

"Higher prices, fewer product choices, reduced competition and a limited supply of imported products are the probable result of the proposed import-quota legislation."

The 10 most recent presidents of the American Economic Association warned that a reversal of U.S. liberal trade policy "could lead us back to heavy protectionism of the 1930s and the Great Depression."

It was a similar warning from the leaders of the American Economic Association against the Smoot-Hawley high protectionist bill which President Hoover unwisely ignored in 1929.

It is unsafe to predict what President Nixon will do. The advocates of the wide-ranging quota bill believe he will not veto it. Its opponents fear he will not. It should be vetoed.

Russia Cuts Peru Airlift; Did It Prove Its Points?

By STEWART HENSLEY
UPI Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Soviet Union has quietly ended its airlift of relief supplies to Peruvian earthquake victims after delivering only 21 of the promised 65 planeloads.

Peruvian officials have been told that the remainder of the Russian aid for victims of the May 31 disaster will have to come by sea. They offered no explanation.

U.S. intelligence sources say, however, that the Russians obviously found it more difficult than they had anticipated to crary out a major airlift halfway around the world involving use of strange bases and flying unfamiliar routes.

THE OFFICIAL assessment in Washington was that Russia had failed to achieve the propaganda impact it had hoped for when it told Peru at the beginning of July that 65 planeloads of relief material would arrive within a week or 10 days.

At the same time, however, the Soviet Union undoubtedly gathered considerable information concerning the problems it must overcome in its program to penetrate the western coas tof South America with commercial air routes.

U.S. officials consider the Russian relief operation — aside from its humanitarian aspects —to have had three principal objectives:

—Convince Latin Americans of the ability of the Soviet Union to move large amounts of material long distances in a very short time.

—Conduct proving flights for the massice an22, a prop jet plane which is Russia's largest transport, as well as the AN12, a somewhat smaller plane.

—Demonstrate that any Communist regime gaining power in Latin America would be able to count on speedy supplies of military equipment and economic aid by air.

THE SOVIET UNION sent in 12 planes during the week beginning July 11.

When the AN22 carrying a field hospital was lost in the North Atlantic July 18, the Russians suspended the flights for a week. When they resumed, they sent in only nine more planes before telling the Peruvians the airlift was ended, far short of its goal.

The Russian planes flew from Moscow to Lima by way of the Arctic route, which involved landings in Iceland or Newfoundland, in Cuba and at Baranquilla in Columbia.

kU.S. officials say the 21 planes which actually arrived in Lima were only half full. There have been reports that they left some military cargo in Cuba but U.S. officials are inclined to think that, to increase their range, they were not fully loaded in Moscow.

Russia is trying to get landing rights in Brazil but so far these have not been granted. The Soviet Union wants to be able to fly to Latin America from present Aeroflot connectoins in Africa to avoid the U.S. surveillance which keeps track of every Russian plane flying parallel to the U.S. coast from Newfoundland to Cuba.

History Of Administrator's Salary Illuminates Threat Of Slowdown

Fusselman

Anyone who has observed the labor bargaining events across the land must be impressed with the psychological factors involved — different in most cases even though the overall objective is the same. This factor is and has been true in our Marin County salary dispute.

On Aug. 14, I wrote, "This place (Brasilia) is a jungle of tension. There is a serious lack of unity."

During the years before we moved out to Brasilia there was a personal friendliness between the employees and the board members. In the majority of encounters it was on a first-name basis — "Fred-Rube-Pot Jim-Walter and Bill." (When I wasn't around they called me Big Bill.)

The folks always felt free to come and talk to us personally about salaries, etc. They didn't find it necessary to hire a bargaining agent.

NOW, READ the following from this column of Jan. 29, 1965, and make a note of the dates.

"There were so many inquiries about the size of that raise ($,4800 a year increase for the administrator, as of Jan. 1, '65) that I decided this was a place to illuminate one of the caverns that have never seen the light of day.

"The complete story of the administrator's pay raises was promised you and here it is."

March 1, 1957, asst. admin. $703

July 1, 1957, Range change $710

March 1, 1958, Step increase $745

March 1, 1959, Step increase $782

July 1, 1959, Range change $821

August 1, 1959 $862

March 1, 1960, Step increase $905

Oct. 1, 1960, Step increase $905

Dec. 1, 1960, Range change $930

Dec. 1, 1960, Promotion to admin. $1,075

June 1, 1961, Step increase $1,125

Jan. 1, 1962, Range change $1,125

June 1, 1962, Step increase $1,225

July 2, 1962, Range change $1,250

June 1, 1963, Step increase $1,300

June 1, 1964, Step increase $1,350

Jan. 1, 1965 $1,750

This last one was the increase of $4,800 a year.

HE UNBLUSHINGLY put these raises for himself in the budget each year. Now he has his subordinate department do it for him. There has been a nice juicy melon each year for his truly while he was hacking away at the requests of the employees. So you see it's no wonder there is the possibility of a strike or slow-down by the 210 safety employees.

I have known for several years of the deep resentment of the employees while they watched him operate. They are aware of his lack of experience required for the position. His constant attitude is so abrasive that they wouldn't like his salary offers, even if they were good.

Of all the debacles he has headed up, his handling of the present one beats them all for ineptness.

The team spirit between board and county staff, which we all enjoyed so much in former years, is no more. When will the supervisors wake up to what is going on?

Explosion Rips School Gym

CHINA SPRING, Tex. (UPI) — An explosion destroying the gymnasium of China Spring school today 45 minutes before school classes started. The blast set off a fire that damaged six classrooms and the school offices.

Damage was tentatively estimated at $250,000.

No students were at school when the gymnasium blew up, but if the explosion had come 45 minutes later, 150 students would have been in the gymnasium.

Bill Peters, a janitor, was treated at a Waco hospital for minor burns.

Caller Prompts Evacuation Of Civic Center

A two-hour evacuation of the Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice yesterday wah sparked by an unidentified male voice which told the switchboard operator:

"This is a weather man. There is a powerful device placed in the Civic Center."

The caller then hung up. About 1,000 employees at the Civic Center and Hall of Justice streamed out of the building when the alarm sounded at 11:45 a.m. Sheriff's deputies searched the building room-by-room while fire trucks waited outside and police kept cars away from the buildings.

The all clear came at about 1:35 p.m.

Kennedy Proposes Total Health Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., today proposed a national health insurance system that would cover every American by the middle of 1973.

He introduced legislation that would embrace the entire range of health services with the exception of nursing home care, psychiatric care, dental care, and certain medicines and appliances.

The bill also would guarantee that the necessary national resources are available for the delivery of health care and generate improvements in the field of health.

A New County Firm Will Aid Education

A different approach to improving schools' performance is planned by a newly incorporated Marin County firm.

The Institute for Educational Research, headed by Keith Beery of 2830 Heatherstone Drive, Marinwood, has filed articles of incorporation with the California secretary of state, as a nonprofit corporation.

Beery said the institute will try to improve early education, from kindergarten to age 12. And it hopes to do this by involving parents as well as school people.

"I have been in education for some time," said Beery, "and have observed that many good ideas are not implemented. Often teachers need some basic help to put an idea into practical form and to report it to others so that it can be used in other schools."

The institute, he said, will try to do that. Its initial project, for which funds have been promised by the U.S. Office of Education, will send teachers who have had special training into schools in Marin County and probably Richmond and Vallejo to instruct at least one teacher in in-service training in "how to innovate." Beery calls it "Project Teach."

The institute also plans seminars for teachers and parents to explore proposals for classroom improvements and see how they can be put into use, he said.

Only the one project is funded so far, although some money will be funneled to the institute from fees for teacher training classes which Beery instructs at Dominican College. He said federal, state or foundation funds are being sought for widening the institute's activities.

Beery, who came to Marin to set up a program for the educationally handicapped in the San Rafael city schools, since has worked at the child study unit at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco and taught at Dominican College. He is a founder of the Marin Child Center in Kentfield.

Associated with him in the institute are his wife, Mary; Alfred L. Brokes of San Rafael, a psychologist with Tamalpais High School District, and the following staff members: Stephen Padover, Petaluma psychologist; Susan Bart of Fairfax; Nancy Marshall of San Francisco, a teacher in Jefferson Elementary School District in Daly City, and Diane Wilkinson of Terra Linda. Alyce Daunt of San Rafael is secretary.

Youth Arrested In Park In Dope Case Bound Over

Joseph H. Norton, 19, of 470 Lohrman Lane, Petaluma, was bound over to Sonoma County Superior Court on drug charges yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon scheduled Norton to appear Sept. 4 at 9 a.m. in Superior Court. Norton was also sentenced to one year in the Sonoma County Jail for violation of probation.

He was arrested Aug. 21 in Walnut Park, Petaluma, and charged with possession and cultivation of marijuana.

Arrested with Norton was Douglas F. Farley, 18, of 312 Coronado Drive, Petaluma, who is scheduled for a preliminary hearing Sept. 10 at 2 p.m. in Municipal Court.

Superior Court arraignment of Lionel Raymond Hall, 25, of Cotati on a charge of felony drunken driving yesterday was continued to Sept. 9 in Judge E. Warren McGuire's court.

Hall's charge arises from an April 13 one-vehicle traffic accident north of Novato in which two passengers in Hall's pickup truck were killed.

Cadmium Held An Air Hazard

HANOVER, N.H. (UPI)—A Dartmouth Medical College professor said Thursday the presence of cadmium in air and water may be called a real hazard to the human environment.

Testifying before a legislative committee on environmental pollution, Dr. Henry A. Schroeder said cadmium, a trace mineral like mercury, may contribute to high blood pressure and heart disease.

Schroeder said cadmium may get into the water system from mains and pipes and through the air from zinc smelting processes. The metal, which accumulates in the kidneys and liver, has directly been related to high blood pressure in laboratory animals, he said.

It wasn't built in a day.

Somebody didn't just say, "Hey, this is the year for little economy cars—let's build one," and there appeared a 1970 Volkswagen.

Fact is, 25 years of Volkswagens preceded it.

And we put in something else besides the years.

Improvements. 2,287 of them.

If there's one thing we learned about making economy cars, it's this: There's no such thing as an overnight success.

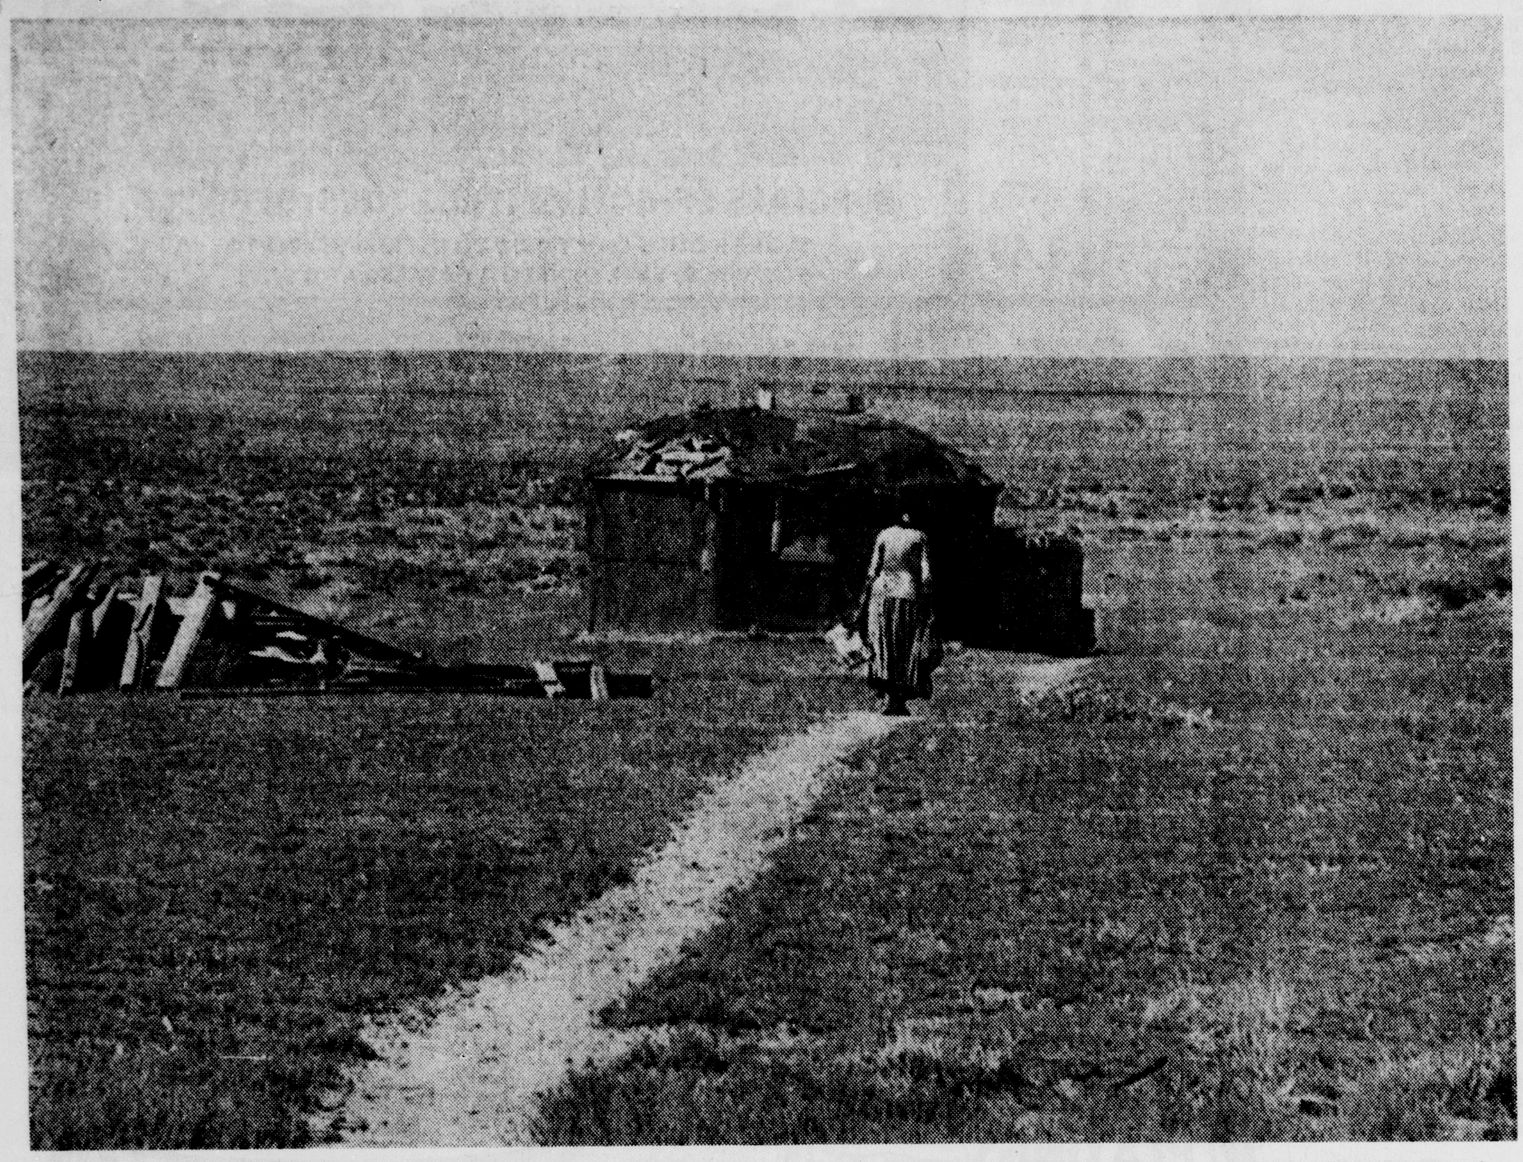
The Navajo: A Life Of Drunkenness, Dirt, Despair



HER HOGAN—A lone Navajo Indian woman walks toward her hogan between Chinle and Ganado in a desolate area of the Navajo Indian Reservation which is located in part of New Mexico, Arizona and Utah. She is one of the 220,000 Navajos living on the reservation which is the size of West Virginia. (UPI Telephotos)

HARD LIFE—Tom Lee (left) lives in this World War II tent with a wife and three children. He works on components for computers in a nearby instrument plant, earning $66 a week. Hunters like Jim Dougherty (right) say learning to overcome yourself is the toughest problem. A top bow hunter, Dougherty says he must overcome himself even after he's mastered the bow and arrow. Life on the reservation is hard.

NAVAJO HOME—This is one of two rooms in a shack made of scrap lumber and covered with tarpaper with pieces of cardboard forming part of the wall on one side. A woman lives in the shack with her daughter and seven grandchildren. The refrigerator does not work but is used for storage. There is no electric power or plumbing on the reservation.

(Editor's note: Earlier this summer President Nixon in a special message to Congress called for more aid to the American Indian. UPI sent newsman Peter M. Kelly and photographer Joseph C. Marquette to the sprawling Navajo Indian Reservation in New Mexico, Arizona and Utah, to take a look at the Navajo in 1970.)

By PETER M. KELLY

MONUMENT VALLEY, Utah (UPI) — The tourists, in sneakers and Bermuda shorts, sit on folding chairs in the headquarters of this 35,000-acre tribal park watching a slide show on Navajo Indian life.

One slide shows a young Navajo girl, dressed in a purple velvet blouse, colorful skirt and sandals, standing in front of a log lean-to. She is smiling at the camera but the shack brings sighs of sympathy.

"This is a Navajo girl," the narrator says. "The house behind her is called a hogan. It's one of the earliest types of Navajo structures."

You do not have to go far from the slide show to find an off-screen hogan. About four miles from where the tourists sit, at the base of the towering Three Sisters Butte, the two daughters of Mrs. Betty Cloy, 38, lie asleep in the twilight on two of three beds in a shack that is a duplicate of the one in the slide.

Mrs. Cloy sits on the third bed. She is dressed in a dirty white shirt and skirt and wears heavy white socks on her feet. Mrs. Cloy, a Navajo, has an annual income of $1,630. She makes $550 selling rugs to tourists and the rest of the money comes from welfare.

Mrs. Cloy says she never heard that President Nixon wanted to do more for the American Indian. Her main worry is where she will get fresh water for her family for the next day.

Mrs. Cloy is one of 120,000 Navajo Indians living on the reservation the size of West Virginia that is bounded by mountains of the Continental Divide and covers portions of New Mexico, Arizona and Utah.

In population, the Navajo is not vanishing. But in an age of spaceflight and moonwalks, he's vanished from the concern of most Americans.

Poverty among the Navajos is not the exception; it is the rule. It exists in Mrs. Cloy's hogan. It exists in every hogan scattered throughout this park of shattered red rock columns and high buttes that resemble broken teeth.

And the fallout from the reservation-wide poverty, which many tourists who spraypaint their initials on the park rocks don't see, is high infant mortality, drunkenness, malnutrition, pneumonia, filth and, with some Navajos, a sense of despair.

The combination of all of these has bred a bitterness against the white man that is unconcealed and, to the Navajo, justified.

The bitterness is pictured in a factory worker at Shiprock, many tourists who spray paint N.M., who signals for a tribal policeman with a piece of broken mirror to run off a photographer. In Monument Valley, a Navajo answers a reporter's question by spitting.

Frankie Todachine, a Navajo ranger in the valley says the white man earned the bitterness. "During every election," Todachine said, "the politicians come to the reservation and promise everything. But it never comes."

Unlike some other minority groups, many of the Navajos don't care if they're assimilated into the white man's society. A Public Health Service official said, "The Navajo has an inclination to turn into himself and rely first on the tribe and himself before going outside to the white man."

The shack in which Mrs. Cloy, her daughters and three sons live is their summer home. The chinks between the logs let in the evening breezes. In the winter, the family lives four feet away in a conical mud hogan. The thick walls of the building keep out the cold.

The log shack was given Mrs. Cloy by a movie company which left it after filming a western in the valley five years ago. The hogan of mud was built by her late husband. Mrs. Cloy has never lived in anything but a hogan. She's never had running water or electricity. Her stove is the top of an old oil drum. She weaves at night by the light from a kerosene lamp.

Paved roads fun along the edges of the reservation, but very few extend into it. The unpaved roads usually are nothing more than hard dirt or clay and when it rains, they become impassable.

Except in areas near federal or tribal agencies, jobs are scarce. Navajos liviing in isolated areas measure their possessions in the number of sheep and horses they own.

At Shiprock, Tom Lee lives 200 yards from an instruments plant in a World War II Army tent with a wife and three children. He makes $66 per week working on components for computers. His children play on ground baked white by the sun and littered with empty beer cans.

Lee is 34 and says he got his job at the plant six months ago. "I used to be a cleaning man," he said. "I used to sweep up the dust. I've got a good job now."

Gallup is a town of about 14,000 and each weekend hundreds of Navajos pack its bars to drink. The problem of Indian drunkenness in Gallup is acute and social workers recently opened a "crash pad" for Navajos to use when the city's detention center is filled.

In one of the bars, a glass of tokay wine costs 45 cents. The bar whiskey is 60 cents a shot. The more expensive brands of liquor cost 75 cents.

The causes of Navajo drunkenness are tied in with the Indian's environment, according to physicians and social workers. Buck Chambers, a 65-year-old Navajo working with the Office of Economic Opportunity, says the problem in modern life "is going too fast for the people. There is nothing else to do."

On the east side of Gallup a psychologist, working at an abandoned garage used to house the spillover of drunks says he has no answer to the problem. "All I can do is see they are cleaned up and refer them to rehabilitation programs at the PHS hospitals."

At a gasoline station between Chinle, and Mexican Hat, Ariz., two bearded hippies with knapsacks under their arms lounge against a soda pop machine. One of them wears a brown, floppy hat with a wide brim.

Earlier in the summer, the word went out that a group of hippies planned to hold a rock festival on the reservation. Startled officials of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, which administers the reservation, checked the story out and found it was only rumor.

But there are hippies on the reservation. Officials know of no established communes like those that exist only a few hours away outside Taos, N.M., but there is a continual flow of the flower children passing through the reservation each day.

Chambers and other Navajos don't like hippies very much. "I see them," Chambers said. "I don't talk to them much."

Welfare programs provide money for most of the families each month. The payments vary, according to the size of the family.

Health care is available free through a reservation-wide system of Public Health Service hospitals. The Baptist and Presbyterian churches are active on the reservation in assisting the Indian. The Presbyterian Church once tried to run a hospital at Ganado but it went broke.

Overlooking Beautiful Valley, the tribe has built one rest stop. "If the white man owned this valley," Chambers said, "he would put up an observatory telescope and charge people money to look at the valley. This is what the Indian should do.

"But I'd rather be a Navajo than a white man.

IN THE SHADE — A woman called Grandmother Bayashee who cannot remember her age sits in the shade of her hogan. She is deaf and has poor eyesight. Tribesmen look at her and say, "She is too old, she is going to die soon. We don't need to build her a house."

ALMA WELLS works a full day as a staff nurse at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael, then goes on to four to five-hour-rehearsals six nights a week with the San Francisco Opera chorus. The Three Careers Of Alma Wells

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Alma Wells (Mrs. James Wells) of Marin City has three careers — housewife-mother, nurse and opera singer.

Very appropriate, therefore, is her philosophy of life, which she says can be summed up in a quotation from Jack London: "I would rather be ashes than dust . . . I would rather be a superb meteor with every atom in magnificent glow than to be a sleepy and permanent planet."

Alma was night supervisor at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael until she had to change her schedule when she was accepted after auditions held last spring for the San Francisco Opera chorus. She is now working a full day shift as staff nurse at the hospital and rehearsing for the fall opera season four to five hours, six nights a week.

THE WIFE of James Wells, who is employed with the U.S. Post Office, she is the mother of two children, Karen Therese, 13, and Kevin, 11.

"I've always worked night shifts," she explains, "so that I could be with the children when they were small."

Since she was graduated from San Rafael High School, the College of Marin with a nursing scholarship given by the California Federation of Women's Clubs, and St. Mary's College of Nursing in San Francisco, Alma has held several night supervisorial positions.

For a year following her graduation from St. Mary's she was a night charge nurse at St. Mary's Hospital, went on to become head nurse at San Rafael General Hospital four years and then became evening supervisor for a year and a half at the Lawton House Convalescent Hospital in San Francisco before starting at the Kaiser Hospital in 1966.

SINGING HAS been part of her life ever since she was a child.

"I was the youngest of four children in Magnolia, Ark.," she says. "My mother had a lovely voice, and we all sang. I participated in the College of Marin Opera Workshop and with the Festival Theatre in San Anselmo, but I didn't study voice seriously until four years ago when I started vocal lessons with Mme. Bella Resek in Mill Valley.

"Since then I have given a great many private recitals in the Bay Area in churches and concert halls."

The young lyric soprano also sings in the choir at the Village Baptist Church in Marin City, where her brother, the Rev. Samuel L. Banks, is a pastor.

Only 5'2" tall but sturdy, with lots of endurance, Alma has black eyes that fairly sparkle as she speaks of her enthusiasms.

"Music in any form is a creative thing. I enjoy all types, but I especially like opera," she says, "because it depicts life and has more dramatic meaning to me. I also like

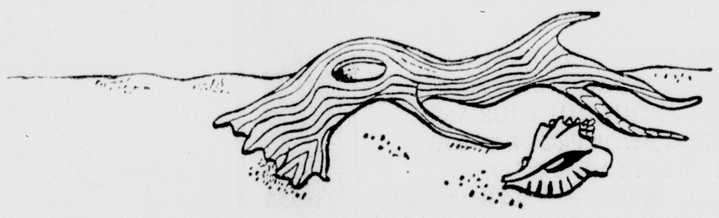
POLLUTION BEGINS AT HOME

Phosphates Trigger Chain Reaction

By DONALD S. PHILLIPS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Much of America's water pollution problem begins with the rinse cycle of your automatic washing machine or dishwasher.



When the detergent or presoak is flushed into the sewer, it carries with it into our lakes and rivers 2.5 billion pounds per year of phosphate, the miracle ingredient that made modern washday products possible.

Phosphate washing compounds are not poison and by themselves pollute nothing. It is safe to wash baby's diapers in them. In fact, phosphorus is one of a number of chemicals that are necessary to all life.

But most scientists now agree that the excess phosphate compounds that man is dumping into his environment through such sources as detergents and farm chemicals are triggering a form of pollution that can turn relatively shallow lakes into useless stinking bogs.

When certain other ingredients — such as carbon and nitrogen — already abound in the lake, the excess phosphates cause an overgrowth of tiny water plants called algae. The algae grow into a thick mass of scum. When they die, they not only smell, but use up the oxygen in the water, killing the fish. The lake is rendered useless.

As the algae pollution becomes worse, the pollutants settle to the bottom of the lake, making the lake even shallower. Sunlight then raises the temperature of the lake, accelerating the process. The lake turns into a bog or swamp and eventually the swamp becomes dry land.

This is the process mainly responsible for the pollution problem in Lake Erie and the Potomac River around Washington.

The process, known as eutrophication, is not an isolated or a minor problem. A top government official involved in environmental problems said in an interview that "of all the emerging water pollution problems, eturophication will be the major problem."

Even the most modern treatment plant can't take phosphates from sewage without a special secondary treatment process.

Phosphates are not always the culprit. Sometimes an increase in carbon, nitrogen or the other life-giving chemicals starts the process. But phosphates according to present scientific knowledge create the problem in the majority of the cases.

The housewife who wants to help in the battle against pollution has a dilemma. She is showered with advertising slogans and is told constantly of the "active green granules" and "perma power brighteners" and "active enzymes" that will lift her to a cloud of washday bliss.

Nowhere on her detergent box is she told that it contains phosphates, much less the quantity of the compound.

One major manufacturer, Proctor & Gamble, is advertising that it is substituting a new ingredient for some of the phosphate in two of its products, Gain and Cheer. Even so, one of its major competitors complained at a Senate hearing that even after the reduction, these products still had more phosphates than his company's products.

The housewife hears presoaks called "enzyme presoaks." Actually, they are mostly phosphate pre-soaks. Pre-soaks require a higher percentage of phosphates than any other washday product.

Other possible detergent pollution problems are being studied. Some scientists contend that an unacceptable amount of arsenic is being dumped into lakes and streams from improperly produced phosphates.

Other scientists and consumer advocates, including Ralph Nader, have charged that enzymes are dangerous. Nader said enzymes can cause lung and skin diseases.

It has been known for about 40 years that excess phosphates could cause this type of pollution.

Yet, it is only in the past five years that a coordinated, concentrated effort has been initiated to discover the true gravity of the problem and to develop an acceptable substitute for phosphates.

The effort has been marked by conflicting scientific "facts," backbiting among competing detergent manufacturers and foot dragging by the joint industry-government panel that was supposed to seek a solution to the problem.

In two years, the industry-government panel met only 13 times, recommended that nothing be done about phosphates in detergents "at this time," and said its greatest accomplishment was "the establishment of a common meeting ground."

Even the Interior Department took a go-slow attitude until it was pressed by Congress.

The point of dispute is whether it would do any real good to remove phosphates from detergents, which account for about one third of the problem. The industry claims that so much phosphate comes from other sources such as human wastes and agricultural fertilizers that removal of phosphates from detergents would not help.

The industry says an immediate replacement of phosphates would simply give the housewife less cleaning power at greater cost, and that the replacement substance might be a worse pollutant than phosphates.

It sees the answer to the problem as special waste treatment processes to remove all the offending ingredients from the water, including phosphates from all sources.

Other scientists and government leaders concede waste treatment is necessary, but say it will be many years before enough treatment plants can be built. They claim that eliminating phosphates from detergents would at least slow eutrophication until other measures could be taken.

Phosphates are used mainly as a water softener. They are present in all except for a few experimental detergents. In fact, automatic washing machines cannot clean efficiently without phosphates or an acceptable substitute, and automatic dishwashers must use detergents with high concentrations of phosphates. Soap cannot be used in automatic machines.

The detergent industry says there is no known safe substitute for phosphates, although one ingredient — sodium nitrolotriacetate, or NTA — is being marketed in one liquid detergent and as a partial substitute for phosphates in some powdered detergents.

Lever Brothers' Liquid All is the only American detergent using NTA in place of phosphates.

So far, it is not a suitable total substitute in powdered detergents for various reasons, including a tendency to cake in the box. In addition, spokesmen for the industry say that although NTA is safe for home use, there is still not enough evidence it would not cause a worse pollution problem than phosphates if used in massive amounts.

One small company — a subsidiary of Sears Roebuck & Co. — has announced but has not yet marketed a phosphate-free powdered detergent. The company is keeping the formula a closely guarded secret. It says it simply restructured its old formula and left out the phosphate.

By HELEN BOTTEL

Five Years Is Too Long To Kow-Tow To A Married Bachelor

DEAR HELEN:

Marriage: five years ago. Children: two. But what kind of married life is it when your husband takes off any time he gets peeved?

Dave is gone again now, for the 12th time in five years. He said I bugged him and he couldn't stand the pressure.

But: he comes by whenever he feels like it, takes us for a Sunday drive, out to a show. Then again, he'll call to invite us somewhere and never show up. The children are naturally upset by this uncertainty. So am I.

He has a girlfriend. He's always had a girl on the side, as he says he needs someone to talk to and he can't communicate with me.

I suggested that he either see a marriage counselor, or we talk to a lawyer. He vetoed both. Says he needs time to figure out what he wants in life. Isn't five years enough? — NOT GETTING ANY YOUNGER

DEAR NOT:

Your husband has had time enough. What he needs now is an ultimatum. Tell him you want either a full-time husband and father for your children or a clean break, for you're through kow-towing to a married bachelor. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

As a volunteer aid in a local hospital, I have been particularly concerned over the problems of unwed mothers. It seems that so many want to keep their babies, but most have been talked into giving them away. The emotional upset of having your own flesh and blood taken from you because "it's for your own good" is enough to make one wonder what's happening in today's society.

Often a girl who gives up her baby regrets it deeply later on. Often she would have been able to support the child. Too late she realizes that a baby does not interfere with a good marriage.

Rather than getting all one-sided counsel, I think a girl should talk with unmarried mothers who have kept their babies — then make her decision. There shouldn't be a stigma attached to the illegitimate any more. That's for the 18th century. — K.A.

DEAR K.:

The stigma is fast disappearing — but the problems of raising a child alone still remain. It's a tremendous decision — whether to give away or keep your baby — and many girls these days are deciding for the latter. The pressure toward adoption is not as great as it once was. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm writing in regard to the person who said she was inspected by department store security guard. ("As an example," not through suspicion.)

My husband is security manager for a big chain. He and the general manager were shocked by this letter. It couldn't have happened as told except in a place where there are no regulations. Even so, this invasion of privacy should have been reported to the labor commission or other agency, even if it meant that the employee thus inspected lose her job.

Helen, before any person may be touched, a crime must be proven. Even then, the only person who is allowed to strip a suspect is the court matron at the police station.

Few realize the risks involved in retail security. No store can afford a law suit so the detectives must use extreme caution. My husband has handled people with knives, guns, narcotics, stolen cars, etc. He has had clothes ripped, been struck and threatened, yet he must be certain of guilt before acting. If the "inspector" really did strip store personnel, I hope the store is justly punished. — WIFE OF A DETECTIVE

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

No Waste

A few spoonfuls of uncooked ground beef needn't be wasted. Brown it quickly in a skillet and toss it with shredded cheese just long enough to melt the cheese. Serve bread, on toast or a toasted bun.

Remove Glue

Most glue can be removed from washable items by soaking them in warm soap suds.

ON BEING BLACK

Protection Of All Children Should Be Community Effort

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

It was just one of 1,001 trips around the corner to the neighborhood grocery store that my daughter had made this summer — a loaf of bread for Mom, a can of tuna for ailing Mrs. Jones and bubble gum for herself.

Glancing at my watch, I knew she had been gone longer than usual. I walked to the corner and glanced down the busy street. The entranceway to the store, a block and a half away, could be seen from where I stood.

As I waited, I noticed a man standing idly on the corner directly across the street from me. At that moment I attached no particular significance to his presence. He, too, was looking in the direction of the store.

SHORTLY, I saw my little one's natural coiffured head emerge from the store and come bobbing in my direction. My first impulse was to walk back to the house quickly, before she saw me. Like most children, she likes the feeling of carrying out a mission completely by herself. But, for some reason, I decided to wait for her.

As she neared the middle of the block, the man stepped into the center of the sidewalk, blocking her path. She kept walking, but hastily moved to the far side of the sidewalk in an attempt to go around him. He moved in front of her again, stopping her.

For a minute, I was dumbfounded. In the next instance, I flew across the street, speechless with fury.

"Oh," he backed up feebly. "This your kid?"

Smoke had to be pouring out of my ears. I had an impulse to jump on him and scratch his eyes out.

Nervously he stuttered, "Ummmm, that's why you were on that corner."

My voice finally came back. "Yeah, I was on that corner because there are people like you on this corner!"

"AW LADY, I wasn't going to hurt her. I was just talking to her . . . wanna give her a dollar 'cause she's so cute." He waved the dollar bill he held in his hand uncertainly as he backed away. Then he turned and ran.

Perhaps the man had no ill intentions. But I still shudder to think what might have happened if I had not been standing on that corner at that minute. And the incident caused me again to concern myself and my neighbors with the problem of protection for our children.

Survival in the inner cty, with increased population, crowded conditions and greater numbers of frustrated and deranged people on the streets, is somewhat of a dilemma for city parents. On the one hand, since we do live in the city, we know that our children must learn survival techniques which are applicable to city life and to overprotect them — that is, to attempt to test-tube their daily existences — would be to deprive them of those vital survival techniques which they must acquire through a certain degree of experience. Still, we must protect them insofar as possible, while they are learning to handle themselves, from the obvious and ever-present dangers in the inner city.

What can and should we parents be doing to provide the best possible and safest arena for our children to grow?

Even though most children tire of hearing the standard warnings, "Don't talk to, don't ride with and don't take money from strangers" is still a vital code for their day-to-day safety.

CHILDREN SHOULD walk to and from school in groups and should be told to come straight home from school. Parents should know what time their children should be at any given location. Working parents should arrange for a neighbor to 'check in' their children from school.

Special features you'll enjoy:

It's not just the steaks and burgers that draw the big crowds to Cal's Steak House in San Rafael on Wednesday nights. It's banjo music as well. Every Wednesday evening the Marin Banjo Band, a colorful aggregation of amateur musicians headed by Milton Chambers, sounds off with "Bye Bye Blues," "Alabama Bound" and other old favorites. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown writes about the banjo band for tomorrow's issue of the I-J's weekend supplement.

The history of the forts that stand guard around the Golden Gate goes well back into the 19th Century. But you don't have to go that far back to discover just how many changes these forts have seen. A World War II veteran visited the forts, noted some of those changes, and reminisced about how things were when he was stationed there in the 1940s. The Marin Magazine tomorrow shares some of his recollections with you, plus some historic photos of the army forts.

A high government source said, however, that a list of ingredients furnished to him by the company did not support the rumor. He said first indications were that the product "looks good."

Big companies are watching the product closely because the Sears company uses a mixing process to make its detergent while they use a spray-dry method. If the Sears product proves to be the answer to phosphates, it would cost the big companies millions of dollars to set up similar processes.

Eutrophication is a natural process, but man has vastly accelerated the process in the last half century.

For instance, it is estimated that in the last 50 years man has accelerated the age of Lake Erie by more than 15,000 years.

Erie, perhaps the classic example of how man can kill a lake, is one of thousands of lakes and streams suffering from eutrophication.

Despite the complexity of the problem, there are hopeful signs.

Charles G. Bueltman, technical director of the Soap and Detergent Association, said in an interview that in addition to NTA there is a family of materials that "shows a lot of promise" as a phosphate substitute.

But he said it will take 7 to 10 years to fully test and market such a product.

The sewage treatment industry already knows how to remove phosphates from sewage, and the government is shooting towards a target date of 1978 for inaugurating special treatment processes in most of the country's major cities.

In the middle of the conflict is the government, including Congress. House hearings on the problem have been completed and Senate hearing are almost complete. Legislation being considered includes immediate removal of phosphates from detergents, prohibition of pre-soaks, and requiring manufacturers to list the amount of phosphates in their products.

jazz, but it requires an entirely different phrasing that I can't do so well.

"Leontyne Price is my ideal, and I would love to be an opera star like her, but it doesn't matter that I probably will not be. With music as with anything in life you continue to grow. The most important thing of all is to find one's self and function as a human being. Nursing is a way of giving, and when I'm giving, I'm happy."

TO THOSE who ask how she manages to go on to opera rehearsals after a full day at the hospital, Alma says, "Going to opera rehearsals after working all day is like taking a tranquilizer, I love it so much."

More physical activity is about the last thing one would think this dynamic young woman would need, but she says skiing, swimming and bicycling help her to keep in good condition and in contact with her children.

Alma will be performing with the chorus in five operas this fall, "Otello," "Tosca," "Carmen," "Nabucco" and "Faust."

Larger Variety Of Meats Offered In The Supermarkets This Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service says food shoppers will find a larger variety of meats at their markets this weekend than a week earlier.

Beef selections will include ground beef, round, chuck, and pot roasts, and in pork: bacon, smoked picnics, fresh ham, and Boston butts. Broiler-fryers and turkeys will be on hand in poultry.

Vegetable counters will offer cabbage, carrots, celery, sweet corn, onions, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Fruits will include cantaloupes, peaches, watermelons, dried prunes, and canned fruit cocktail.

Fish in good supply will include fillets, canned tuna, and fresh and frozen salmon.

Agriculture's plentiful foods list for August includes wheat products, summer vegetables, watermelons, fresh peanuts and peanut products and, in certain areas, canned grapefruit sections.

Here is a rundown of food supplies in the West:

Eggs are 1 to 3 cents a dozen higher in all West Coast markets. Beef prices are mixed while pork prices are mostly lower. Beef ribs are 1 to 5 cents a pound higher and loins are 1 to 2 cents lower in all West Coast markets.

Pork loins and Boston butts are 3 to 4 cents lower in San Francisco and as much as 10 to 11 cents lower in Los Angeles. Spareribs are 5 cents lower in Portland and 2 to 3 cents lower in California. Smoked hams are 3 to 5 cents lower and fully cooked hams are as much as 5 cents higher in San Francisco.

Broiler-fryers are 1 to 2 cents lower in California.

Fruits and vegetables in best supply include bananas, cantaloupes, oranges, strawberries, watermelons, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, potatoes, and tomatoes.

STUDENT DISSENT

Fall Rebellions Will Reach Into Intermediate Grades

WASHINGTON (UPI) —"The alarm bell of student dissent is ringing loud and clear across the land and it's not about to be stilled any time soon."

So does the National Education Association (NEA) spell out the problems educators and the communities will face as another school year nears.

Dissent and rebellion will dip even into the intermediate grades, says NEA.

The prediction of more disturbances comes from a recent survey of violence in the classroom, a study done by the Office of Students and Youth of the U.S. Office of Education (USOE).

How to deal with the situation? Educators generally agree that students have a right to be heard, provided their "voices are not too shrill and are not accompanied by acts of violence."

The National Association of Secondary School Principals, an affiliate of NEA, has prepared guidelines for dealing with dissent. They're in "the Reasonable Exercise of Authority" by Robert L Ackerly.

Among the guidelines for fair treatment of student dissenters:

FREEDOM OF expression.

"Freedom of expression cannot legally be restricted unless its exercise interferes with the orderly conduct of classes and school work." Students may express opinions through speech, wearing buttons, etc., "so long as such actions do not intrude upon the rights of other during school hours."

Personal appearance: "A student is free to adopt his own hair style and manner of dress provided his action deos not present a hazard in such school activities as shop or lab work. Ruled out are extreme styles that are likely to create classroom disorder or such items as boots with cleats that create a school maintenance problem.

Codes of behavior: "These should be what school officials believe to be reasonable and fair" and necessary for the protection of rights of others and of the school.

DISCIPLINE: "We recommend again that rules governing in-school discipline be established only after full participation of students and other concerned parties. Serious breaches of discipline or any accommulation of minor breaches "must be handled by due process."

Student government: The scope . . . should be a matter of public record. This means, among other things, a published charter or constitution. Such a charter should be the result of joint agreement among administration, faculty and students."

Student press: "School-sponsored publications should be free from policy restrictions outside of the normal rules for responsible journalism."

Drugs: Students are required to obey the same laws on school grounds as elsewhere- . . . "school uthaorities have the same responsibility as every other citizen to report violations of the law."

Dog Tosses Infant To Death

LONDON (UPI)—A German shepherd dragged a 26-day-old girl from her baby carriage Thursday and tossed her to her death, police said. The dog later was destroyed.

The victim's grandfather, George Howard, 42, and her uncle, Anthony Howard, 16, beat the animal with a broom and made it drop the infant, but she was dead on arrival at Lewisham Hospital, police said.

A Ministry of Agriculture spokesman said veterinarians would examine the dog's body to determine if it had rabies.

The child was in a carriage in the back garden of her home when the dog suddenly rushed at the carriage, dragged the infant out and began tossing her about.

Minuteman III Firings Made

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—The Air Force began a series of demonstrations and shakedown launches of its new Minuteman III Intercontinental Ballistic Missile early today.

A crew from the Strategic Air Command's 394th Strategic Missile Squadron launched one of the new missiles down the Western Test Range at 2 a.m. (EDT).

The Minuteman III, designed to replace the older Minuteman missiles in the near future, is a 76,000 pound, three stage solid-fuel vehicle with a range of more than 7,000 nautical miles at a speed of better than 15,000 miles per hour.

World Airways Halts Order For Three 747s

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — World Airways, one of the country's largest charter lines, announced today it has withdrawn its order for three Boeing 747s because of the "uncertain future" of charter carriers.

Edward J. Daly, president, said the Civil Aeronautics Board has proposed new charter rules "that would severely restrict rather than encourage charter operations.

World had 747s on order for delivery in 1972. It now has a fleet of 707 intercontinental fan jets and six 727 intermediate jets.

Safe 747 Landing

LONDON (UPI) — A Pan American 747 jumbo jet flying between Amsterdam and New York had to divert to London Thursday with suspected engine trouble. Emergency landing preparations were put in force at London's Heathrow Airport but the plane landed safely.

MOSCOW TELEVISION

World War II Is Hottest TV Topic

By JAMES O' JACKSON

World War II outranks news, views, quiz shows and commercials as a topic for television programming in the Soviet Union. It is fought, refought, analyzed, memembered and deplored in a thousand different ways with millions of feet of film, color or black and white.

Hardly a night goes by without some television reference to the war, be it a full-length documentary or the laying of a wreath at one of the thousands of war memorials in the Soviet Union. Anniversaries of great battles, national holidays, and generals' birthdays can be the occasion for five hours of World War II coverage during prime time.

If the endless parade of tanks, guns and battleships across the screen is wearing to viewers, they at least need not watch commercials. Sales messages on Moscow television are as rare as war films are frequent, although some tentative moves toward commercials have been made.

Between the war films Moscow television keeps its programming high in the cultural clouds, giving Soviet viewers a steady diet of ballet, opera, drama, folk dancing and feature films.

Some of the films are new and first rate. Early this year Moscow television showed the entire eight-hour production of "War and Peace" in four nightly instalments.

Most films, however, are old and bland. Few modern American films have made Soviet television, although such nonpolitical productions as "The Glenn Miller Story" have been shown, and Charlie Chaplin movies are popular.

Sometimes, Soviet Television treats its viewers to the lowbrow. A quiz show, called "Auction", appears on an irregular basis. Persons giving correct answers to questions can win a car, a television set, or baskets of food.

There is no such thing as a situation comedy. But comedy is not unheard of. There is a monthly show called "13 Chairs" with a format similar to America's "Laugh-in"—except for the jokes. A sample groaner:

Housewife: "I woke up last night and saw a man going through my purse".

Friends: "Did you kill him?"

Housewife: "Of course not. I don't want to be a widow."

If the cultural quality of Moscow television fare is generally high, its news standards are not.

As with all of Soviet journalism, television news must serve the party and the state control is so rigid, and penalties for idealogical mistakes so severe, that editors invariably err on the side of caution. The result is that news usually is ignored, misplayed, or altered.

The landing of the first man on the moon was a case in point. While most of the world thrilled at the sight of Neil Armstrong lowering himself to the lunar surface, Russians watched a turgid documentary on Polish workers.

To be fair, Soviet television is no quicker on its feet when a Soviet spaceship takes off. It is usual for western newsmen to report liftoff and landing of Soviet manned flights anywhere from minutes to hours ahead of Moscow television.

Only 100,000 Troops To Leave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department says only 10,000 troops will be withdrawn from Korea next June instead of the announced 20,000 because American troop strength already was below authorized levels.

The Pentagon announced earlier authorized troop strength in Korea would be reduced from 63,000 to 43,000. At the time of the announcement there were only 53,000 American servicemen in Korea.

The cutback is the beginning of a plan to remove all U.S. forces from Korea.

Moonshine Whisky— New Pollution Victim

Federal agents said Thursday that in 24 of 40 samples of moonshine whisky seized and tested recently, there was a dangerous level of mercury pollution—sometimes as high as two parts per million.

Food and Drug Administration officials said a safe level for human consumption is one-half part per million.

Commuter Bus Plan Heads For Approval

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Golden Gate Bridge District's commuter bus plan, long stalled by San Francisco officials, appeared headed for final approval yesterday with an endorsement by the streets and transportation committee of the board of supervisors. (Another bridge district story, page 1.)

Two of the committee's three members, Terry A. Francois and Robert E. Gonzales, declared their strong support for the 132-bus system, but a vote was skipped at the insistence of chairman John A. Ertola. He said he needed more time to work out the wording of conditions he wanted included in the resolution the committee will submit to the full board for its action on Sept. 8.

Board approval of the resolution approving the bus system would clear the way for elimination of the police code's prohibition against intercity buses in the financial district.

Ertola said he probably would support the resolution, but stressed his misgiving that the system may postpone construction of rapid transit to Marin, and instead open the door to a second deck on the bridge. The result then would be to worsen traffic congestion in the city instead of relieving it, he said.

Ertola said one condition of the approval must be that the bridge district eliminate commuter discounts as soon as it begins bus service. The bridge board already has agreed to do this.

The supervisor also said he will push for having the district pay for additional traffic police the police department said would be needed to handle the buses in the financial district.

The $7.7-million bus system will serve the financial district via Sansome and Battery streets, and the Civic Center via Van Ness Avenue.

Minor Injuries As Autos Collide

Two persons received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 9:29 a.m. yesterday at Mission Avenue and Irwin Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for a sprained back was John Grupe, 17, of 7 Adrian Way, San Rafael. Treated for a cut knee and sprained shoulder was Kathleen Marie Keith, 23, of 92 Deer Hollow Road, San Anselmo.

Keith, going north on Irwin, was cited for failure to stop at a red light and Grupe, going east on Mission, was cited for driving with an altered driver's license, according to poilce.

FAMILY

"Boatniks" — Disney's slapstick sea comedy offers light summer entertainment for the family.

"Funny Girl" — Partly fictionalized biography of comedienne Fanny Brice. Streisand recreates her Broadway musical role that is extravagantly mounted and lavishly costumed.

"Hello Dolly" — Delightfully entertaining family fare set in Yonkers and New York City in 1890 with lavish, imaginative sets and delightful choreography. "most fun musical of the year." Barbara Streisand stars as the charming, conniving matchmaker.

"Out-of-Towners" — Very broad satire of hazards of New York life and misadventures of a small city businessman who brings his wife along for a job interview. Hilarious comedy.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Airport" — Absorbing and gripping drama of an evening to morning account of the workings of a large international airport during a blizzard. Film is almost unbearably tense for nervous adults, and is certainly not for children.

"Bullet for Pretty Boy" — This mediocre film follows the career of Pretty Boy Floyd and his gang of bank robbers. Story ends when G-men gun down Pretty Boy. Children, no.

"Cheyenne Social Club" — Two carefree cowpokes inherit a bawdy house with six prostitutes. It is adult material masquerading as family fare. t lacks wit, taste and honesty. Stewart and Fonda deserve a better vehicle.

"Paint Your Wagon" — A lusty, irreverent script is framework for a musical set in a mining camp during Gold Rush days. Elaborately mounted broad comedy, racous and at times tasteless, not suitable for young children.

"Patton" An unusually well made film with a brilliant characterization by George C. Scott. Very strong dialogue.

"Reivers" — A weekend adventure when an 11-year-old boy loses his childhood innocence and discovers the waywardness of man. Story has good human values, but it is regrettable that the action in a brothel makes the film unsuitable for younger audiences.

"Sterile Cuckoo" — A kooky college girl and a boy who is serious and square. Their love affair and first sex experience are told with simplicity and insight. Acting excellent.

"Z" — Remarkable film about a political assassination. Powerful combination of action and suspense providing profound insights into today's troubled politics. Subtitles in English.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Bloody Mama" — Story of the Barker Gang. Kate Barker and her four sons are shown to be a psychotic and morally bankrupt family of conscienceless killers. Murder, robbery and sex ruled their lives.

"Getting Straight" — Satiric melodrama that tries to give both sides of student rebellion on college campuses as experienced by a student-teacher. Violence and sex scenes and foul language are abundant.

ADULTS ONLY

"Beyond the Valley of Dolls" — Director Russ Meyer has made 19 sexploitation films, but none as sick and offensive as this. Countless graphic sex scenes show how three innocent girls are destroyed by their contact with the drug society, with homosexuals, sadists and nymphomaniacs. Sex, nudity and cursing.

"Coogan's Bluff — A lawman is sent by a sheriff in Arizona to New York to bring back a murderer who is a dope addict. Much violence and explicit sex. Children, no — excessively brutal.

"Loving" — The quiet desperation of suburban life is artfully explored in story of a commercial artist on the brink of disaster. Realistic frank language, sex scenes.

"M.A.S.H." — Hilarious, subtle anti-war comedy of three army surgeons who develop outlandish life-style to survive the gore that passes before their eyes. Sex, nudity and profanity.

"Two Mules for Sister Sara" — Set in Old Mexico during period the Mexican Guerillas were attempting to chase the French out of their country. The two leading characters are an American mercenary and a prostitute disguised as a Catholic nun. Plot is unconvincing and language is foul. A trite comedy.

The name Winnipeg comes from the Cree Indian word "Win-nipiy," meaning murky or muddy water.

New Sewer Line Granted For Bolinas

I-J Special Report

HAYWARD — A special exemption to the ban on new sewer connections in Bolinas was granted yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control oBard.

John R. Pepper of Bolinas was granted the exemption on the ground he had a hardship because of a physical disability. The disability obliged him to have a single level home, but he had not been able to find one, he told the board. Thus he needed permission to build a new home, and to connect it to the community's sewer system.

The board has ordered a ban on new connections until the community builds a sewage treatment plant, due for completion in 1972. The community's sewers now dump raw sewage into the mouth of Bolinas Lagoon, causing gross pollution, according to board findings.

A request for an exemption sought by Hunt Conrad of San Francisco was postponed to Sept. 24 to get documentation for his application.

Five Seek Reduction Of LSD Bail

I-J Special Report

UKIAH — Five of seven persons arrested in a narcotics raid that turned up $3 million in LSD in Fort Bragg are challenging the high bails set for them by a Mendocino County Superior Court judge.

Writs of prohibition filed with the state Supreme Court are aimed at overturning the application of an 1897 law which presumes a defendant is guilty for the setting of bail, according to defense attorney Robert Y. Bell of Santa Rosa.

All seven, four of whom are Marin residents, have been held in jail since their June 16 arrests in lieu of $50,000 cash bond or $100,000 bail bond.

FEDERAL COURT

A similar writ seeking to overturn the bail set by Superior Court Judge Wayne P. Burk has been filed in federal court system and will become active if the state court fails to set a hearing within 10 days.

The defense argues in the writs that such high bail is denial of bail for a bailable offense. Defense attorneys said that in some murder cases — a Memorial Day beating to death for example — bail was set lower.

The five who are affected by the writs are Craig Burns Champie, 20, of Fairfax, John Rene Rodigou, 23, and Michael B. Aylwin, 23, both of San Rafael, Leland Moore, 20, and Gregory Wiggins, 23, both of Santa Rosa.

NOT COVERED

Not covered by the writs are Wayne Butler, 23, of Forest Knolls and Katherine Alice Thomas, 18, of Laguna Beach.

All but the two Santa Rosa men were arrested in a dawn raid on a house that yielded enough LSD for more than a million tablets.

Wiggins was arrested the afternoon of June 16 and Moore the next day.

All seven are charged with conspiring to make LSD, manufacturing it, possessing it and possessing it for sale, and will appear Sept. 8 for hearing on a defense motion to suppress evidence.

San Quentin Returns To Normal Again

Except for some sporadic wash basin and toilet smashing during the night conditions at San Quentin Prison returned to normal today for the first time since an inmate strike began Monday.

Irving Ritter, prison business manager, said all inmates working at prison jobs returned to work this morning.

Normal feeding procedures were resumed yesterday afternoon, he said. Inmates had been fed in four groups, rather than all together, since the disturbances began.

Ritter said there was some smashing of basins and toilets in the prison's segregation unit last night, although the extent of it had not been determined.

As of yesterday, 90 toilets, 62 washbasins, 25 beds and 20 light fixtures had been destroyed since Monday.

The trouble began Monday with a 10-minute strike and presentation of a list of demands to Warden Louis S. Nelson.

A strike by 800 inmates Tuesday was ended when officials fired tear gas into the yard in which the prisoners had congregated.

Among the inmates' demands were the naming of a black warden and granting of political asylum in communist countries to condemned prisoners.

No action has been taken on the demands and none is contemplated, Ritter said.

Fine Or Jail

Robert James Woldhagen, 45, of San Francisco, yesterday was ordered by Judge David R. Baty in Marin Municipal Court, to pay a fine of $350 by Oct. 1 or go to jail for 10 days. Woldhagen was found guilty on a drunken driving charge that originated in Sausalito on April 15, 1968.

Bay Air Pollution: No Sign Of Letup

By DAVID DIETZ

STANFORD — A nationwide team of 20 professors concluded yesterday that air quality in the Bay Area has worsened and shows no sign of improvement.

The educators, who reached the conclusion after an 11-week study of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, recommended broad expansion of the agency's activities to attack dirty air.

And such an expansion, the report suggested, should include a program that would give the district the power to inspect automobiles for smog control — a jurisdiction heretofore reserved exclusively by the state.

While cautious not to criticize the district's activities to date, even observing warmly that the agency has "tried hard" to curb dirty air, the professors' report nevertheless called for a virtual turnabout in the agency's anti-pollution methods. It went on to issue a sweeping series of recommendations aimed at improving the monitoring of pollutants and in sharply decreasing their levels.

The report, released at a news conference at the university here, culminated a summer workshop sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the American Society of Engineering Education. Most of the 20 participants represented engineering fields.

"Air pollution in the Bay Area has become steadily worse, despite the actions of the BAAPCD," the report said. "The district has slowed the rate of air pollution, but it has not been able to stem the tide, far less been able to clean up Bay Area air to pre-1950 conditions."

While placing much of the blame for worsening pollution on industrial and automobile growth, the report said a contributing reason was the district's "narrow interpretation of its mission, an absence of clearly stated goals and methods to achieve these goals"

It outlined how, through improved methods of measuring air quality, the daily tonnage of certain pollutants released into the air by more than 30,000 stationary sources (i.e., industrial smokestacks) and about 2.5 million automobiles could be substantially reduced within five years and, if the district wished to go slower, 10 years.

This would insure, the report said, that "average air quality in the Bay Area does not exceed standards established by the State Air Resuroces Board on the emission of such hazardous pollutions as particulate matter, sulfur dioxide, oxides of nitrogen, carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons.

"It should be a specific goal of the district not to exceed the state air quality standards anywhere in the Bay Area at any time," the report advised. The professors defined these standards as the turning point toward "bad" air and added, "It should be a goal of the district to define and work for 'good' air."

Although the report noted that the control of auto emissions has been left to the state, it called upon the agency to initiate a revenue-producing testing program under which all cars registered in the Bay Area would be tested for smog control every two years. The professors envisioned 100 testing stations around the region at a cost estimated at $2 million to $3 million. At an inspection charge of $2 per car, the district could reap some $5 million in annual revenue, the report said.

"If the district is responsible for air quolity in the Bay Area," the professors said, "it can no longer dismiss control of the automobile on the basis that cars are not legally under its jurisdiction."

The team said it believed the district had a "legal right under its charter" to start an inspection program.

Other recommendations in the report were:

1. That the district, which now measures air quality at fixed stations, dispatch a number of mobile monitoring vans throughout the region to obtain a better idea of pollution concentration.

2. That in-stack monitoring devices be required of all large emitters. Emission averages and daily peak emission rates should be reported to the district monthly, although the level of discharges during equipment failures or during unusual operating periods should be reported hourly.

3. That the district should make use of an airshed model, similar to the Army Corps of Engineers' San Francisco Bay Model, to predict trouble periods, and that it should engage computer services for emission inventory.

A report giving technical support to the professors' recommendations is expected to be issued within two months.

Permit Granted Night Club Serving Sonoma Collegians

The Cotati Planning Commission last night granted a use permit for a nihgt club to serve Sonoma State College students, but said it would keep a close eye on its operations.

The use permit was requested by H. Ward Mailliard, a Sonoma State graduate, who recently purchased the Inn of Beginning from Gregory Cochran.

The commission first insisted that a reserve police office be on duty as a bouncer, but dropped the requirement when Mailliard vowed it would not be necessary.

The commission said that if police receive numerous complaints about the club, a police officer would be required to keep the peace and to see that no underage students are served alcoholic beverages.

In listing other requirements, the commission banned topless, bottomless and nude entertainment and said it would call an immediate rehearing on the permit should persons be found inside the club in possession or under the influence of drugs.

Five Cotati residents spoke in favor of the use permit, saying students needed some place to gather for entertainment. No opposition was heard.

The commission also met informally with Harold Heers who presented tentative plans for a subdivision on East Cotati Avenue.

Heers said he planned 307 single family houses on 58 acres with 4,500 square foot lots. He said he also planned a minimum of 144 apartment units to ease the housing crisis for Sonoma State students.

Fatal Stabbing Suspect Nabbed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Police arrested a circus worker Thursday in connection with the fatal stabbing of the San Francisco Progress' night composing room foreman.

Royston (Ed) Moor had been killed Aug. 12 as he left the newspaper with his paycheck.

The man arrested, Ronald Steven Minnick, 22, was quoted by Inspectors Gus Corrie and Herman Clark as saying he was involved but that a man he knew only as "Jerry" had done the killing.

Minnick said he was from Toledo, Ohio, had left a circus in Arizona and had hitchhiked to San Francisco.

Rec Bond Proposal Signed By Governor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A measure allowing issuance of $60 million in state bonds for building recreation facilities in conjunction with the State Water Project has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, his office announced Thursday.

The bill by Sen. William E. Coombs, R-Rialto, goes before the voters in the November election.

New Zealand Band To Perform

A performance by the New Zealand National Band and Maori Dancers on Sept. 13 will close the Marin Chest Summer Concert Series.

Gates will open at 1:30 for the 3 p.m. concert to be held in the Forest Meadows Theater next to San Rafael's Dominican College.

There will be no reserved seating and those attending are asked by the sponsors to bring folding chairs in order to insure themselves a seat.

Free Hand In Police Program Denied

Bella H. Aaron, Marin County Human Rights commissioner, yesterday denied charges that she has run a police cadet training program too independently of other commissioners.

She also denied an allegation that her police-community relations committee of the commission does not include members of minority groups.

The complaint by some fellow commissioners had been echoed at meetings of the Marin City Council.

Mrs. Aaron said the committee of which she is chairman is composed of 15 members, including several police chiefs, and has always included at least two blacks.

She said the only reason there are no blacks among the 10 cadets now in training is that the only black candidate who applied was less qualified than those chosen. She added that the committee specifically asked for minority group applicants.

Because of criticism of her operation of the police-community relations program, Mrs. Aaron asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney for an opinion on the matter, she said.

Maloney reported the operation was following precisely the contract under which Marin received $104,000 in grants from the state and the San Francisco Foundation.

The one-year cadet project which began last May is a program in which 10 cadets work 30 hours each week with police departments and attend classes at the College of Marin for an additional 10 hours a week each.

For duties of clerical and desk work which relieve regular officers for patrol and investigation, the cadets receive $100 a week.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos is also a coordinator of the project and the director is Charles F. Williams, 48, who was a specialist in police-community relations with the San Francisco Police Department before taking the Marin job.

Another phase will begin next month when 100 police officers from various Marin departments will begin training in such subjects as handling of social crises, reducing friction between police and minority groups and dealing with young people.

Marin lawyers, judges, probation officers and other specialists will teach the courses, Mrs. Aaron said.

Still another phase of the program is community education in which teams of lawyers, judges and others will visit various schools providing information on the rights and obligations of all citizens including young people.

Several public seminars are also planned, Mrs. Aaron said, in which relationships of police and the public will be explored. The first such seminar is set for 8 p.m. Sept. 9 in the Marin Civic Center.

Mrs. Aaron said her committee is also looking for representatives from various community organizations to serve on a 24-member citizens advisory committee which will give advice on the police community relations program.

Four Injured As Car Overturns

Treated for cuts at Hillcrest Hospital was the driver, Shigekatsu Uyemori, 63; and Sumiko Oshinomi, 41; and her children, Linda, 14, and Kirk, 11.

The California Highway Patrol said that Uyemori apparently dozed at the wheel, made an abrupt turn, and overturned.

Under Treatment

Hugh Everett, 21, of 15 Buena Vista, San Anselmo, who was injured yesterday when his bicycle collided with a car at West End Avenue at Sentinel Court, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition today with a broken right wrist, cuts on the right leg and multiple scrapes, at Marin General Hospital.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Van Dellen

Food supplies the energy needed by the body to function properly. These basic requirements constitute one-half to two-thirds the total dietary needs of the average office worker and housewife. Some of the calories are used by the body for energy, to keep warm, the heart to pump blood, and the lungs to convey oxygen.

The balance of food supplies energy needed for physical activity. Any excess is stored as fat. It is here that our soft life is beginning to show, especially around the waistline.

UNLESS EATING is curbed, our calorie stockpile eventually results in pronounced obesity. When unused calories are converted into weight, approximately 3,500 calories must be burned up through physical activity to lose 1 pound of fat. As we all know, it is easier to create a positive balance through proper eating than a negative balance by means of dieting and exercise.

The average active person gets along on 2,500 to 3,000 calories daily. Laborers require much more. Low caloric diets vary from 800 to 1,200 calories a day.

OUR MODERN equipment, labor saving devices, and motor vehicles spare us so much activity that in order to avoid obesity, we must become more active or eat less.

Driving a car 2½ miles burns up 17 calories. Cycling utilizes 122; walking, 210. Thus 193 more calories are burned by walking rather than riding.

The steno using a standard typewriter burns up 450 more calories than the girl who uses an electric machine. In 10 weeks, this is equivalent to a pound of weight, provided her diet remains unchanged. The farmer driving an ordinary tractor uses 150 calories an hour, but power steering reduces this to 126. When he walked behind the plow, he expended 400 calories an hour.

Returning to our original premise, it is easier to turn down a 350 calorie piece of applie pie than to do the amount of exercises required to burn up 350 calories.

NOT CURED

M.S. writes: When I had an infection several months ago, my temperature was 101 degrees and the white blood count was 25,000. Now the blood is normal but I'm running a low-grade fever and am constantly tired. What caused this situation?

REPLY

SYSTOLIC BLOW

G.B. writes: What is meant by a systolic blow in a 7-year-old child?

REPLY

A heart murmur. It may be innocent or produced by a defective valve. A congenital lesion usually is responsible if it existed since birth, whereas rheumatic heart disease is the cause if the child had rheumatic fever.

SKIN CANCER

E.D. writes: Is the cause of skin cancer known?

REPLY

No, but there is evidence that prolonged exposure to the ultraviolet rays of the sun or to radioactivity plays a role as does irritation from certain chemicals. Years ago, in England, chimney sweeps were found to be highly susceptible to skin cancer.

MOTHER'S MILK IS BEST

REPLY

Mother's milk is best because it is what God intended. Cow's milk is an excellent substitute but some babies become allergic to it.

Battery Device Triggers Bomb

OAKLAND (UPI)—A bomb that exploded July 30 in a Hall of Justice lobby was triggered by a battery-operated device, police say.

An analysis by the Internal Revenue Service's division of firearms and tobacco also showed that a zipper back cover on the bomb was at least 10 years old they said.

No one was injured in the after-hours blast.

There has been no arrest.

Cyclist Suffers Loss Of Two Toes

A 20-year-old Novato man, riding on the back of a motorcycle on the Novato-Hicks Valley Road at 11:45 p.m. yesterday, suffered the loss of two toes when his foot became caught in the sprocket mechanism.

The California Highway Patrol said Van Brock Kessler, of 1309 Leafwood Drive, Apt. 6, was injured when a motorcycle driven by Gregory G. Lehman, 20, of the same address, hit a bump and knocked his foot into the sprocket.

He was taken to Novato General Hospital and transferred to Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio in San Francisco, where he was reported in good condition today. A hospital spokesman said he lost his right big toe and part of his second toe.

Vapor Engine Is Steaming Along

NEW YORK (UPI)—William Lear, the industrialist who hinted recently he was abandoning his work on a steam engine, said Thursday work is progressing and is ahead of schedule.

Lear's steam or vapor engine would be designed to replace the internal combustion engine. He announced that it has gone through a 100-hour test "with successful results."

He is reported to have spent $5 million already on the steam engine research.

Lear has an order for a steam or vapor engine to be tested on San Francisco's public transit systems.

of the district for the whole or any part of said bonded indebtedness so authorized and may from time to time provide for the issuance of such amounts of bonds as the necessity thereof may appear, until the full amount of such bonds authorized shall have been issued. Said full amount of bonds may be divided into two or more series and different dates fixed for the bonds of each series. The maximum term which the bonds of any series shall run before maturity shall not exceed forty (40) years from the date of each series respectively.

(a) The board does hereby submit the measure to the qualified voters of the district at the election and designates and refers to the measure as the measure to be set forth in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at the election.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as provided herein and in the Municipal Water District Law of 1911 (the "law"), and in all particulars not recited in this resolution or provided in the law, the election shall be held in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as the same shall be applicable.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

The Board of Supervisors of Marin County is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect of the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said General Election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (+) may be marked with pen or pencil; except that if and to the extent that Votronic ballots are provided for absent voters, each absent voter shall stamp a mark (.) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" or opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall likewise be canvassed or caused to be canvassed by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein and in the law. The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

Section 5. Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: If the revenues of the district are or in the judgment of the board will probably be inadequate for any cause to pay the principal of or interest on said bonded debt as it becomes due, the board shall cause a tax to be levied, as provided in the law, sufficient to provide for such deficit and to pay the amount of such principal and interest as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available. The board shall annually determine the amounts necessary to be raised by taxation as aforesaid during each fiscal year and shall fix the rate or rates of tax to be levied which will raise the amounts of money required by the district, and within a reasonable time previous to the time when the Board of Supervisors of Marin County is required by law to fix its tax rate, the board shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County the rate or rates so fixed and shall furnish to the Board of Supervisors of Marin County a statement in writing containing the following: (a) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonded debt of the district as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; and (b) an estimate of the minimum amount of money required to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year for all other purposes of the district. The board shall direct that at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, said Board of Supervisors of Marin County shall levy, in addition to such other tax as may be levied by such Board of Supervisors at the rate or rates so fixed by the board, a tax upon the property within the district, and it shall be the duty of said Board of Supervisors to levy the tax as required. The board hereby determines that all taxes for the payment of the interest on or principal of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be levied upon all taxable property within the district. Said tax shall be collected at the same time, form and manner as other county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be paid to the district. All taxes for the payment of said bonded indebtedness referred to in this resolution shall be a lien on all property within the district taxable for district purposes, all of which said property is hereby stated by the board to be benefited by said bonded indebtness. All taxes for the district shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection may be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Interest on any of said bonds issued by the district and coming due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy after the sale of said bonds are available and interest on any of said bonds coming due before the expiration of one year following completion of the acquisition and construction of the works and improvements for which said bonds were issued may be paid from the proceeds of sale of said bonds.

Section 6. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need be given.

Section 7. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

Marichal Shoots For Rare 200th Victory Tonight

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Juan Marichal, the San Francisco Giants' peerless righthander, reaches out for a plateau tonight that includes only the game's greatest pitchers since the turn of the century.

The Giants, who dropped an error-filled 4-1 decision to Bob Gibson and St. Louis Cardinals Thursday afternoon, open a four-game weekend series with the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight.

Marichal, who has won his last five decisions, shoots for his 200th career victory and ninth of 1970 while pitching against Bob Moose.

When Marichal gets that 200th win, which seems certain this season, he will join a circle that includes only Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Eddie Plank, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove, George Mullin and Carl Hubbell as pitchers who won 200 games in their first 11 big league seasons.

Of course, all in that group went on to win many more games but among pitchers active today only Jim Bunning, now of the Philadelphia Phillies, has 200 career victories, and unquestionably he has been one of the finest in the last dozen years.

The last man to reach the 200 plateau was Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1966. In all, only 64 pitchers ever have won that many games in a career.

ILLNESS, FRUSTRATION

This has been a year of illness, frustration, and disappointment for the soon (Oct. 20) to be 32-year-old Marichal, who never won fewer than 13 games in any one full season.

"I'm getting more confidence in my fast ball," Marichal said after his last victory. "When I got sick I lost all the steam on my fast ball. Even though I throw a lot of other pitches that still is the one pitch I need the most to win."

Gaylord Perry had a pretty good fast ball, and slider and curve going for him Thursday as he pitched an eight-hitter but five errors did him in as he went down to his 13th loss compared to 17 victories.

TOUGH ONE

"It was a tough game to lose," Perry said, "but errors are part of the game. I'll just have to do better next time."

He hardly could improve on his latest effort. Perry got key outs when he needed them and had the Cardinals hitting his pitch most of the game.

But Gibson, who won his seventh straight, 17th in the last 19 decisions and 19th overall this season, was good, too, limiting the Giants to eight hits and keeping them from scoring in all but the first inning when a single by Willie Mays and a triple by McCovey accounted for the Giants' only run.

Gibson struck out eight and walked two and he accomplished the victory while getting the Giants to hit his breaking pitches.

"He was as good as he can be," said Giants Manager Charlie Fox. "He's the kind of pitcher you have to beat early. Otherwise he can't be had."

FOUR ERRORS

Four errors on two consecutive batters in the third helped the Cardinals to a run.

Lou Brock started the inning by hitting to third baseman Jim Hart. Hart threw wild past first and second baseman Tito Fuentes, backing up the play, threw wild into left field. When the dust cleared Brock was on third.

Ed Crosby followed by hitting wide of first to McCovey, whose throw to Perry covering was low for the third error of the game. Perry, in his hast to pick up the loose ball then inadvertently kicked it as Brock scored and Crosby raced to third.

That wasn't too bad, considering St. Louis netted only one run from the four bobbles.

In the seventh Joe Hauge singled after two out and Joe Torre rolled to third. Hart picked the ball up and had an easy force play at second but threw the ball into right field, Hague going to third and Torre to second. Both scored a moment later on a single to left by Joe Cardenal.

In the ninth, the Cardinals scored their only earned run on singles by Brock and Crosby and Hauge's sacrifice fly.

"You remember a game like that a long time, no matter what," said Perry dejectedly. "But I'll just have to try to forget it. It's gone now."

Ironically, Gibson, who now has beaten the Giants six straight times, lost last to San Francisco on Sept. 17, 1968. To beat him that time Perry had to pitch a no-hitter.

Too Late For McCovey To Repeat As Champ

Blurred vision in his right eye was a worrisome thing to Willie McCovey at the outset of the 1970 baseball season. Indeed, everyone in the Giant organization from Horace Stoneham down to the office boy was worried.

After the first eight games, McCovey was batting only .125. Was the career of the National League's MVP of 1969 coming to an untimely end? Had doctors been overly optimistic in predicting McCovey's vision would return to normal?

The doctors traced the source of McCovey's eye problem to a reaction from the medication used to treat his arthritic right knee. The medication was changed just before the Giants took off in mid-March for Japan.

It wasn't until mid-April that the eye returned to normal. Everyone knew it as McCovey hit consecutive home runs in the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth games and his batting average climbed to .189.

Since then there has been no concern about McCovey's sight. And there has been no worry about his batting average even though it hovered around .250 the next three months. The important thing was McCovey was getting the ultimate results from his hits. In mid-June he had 47 hits, 51 RBIs.

Buggywhip Swing In Groove

By the end of July McCovey's hit total was 79 and his RBIs 76. On July 31 his batting average was .258, including 20 doubles, one triple and 24 homers.

As August started McCovey had his buggywhip swing in the same groove that made him the home run and RBI champ of the National League the past two seasons. Between Aug. 1-23, McCovey hit at a .361 clip to boost his season batting average to .280. During this stretch he hit eight homers and knocked in 22 runs to boost his home run total to 32, RBIs to 98.

There is virtually no chance whatsoever of McCovey winning the home run and RBI titles again this year. Johnny Bench and others are too far ahead of him in both caegories. Furthermore, the best pitchers shun McCovey. They prefer to walk him even if they put the potential winning run of a tight ball game on base.

Last year McCovey was walked 121 times, 45 intentionally. This year he already has been walked 106 times, 33 intentionally.

Exaggerated Shift To Right

And all teams, except the Dodgers, use an exaggerated right side shift against McCovey's lefthanded pull swing. The Dodgers shift against McCovey but not as radically as other teams. Occasionally, McCovey will bunt to the left side but not very often. He bunted three times this year.

His first bunt of 1970 was a beauty May 3 in Candlestick Park against the Phillies, and Willie Mays scored from first base as the bunt rolled over Candlestick's artificial turf into left field for a double.

But McCovey is not going to make a habit of bunting even though Preston Gomez, manager of the Padres, says he would be glad to give McCovey four bunt hits per game.

"It's a little late in my career to become a Matty Alou kind of hitter," said McCovey.

New Rumor Reports

When Bing Devine paid a surprise visit to the spring training camp of the Giants March 4 this year and huddled with Horace Stoneham, the inevitable and logical conclusion was that a trade between the Cardinals and Giants was brewing.

However, no trade materialized at the time although a couple of months later the Cardinals and Giants did swap bullpen pitchers, Jerry Johnson for Frank Linzy.

Now there are new reports in circulation that the Giants and Cardinals are setting up a winter trade. And because of circumstances that developed since the March 4 meeting of Devine and Stoneham in Casa Grande, the new reports should not be ignored.

Everyone knows the Giants need pitching for 1971 unless they get super performances from young rookies now being groomed for starting roles next season. Everyone in baseball also knows that the Cardinals, especially Augie Busch, their president and owner, are extremely disappointed with Steve Carlton's record this year.

Carlton was a holdout this spring and received a tongue lashing from Busch in their salary discussions. Carlton got $25,000 in 1969. He wanted $40,000 for 1970. He was offered $31,000. Busch told him to take it or leave it, declaring "I don't care if he ever pitches another ball for us again."

In any event, when the Giants were in St. Louis a couple of weeks ago for their final 1970 Busch Stadium series with the Cardinals, Clyde King watched them in every game. Was the ex-manager of the Giants scouting them for the Cardinals, updating his already comprehensive data on the Giants?

An Embarrassing Record For A's In Loss Streak

DETROIT (UPI) — What's the record for pitchers reaching the 20-game win level against one team in a three-game series? If such statistics are kept, the Oakland Athletics have a right to be embarrassed.

The slump-ridden A's who call on John Odom 5-5 tonight in the opener of a weekend series against the Detroit Tigers, dropped their sixth straight game Thursday in Baltimore.

The Orioles won it, 6-4, and made Mike Cuellar the American League's second 20-game winner. Two nights earlier, Dave McNally reached the coveted 20 mark by stopping Oakland. And to compound matters, Jim Palmer registered his 18th victory for the Orioles in between.

10 OUT OF 11

As for the A's, who have lost 10 of their last 11 games, they fell 8½ games behind Minnesota in the American League West.

Oakland made a run at the Orioles in the middle innings but two home runs by Frank Robinson and another by rookie Terry Crowley shut off whatever hopes the A's had of salvaging the final game of the series.

FIRST RUN

A pinch double by Gene Tenace gave Oakland its first run in the fourth and Joe Rudi's eighth homer and Don Mincher's groundout accounted for the other two runs in the next frame. Bert Campaneris singled across Oakland's final run in the eighth.

Chuch Dobson, the A's most effective hurler since the All-Star Game break, couldn't do it and lasted but 2⅔ innings. He gave up four of the Baltimore runs and Marcel Lachemann, the second of four Oakland relievers, got tagged for two more runs.

After winding up the nine-game road trip here, the A's head for home for a six-game stand against the Chicago White Sox and Kansas City Royals.

All-America Li'l League Series Final

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) —The 24th annual Little League World Series has turned into an All-American affair.

The last of four foreign entries was eliminated Thursday when Chinandega, Nicaragua bowed to Campbell, California, 2-1.

It meant the championship will return to American soil after three years when Campbell plays the title game Saturday against Wayne, N.J., a 4-0 victor over Highland, Ind., Thursday.

Wayne coasted on the two hit pitching of Tom Olsen, who struck out 12 and allowed two walks in registering the victory over Highland starter Rick Domsic.

Campbell's Mike Alvarez limited Chinandega to three hits and retired the last nine men in order.

MARIN FOOTBALL

North Favored In Star Battle

The North, its advantage clearcut, and the South, with the big boys who could spoil that advantage, will clash tonight at San Rafael High School in the fifth rendering of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club Marin County all-star high school football game.

Five former all-league performers, including Terra Linda's passing combination of Tom Jackson to Bob Daniele and Dan Trondson, will be in the starting offenive lineup for the North. Jackson's presence alone is enough to unbalance the odds. With his two primary receivers in the game, the North rates as a two touchdown favorite.

Tackle Kerry Atkinson of San Marin and guard Chris Fenton of Terra Linda the other all-Marin County Athletic League players, will be responsible for giving Jackson time to throw.

That may not be easy, since, among the South's defensive players who will be trying to get to him will be all-North Coast tackle Tom Wickert and all-leaguers guard Phil Simon and middle linebacker Rick Puccinelli.

The South's offense, which will be built around fullback Bob Sutherland of Drake, will include only two all-leaguers.

South coach Mike Davlin announced today that he will start Drake's Kevin Peak at quarterback, and use San Rafael's quarterback Loweil Widmer at safety, where he gained all-league recognition two years. Peak's ability to pass may indicate that the South will be putting the ball into the air more than was earlier expected.

Starting offensive lineups:

Casper Student Red Hot

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Mike Reasor caddied for Arnold Palmer and learned from Billy Casper, but Thursday he gave both of them a lesson.

Reasor shot a 6-under-par 66, one stroke off the course record at Upper Montclair Country Club, to take the first round lead in the $300,000 Dow Jones Open — golf's richest tournament.

Most of the game's top players had their problems, but Reasor didn't, and he gave Casper the credit.

"He has helped and advised me a lot, particularly with the mental part of the game," Reasor said. "I know when I hit the ball now, what I can do with it. I know when to gamble and when not to gamble. Billy has been a real big help."

Club pros Paul Harney and Terry Wilcos slipped into a second place tie at 67, one stroke off the pace, and six other players had 68s.

NOTICEABLE GROUP

More than half the field — 83 of 150 — matched or bettered par Thursday, but there were some noticeable exceptions.

Palmer and Jack Nicklaus shot 73s, Dave Hill 75, Gary Player and Sam Snead 76 and Frank Beard 78. A 69 by PGA champion Dave Stockton, Casper's 70 and U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin's 71 were the best by the "name" players.

Nicklaus said "I just didn't play well. It's as simple as that." Palmer blamed his 73 on the same putting miseries

A's Must Quit Their Fireworks

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

OAKLAND — Nothing seems to be going right these days for the Oakland Atheltics. In addition to slumping on the field, the A's have had their fireworks display license revoked.

Oakland fire marshal Lawrence Toellner made the ruling yesterday, noting that the fire works recently touched off three grass fires.

Owner Charlie Finley had the fireworks exploded whenever an Oakland player hit a home run or when the A's won a game.

WASHINGTON — The Washington Redskins yesterday acquired offensive tackle Steve Wright from the New York Giants who placed the seven-year veteran on waivers earlier this week.

Wright, a former University of Alabama lineman, played with Green Bay before his troubled stint with the Giants.

Yesterday, Shoemaker managed two winners in five starts and he will be aboard five more mounts today. His two wins yesterday raised his personal mark to 6,023 wins, nine short of Longden's 6,032.

In the past week Shoemaker has ridden 20 mounts and booted home eight winners.

which hape bugged him for some time.

Reasor, who caddied for Palmer in the 1966 U.S. Open — when Palmer blew a seven-stroke lead on the last nine holes and eventually lost a playoff to Casper — needed just 26 putts in his six-birdie, no-bogey round.

HITTING WELL

He said he was hitting the ball so well "It was almost virtually impossible to shoot a bad score," but there was a time not long ago Reasor considered giving up pro golf and becoming a full-time school teacher.

That was in 1968 when he failed to qualify through the PGA tournament school at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

"I had to play a whole year at that course and then I just made it through in 1969," Reasor said. "I went for nine months on my own, then I decided I couldn't cut it. But I got a sponsor."

$60,000 PRIZE

In his 15-month pro career, Reasor has won $8,988. His biggest paycheck was $2,125 at the Canadian Open where he finished 13th this year. The Dow Jones winner will earn $60,000.

There were 10 players at 69 and 16 at 70. n

After today's second round, the field will be trimmed to the low 70 and ties for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday, which will be nationally-televised (ABC).

49ers Will Face Formidable Task

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers leave their training camp here for good today after one final practice workout before Saturday night's exhibition game with the Denver Broncos in Eugene, Ore.

The 49ers' special team will face a formidable enemy in the form of Bronco Bill Thompson, who last year had the highest American Football League average in both punt returns and kickoff returns, 11.5 yards and 28.5 yards respectively.

Thompson will try to practice his skills against the 49ers, who last year had the poorest specialty teams in the National Football League.

Coach Dick Nolan indicated that veteran quarterback John Brodie will start against the Broncos. He also hinted that Brodie might go more than the first half for the first time this year. In previous pre-season games with Cleveland and Miami, Brodie was taken out at halftime, replaced by No. 2 signal-caller Steve Spurrier.

Denver Ace May Miss 49er Tilt

DENVER (UPI)—The Denver Broncos leave for Eugene, Ore., today with their No. 1 college draft choice Bobby Anderson on the doubtful list for Saturday night's exhibition game against the San Francisco 49ers.

Coach Lou Saban had expected the University of Colorado running back to be ready, but said an infected knee had not responded properly to treatment.

An Experiment At Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Bay Meadows will introduce — on an experimental basis — a $2 exacta on the first race when 78-day thoroughbred racing opens next Friday.

The $2 exacta will replace the daily double, and the public will be asked as the season progresses to "vote" on which they prefer.

A $5 exacta will continue to be sold on the ninth and final race each day.

FISH AND GAME

Gun Club Pier Reports Action

By AL GIDDINGS

Frank Spencer from the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier called me this past week to give me the following rundown on the bass angler activity by those who either fish or launch boats from the pier area. Anglers fishing the bridge who troll with pet spoons and bug-eye jigs have had good success. Si Testa has been limiting out most days when he goes along with his guests. Bud Stocking, the DeLongs, Ward Smith, Rod Jerome, C. Lawrence, F. Schaefer and their guests have all been doing well too either fishing the Richmond Bridge or the Brothers Islands.

The fish are from five to 15 pounds on the average with an occasional fish in the 20 pound bracket. W. Demerow had connected fishing from the pier on three occasions.

Frank also reported two salmon brought into the pier by anglers fishing the Red Rock area more or less located on the Richmond side of the bridge. Salmon fishing at California City could break wide open any day now!

INDIAN SUMMER

Tomales Bay outside the mouth is still going good. Salmon in the 20 pound bracket are not uncommon at all. Pt. Reyes commercials have taken some big fish with indications showing that the big fish should be off Duxberry and Muir Beach anytime from now on! We should be getting into the periods of Indian summer weather with calmer seas. Just because you got seasick your first time out doesn't mean it'll happen everytime. Your first trip, some nervousness, and being aware of each and every swell, all tend to cause this. After a few trips when you reach the point of just waiting for a strike and all else is forgotten, it's rare to become seasick! Eat a hearty breakfast and just think of the big fish you are going to have on any minute!

Want some sport from the shore? Two ladies called and excitedly said they had been fishing White House Pool at Pt. Reyes Station. They hooked some huge leopard sharks, landing six, the largest weighed 24 lbs. Use bait, a light rod, a wire leader and give it a go. And if you're not too finickey, try cooking the fish, not bad!!

Have you seen the ducks around? It looks like a good years with ducks already arriving. Saw about ninety mallards in Stemple Creek, about a hundred sprig in Nicasio Dam, and sprig numbers all the way to 10,000 have been reported in the Sears Pt. area!

GOOD DUCK CLUB

You'd better call Walt Freitas, the President of the Marin County Chapter of Duck's Unlimited or stop at the Western Sport Shop in San Rafael and contact John Eberhart, who is the D.U. membership chairman. Being a member of Duck's Unlimited makes you a contributor to this fine cause; and it also gives you contacts for joining a good duck club. The dues are $10 yearly, you receive a D.U. magazine every other month. They also have a fall stag banquet, and a spring ball and fund raising party for members and guests.

Losers Vs. Winners On Pro Grid

By BOB DI PIETRO
UPI Sports Writer

The winners who feel like losers and the losers who feel like winners clash tonight in an pre-season contest in a brand-new stadium before a sell-out crowd and a national television audience.

The New York Giants, who displayed more liabilities than assets in last Sunday's 28-24 win over their intra-city rivals, the Jets, tangle with the Pittsburgh Steelers, who snapped a regular-and-pre-season string of 15 straight losses with a 20-13 victory over the vaunted Minnesota Vikings two weeks ago.

The televised game (ABC (6 p.m. PDT) will be the first football game played in Pittsburgh's new Three Rivers Stadium. A sellout crowd of 51,000 is expected.

SCRAMBLER HURT

Dick Shiner, an ex-Steeler, may get the starting call at quarter-back for the Giants groin injury.

Terry Bradshaw, pro football's No. 1 draft pick last spring, who was awarded the game ball on the strength of his 12-of-30 passing performance against the Vikings, will be directing the Steeler attack again in his effort to win the first-string quarterback job from Notre Dame alumnus Terry Hanratty.

SATURDAY GAMES

In Saturday's action, Baltimore plays Miami, Cleveland tussles with Cincinnati, Dallas challenges Houston, Los Angeles is at San Diego, Chicago visits St. Louis, San Francisco plays Denver, Kansas City collides with Atlanta, and Boston and New Orleans meet on the neutral turf of Jackson, Miss.

On Sunday the Jets play Minnesota and Green Bay takes on Oakland. Monday night's action pits Philadelphia against Detroit.

Umpire Weyer Hurt By Foul

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Umpire Lee Weyer suffered a possible fracture of the right arm when he was struck by a foul-tip off the bat of San Diego's Earl Wilson in the second inning of Thursday night's game here with the Chicago Cubs.

Wilson was the Padres' leadoff batter at the time and the two-strike foul hit Weyer near the elbow. He was taken to a local hospital for x-rays.

Marinites In Regional Softball

Its lineup laced with Marinites, Paul Koss Supply opens play tonight in the Northern Pacific Regional Softball Tournament in Stockton, the last step in the climb to the National Championships.

Paul Koss Supply, with a 35-20 season mark, will meet Oakland in the opener.

Three of the team's four top hitters and the squad's opening game pitcher are Marinites. Leading the club in hitting is San Rafael's Nolan Wilson who has a .401 mark in 55 games. He's ripped two homers and has 26 runs batted in. Also in the lineup will be Ron Reagan (.292, 4 homers, 25 rbi) and Chuck Yoakum (.255, 1 homer, 17 rbi) both of San Rafael.

Opening on the mound will be Joe Nystrom, who has a 13-5 mark and a fine 1.08 earned run average.

Other Marinites on the team include infielder Greg Schaefer (.188, 10 rbi) and manager Don Koss.

The winner of the tournament earns a berth in the National Championships scheduled for Clearwater, Fla. in mid-September. Koss Supply finished fifth in last year's regionals.

Leonard Hits A Dazzling Practice Run At Ontario

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—Joe Leonard pushed his Johnny Lightning Colt turbo-Ford to a dazzling 177.2 miles an hour in practice runs at the Ontario Motor Speedway yesterday and teammate Al Unser averaged 174 mph for 20 laps.

The Johnny Lightning teammates were only two of 17 drivers who have managed laps of 170 mph or more during the six days of practice for the Sept. 6, California 500. Bobby Unser has gone 171.42 and Mario Andretti 173.08 while Mark Donohue has hit 172.74, Lloyd Ruby 173, Pete Revson 173.08 and Johnny Rutherford 175.4.

Several drivers praised the 36-year-old Leonard's 177.2 mph round as he passed Donohue in turn one and Bobby Unser and Gordon Johncock in turn two.

Ruby hit his 173 mark by pulling into eLonard's slipstream to cut down on wind resistance.

Al Unser's 20 laps included only one under 173 as he was caught in traffic and could get only to 169.8.

George Follmer, Arcadia, Calif., previously banned by the U.S. Auto Club for running in unauthorized races, checked in saying he had been reinstated for the California 500. Follmer said he was called by Bill Smyth, executive and competition director of USAC who gave him the go ahead. Follmer will drive the STP Hawk turbo-Ford Mario Andretti drove to victory in the 1969 Indianapolis 500.

Greg Weld, Independence, Mo., hit the wall in the only incident of the day. He was not injured and the car was not seriously damaged.

Cal Aerial Attack Impresses Willsey

BERKELEY (UPI)—The California Bears are supposed to have a tough ground attack, but it was the aerial game that impressed coach Ray Willsey after the first contact workout.

"Offensively, throwing and catching are the best thing we're doing," Willsey said Thursday. He also lauded defensive guard O.Z. White who stod out in pass-rushing drills.

INDIANS INJURED

STANFORD (UPI) — Stanford's first contact drill left fullback Hillary Shockley and flanker Demea Washington with pulled hamstrings.

Earlier, defensive back Mike Ewing and offensive guard Dan Lightfoot pulled hamstrings.

All four should be healthy by Monday.

BRONCOS REPORT

SANTA CLARA (UPI) — Twenty-two lettermen were among 73 varsity candidates Thursday as the University of Santa Clara opened practice. Star of the show is expected to be 268-pound quarterback Dan Pastorini, who tossed for 17 td's and punted for a 42.6 yard average last year.

FAMOUS FULLBACKS

CORVALLIE (UPI) — Aregon State is famous for its fullbacks and this year should be no exception.

Coach Dee Andros had Dave Schilling, last year's top rusher, Roger Smith and Mike Davenport going hard at the spot in Thursday's drills. They were catching passes as well as running.

One bit of bad news was that letterman offensive guard Dan Zellick was out for the year with a shoulder injury.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Robert Ewen's New Book Best Of The Year On Opening Leads

In 1865, Queen Victoria of England admired "Alice in Wonderland" so much that she put an order in for the author's next book. It turned out to be a mathematical work, "An Elementary Treatise on Determinants." It worked the other way for Robert Ewen, whose "Opening Leads" is the best bridge book of the year. (Ewen's first book was a monograph on "Testing and Fair Employment.") Today's hand is taken from Ewen's more recent book.

WHAT LEAD

Imagine that you are West, on lead against South's contract of four hearts. What would you lead?

The singleton club is a waste of time. If your partner has a club trick or any way of gaining the lead, you will surely defeat the contract since you have three sure trump tricks.

Many otherwise sane citizens would lead one of the high trumps "to look at the dummy." The rules of the game permit you to look at the dummy no matter which card you lead.

WASTED OPPORTUNITY

Let's see what happens if you waste your opportunity by leading the king of hearts. Youthen switch to a diamond, but you are too late.

South takes the king of diamonds and leads a heart to drive out your queen. You return the queen of diamonds to force out the ace.

West leads another heart to drive out your ace. And your return the ten of diamonds to make South ruff. But now South leads his last trump to draw your deuce of hearts. And then South safely cashes his tricks in the black suits.

DIAMOND LEAD

You win the race if you begin by leading the six of diamonds, forcing out the king. South leads a trump, and you take the queen. You return a diamond to force out the ace. South leads another trump, and you take the king.

Now you lead a third diamond, and make South ruff. If he leads a third heart, you take the act of hearts and lead a fourth diamond to make South use up his last trump. Your deuce of hearts will then be the last trump, and you will take your trump and the fifth diamond to collect 200 points.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ — A J
♥ — 10 9 6 5 4
♦ — A K
♣ — K Q 10 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

You would prefer to open 1-no-trump if one of the clubs were a diamond or a spade, since then you would have 17 points in high cards and only one doubleton. With two doubletons, prefer to bid a suit rather than no-trump.

Car 'Just For Fun'

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Aug. 28, the 240th day of 1970 with 125 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1833 the British Parliament barred slavery throughout the Empire.

In 1922 a New York realty company paid $100 to sponsor the first radio commercial.

In 1963 more than 200,000 demonstrators staged an orderly civil rights march in Washington, D.C.

In 1968 the Democratic party nominated Hubert Humphrey to run for president as anti-war demonstrators protested in Chicago streets.

A thought for the day: Lytton Strachey said, "Perhaps of all the creations of man language is the most astonishing."

Disturbed Receive Home Treatment

NEW YORK (UPI) —A new approach to the age-old problem of the emotionally disturbed is being inaugurated by the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens.

Formerly, adults who could not adjust to family and community life were sent for treatment to institutions where they might remain indefinitely.

Income A Concern? Bonds Are Remedy

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Should I hold General Telephone for recovery or sell and take a sizable loss? I understand its Sylvania division has been a drag on profits for a good many years. Now I read that the company has not kept up with service on its Southern California telephone network. Would I be better off in bonds? — T.L.

A. Expenditures for improvement and expansion of its telephone service reached $846 million last year and are expected to approximate $950 million this year. For the 1970-74 period management believes the company will spend $5.5 billion for this purpose. Although GTE has a reputation of providing poor service in this area, it is apparent that the company is making major efforts to reverse this image. Manufacturing operations, to which SYL conrtibuted 51 per cent of sales and 34 per cent of profits, were about half as profitable as telephone operations in 1969. In the first half of 1970 a 15-week strike at one subsidiary and a slowdown in sales of color TV tubes reduced the profit still further so that only 2.1 per cent of sales flowed through to net as opposed to 5 per cent in 1969. Shares have recovered somewhat from the sharply depressed levels of May and June and now yield about 6 per cent. A switch to the bond market where yields of 8 per cent and better are readily available is justified, if income is a major concern.

Q. I am a widow and would like to invest in Dayton Power and Light. I have never bought bonds or stock before. Can you give me information? —A. S.

A. There are more than a dozen security dealers located in the capital city near you. Certainly one would be willing to assist you in your initial investment. Dayton Power and Light common stock is primarily attractive for the individual seeking high income. Near-term growth, however, may be restricted by a heavy schedule of capital expenditures and a 9 per cent increase in common shares later this year. Interest charges on long-term debt increased 40 per cent in the 12 months through June, 1970.

Advances Hold Lead Near Close

NEW YORK (UPI) — Advances held a wide lead over declines in active trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

Approaching the last hour the Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was up 5.89 at 765.68 — off slightly from an earlier high of more than seven points.

Advances led declines, 921 to 328, among the 1,531 issues traded.

The four-hour volume of 10,210,000 shares was up slightly from the 9,570,000 shares in the comparable span yesterday.

Analysts said the market was reacting to a combination of encouraging factors. They include a cut in the prime interest rate by a small New England bank leading some investors to believe that the large banks will follow, a Wall Street Journal story that many analysts feel the bear market is over, and delayed reaction to the announcement yesterday that the index of leading business indicators moved up in July.

"Rumors that this or that bank was going to cut its rate have been flying all day," one analyst said. Many large banks have denied they are contemplating a cut.

The Commerce Department announcement regarding the business index said the gain was the largest since the spring of 1969. The index is a statistical composite of eight business reports that usually point the way to future changesc in the economy.

Natomas, Xerox, Boeing, Occidental and Penn Central were actively traded issues.

Most major groups moved in fractions.

Prices were firm in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

THE WICKES CORP. has announced net income for the second fiscal quarter at $2.8 million or 40 cents a share, compared with $3.9 million or 58 cents a share for last year's second quarter. Ford Unveils Its Anniversary Car

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The golden anniversary of Ford Motor Company's luxury car line was observed with the unveiling of its 1971 Lincoln Continental and the Mark III, practically unchanged from last year.

The first Lincoln went on sale in September, 1920, by a company operated by Henry Leland. Henry Ford bought the company for $8 million in 1922. It became the "car of presidents, princes and popes."

Mrs. Priest's Drive For Funds Defended

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The campaign fund-raising tactics of State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest were defended by some bankers today while others viewed them as a subtle form of pressure.

Milton G. Gordon, the Democratic nominee facing Mrs. Priest in the November election, earlier accused the former U.S. Treasurer of soliciting campaign "kickbacks" from bankers holding state deposits.

"Ridiculous," countered Mrs. Priest.

Her request for campaign funds was contained in an Aug. 3 letter to potential contributors, including bankers, which set a "minimum budget" of $75,000 for the incumbent treasurer's Northern California Re-election campaign.

The letter noted "corporation checks are acceptable" and specified the amount each recipient was to send to her campaign leaders.

One defender of the letter was Howard W. Rathburn, president of the First National Bank of San Jose, who said he felt the letter was "helpful."

He added, "I don't think it's in the nature of coercion. It gives you kind of a ball-park estimate."

Some other Northern California bankers were reluctant to discuss the letter for publication. A few expressed concern they would lose their state deposits if they publicly objected to being solicited for funds for Mrs. Priest's campaign.

"The reason they (bankers) won't talk about the letter is the treasurer has total discretion over what's in the banks," said one banking executive. "She can find some excuse over the next year to take it out."

"I never got a letter quite like this," said another banker.

Mrs. Priest, a Republican and former U.S. Treasurer during the Eisenhower Administration, replied "there has been no pressure on bankers. It's like any other fund raising campaign. We may ask people for funds but they don't have to give...It makes no difference in their deposits."

Normally, the state keeps in banks about $225 million in time deposits (similar to savings accounts" and about $40 million in demand deposits (checking accounts). The deposits are spread through about 115 banks.

Arthur J. Dolan Jr., Northern California finance chairman of Mrs. Priest's campaign and a San Francisco investment banking executive, said he sent the letters only to persons who had given her contributions in 1966.

Robert M. Eberhardt, president of the Bank of Stockton and past president of the California Bankers Association, said he had recveied a letter but refused to contribute because he gave at a $100 per plate fund raising dinner for Mrs. Priest last September in Los Angeles.

"I think I had two places at the dinner," he said. "I think we've done our part in attending her dinner. I'm certainly not responding to a letter that was sent out."

Eberhardt said California bankers are solicited for campaign funds by candidates for a variety of offices.

N.Y. Stock Rule May Be Illegal

CHICAGO (UPI) — The anti-rebate rule of the New York Stock Exchange may be in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, a three-judge federal appeals court hanel has ruled.

The decision came on appeal of a $29 million suit filed by the Lewis D. Thill Securities Corp. of Elm Grove, Wis., charging the exchange with engaging in an unlawful conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce and trade.

The suit's main complaint concerned a rule which prohibits members of the New York Stock Exchange from sharing with a nonmember any commission earned from the purchase or sale of securities.

Thill contended the rule cost them $7 million in commissions and compensation.
